CHAPTER XXVII.

1 Isaac sendeth Esau for venison. 6 Jacob, instructed by Rebekah, obtaineth the blessing: 34 Esau's complaint: 41 he threateneth Jacob's life. 42 Rebekah sendeth Jacob to Laban.

AND it came to pass, that when Isaac was old, and his eyes were dim, so that he could not see, he called Esau his eldest son, and said unto him, My son: and he said unto him, Behold, here am I.

2 And he said, Behold now, I am old, I know not the day of my death.

3 Now therefore take, I pray thee, thy weapons, thy quiver and thy bow, and go out to the field, and take me some venison;

4 And make me savoury meat, such as I love, and bring it to me, that I may eat; that my soul may bless thee before I die.

5 And Rebekah heard when Isaac spake to Esau his son. And Esau went to the field to hunt for venison, and to bring it.

6 ¶ And Rebekah spake unto Jacob her son, saying, Behold, I heard thy father speak unto Esau thy brother, saying,

7 Bring me venison, and make me savoury meat, that I may eat, and bless thee before the LORD before my death.

8 Now therefore, my son, obey my voice according to that which I command thee.

9 Go now to the flock, and fetch me from thence two good kids of the goats; and I will make them savoury meat for thy father, such as he loveth:

10 And thou shalt bring it to thy father, that he may eat, and that he may bless thee before his death.

11 And Jacob said to Rebekah his mother, Behold, Esau my brother is a hairy man, and I am a smooth man:

12 My father peradventure will feel me, and I shall seem to him as a deceiver; and I shall bring a curse upon me, and not a blessing.

13 And his mother said unto him, Upon me be thy curse, my son: only obey my voice, and go fetch me them.

14 And he went, and fetched, and brought them to his mother: and his mother made savoury meat, such as his father loved.

15 And Rebekah took goodly raiment of her eldest son Esau, which were with her in the house, and put them upon Jacob her younger son:

16 And she put the skins of the kids of the goats upon his hands, and upon the smooth of his neck:

17 And she gave the savoury meat and the bread, which she had prepared, into the hand of her son Jacob.

18 ¶ And he came unto his father, and said, My father: and he said, Here am I; who art thou, my son?

19 And Jacob said unto his father, I am Esau thy first-born; I have done according as thou badest me: arise, I pray thee, sit and eat of my venison, that thy soul may bless me.

20 And Isaac said unto his son, How is it that thou hast found it so quickly, my son? And he said, Because the LORD thy God brought it to me.

21 And Isaac said unto Jacob, Come near, I pray thee, that I may feel thee, my son, whether thou be my very son Esau or not.

22 And Jacob went near unto Isaac his father; and he felt him, and said, The voice is Jacob's voice, but the hands are the hands of Esau.

23 And he discerned him not, because his hands were hairy, as his brother Esau's hands: so he blessed him.

24 And he said, Art thou my very son Esau? And he said, I am.

25 And he said, Bring it near to me, and I will eat of my son's venison, that my soul may bless thee. And he brought it near to him, and he did eat: and he brought him wine, and he drank.

26 And his father Isaac said unto him, Come near now, and kiss me, my son.

27 And he came near, and kissed him: and he smelled the smell of his raiment, and blessed him, and said, See, the smell of my son is as the smell of a field which the LORD hath blessed:

28 Therefore God give thee of the dew of heaven, and the fatness of the earth, and plenty of corn and wine:

29 Let people serve thee, and nations bow down to thee: be lord over thy brethren, and let thy mother's sons bow down to thee: cursed be every one that curseth thee, and blessed be he that blesseth thee.

shall be comforted in the nether parts of the earth.

17 They also went down into hell with him unto them that be slain with the sword; and they that were his arm, that dwelt under his shadow in the midst of the heathen.

18 ¶ To whom art thou thus like in glory and in greatness among the trees of Eden? yet shalt thou be brought down with the trees of Eden unto the nether parts of the earth: thou shalt lie in the midst of the uncircumcised with them that be slain by the sword. This is Pharaoh and all his multitude, saith the Lord GOD.

CHAPTER XXXII.

Lamentation for the fearful fall of Egypt. 11 The sword of Babylon shall destroy it, etc.

AND it came to pass in the twelfth year, in the twelfth month, in the first day of the month, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, take up a lamentation for Pharaoh king of Egypt, and say unto him, Thou art like a young lion of the nations, and thou art as a whale in the seas: and thou camest forth with thy rivers, and troubledst the waters with thy feet, and fouledst their rivers.

3 Thus saith the Lord GOD; I will therefore spread out my net over thee with a company of many people; and they shall bring thee up in my net.

4 Then will I leave thee upon the land, I will cast thee forth upon the open field, and will cause all the fowls of the heaven to remain upon thee, and I will fill the beasts of the whole earth with thee.

5 And I will lay thy flesh upon the mountains, and fill the valleys with thy height.

6 I will also water with thy blood the land wherein thou swimmest, even to the mountains; and the rivers shall be full of thee.

7 And when I shall put thee out, I will cover the heaven, and make the stars thereof dark; I will cover the sun with a cloud, and the moon shall not give her light.

8 All the bright lights of heaven will I make dark over thee, and set darkness upon thy land, saith the Lord GOD.

9 I will also vex the hearts of many people, when I shall bring thy destruction among the nations, into the countries which thou hast not known.

10 Yea, I will make many people amazed at thee, and their kings shall be horribly afraid for thee, when I shall brandish my sword before them; and they shall tremble at every moment, every man for his own life, in the day of thy fall.

11 ¶ For thus saith the Lord GOD; The sword of the king of Babylon shall come upon thee.

12 By the swords of the mighty will I cause thy multitude to fall, the terrible of the nations, all of them; and they shall spoil the pomp of Egypt, and all the multitude thereof shall be destroyed.

13 I will destroy also all the beasts thereof from beside the great waters; neither shall the foot of man trouble them any more, nor the hoofs of beasts trouble them.

14 Then will I make their waters deep, and cause their rivers to run like oil, saith the Lord GOD.

15 When I shall make the land of Egypt desolate, and the country shall be destitute of that whereof it was full, when I shall smite all them that dwell therein, then shall they know that I am the LORD.

16 This is the lamentation wherewith they shall lament her: the daughters of the nations shall lament her: they shall lament for her, even for Egypt, and for all her multitude, saith the Lord GOD.

17 ¶ It came to pass also in the twelfth year, in the fifteenth day of the month, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

18 Son of man, wail for the multitude of Egypt, and cast them down, even her, and the daughters of the famous nations, unto the nether parts of the earth, with them that go down into the pit.

19 Whom dost thou pass in beauty? go down, and be thou laid with the uncircumcised.

20 They shall fall in the midst of them that are slain by the sword: she is delivered to the sword: draw her and all her multitudes.

21 The strong among the mighty shall speak to him out of the midst of hell with them that help him: they are gone down, they lie uncircumcised, slain by the sword.

22 Asshur is there, and all her company: his graves are about him: all of them slain, fallen by the sword:

23 Whose graves are set in the sides of the pit, and her company is round about her grave; all of them slain, fallen by the sword, which caused terror in the land of the living.

24 There is Elam and all her multitude round about her grave; all of them slain, fallen by the sword, which are gone down uncircumcised into the nether parts of the earth, which caused their terror in the land of the living; yet have they borne their shame with them that go down to the pit.

25 They have set her a bed in the midst of the slain with all her multitude: her graves are round about him; all of them uncircumcised, slain by the sword: though their terror was caused in the land of the living, yet have they borne their shame with them that go down to the pit: he is put in the midst of them that be slain.

26 There is Meshech, Tubal, and all her multitude: her graves are round about him; all of them uncircumcised, slain by the sword, though they caused their terror in the land of the living.

27 And they shall not lie with the mighty that are fallen of the uncircumcised, which are gone down to hell with their weapons of war: and they have laid their swords under their heads; but their iniquities shall be upon their bones, though they were the terror of the mighty in the land of the living.

28 Yea, thou shalt be broken in the midst of the uncircumcised, and shalt lie with them that are slain with the sword.

29 There is Edom, her kings, and all her princes, which with their might are laid by them that were slain by the sword; they let the beasts get away from under it, and the fowls from his branches:

15 Nevertheless, leave the stump of his roots in the earth, even with a band of iron and brass, in the tender grass of the field; and let it be wet with the dew of heaven, and let his portion be with the beasts in the grass of the earth:

16 Let his heart be changed from man's, and let a beast's heart be given unto him; and let seven times pass over him.

17 This matter is by the decree of the watchers, and the demand by the word of the holy ones: to the intent that the living may know that the Most High ruleth in the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomsoever he will, and setteth up over it the basest of men.

18 This dream I king Nebuchadnezzar have seen. Now thou, O Belteshazzar, declare the interpretation thereof, forasmuch as all the wise men of my kingdom are not able to make known unto me the interpretation: but thou art able; for the spirit of the holy gods is in thee.

19 ¶ Then Daniel, whose name was Belteshazzar, was astonied for one hour, and his thoughts troubled him. The king spake, and said, Belteshazzar, let not the dream, or the interpretation thereof, trouble thee. Belteshazzar answered and said, My lord, the dream be to them that hate thee, and the interpretation thereof to thine enemies.

20 The tree that thou sawest, which grew, and was strong, whose height reached unto the heaven, and the sight thereof to all the earth;

21 Whose leaves were fair, and the fruit thereof much, and in it was meat for all; under which the beasts of the field dwelt, and upon whose branches the fowls of the heaven had their habitation:

22 It is thou, O king, that art grown and become strong: for thy greatness is grown, and reacheth unto heaven, and thy dominion to the end of the earth.

23 And whereas the king saw a watcher and an holy one coming down from heaven, and saying, Hew the tree down, and destroy it; yet leave the stump of the roots thereof in the earth, even with a band of iron and brass, in the tender grass of the field; and let it be wet with the dew of heaven, and let his portion be with the beasts of the field, till seven times pass over him;

24 This is the interpretation, O king, and this is the decree of the Most High, which is come upon my lord the king:

25 That they shall drive thee from men, and thy dwelling shall be with the beasts of the field, and they shall make thee to eat grass as oxen, and they shall wet thee with the dew of heaven, and seven times shall pass over thee, till thou know that the Most High ruleth in the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomsoever he will.

26 And whereas they commanded to leave the stump of the tree roots; thy kingdom shall be sure unto thee, after that thou shalt have known that the heavens do rule.

27 Wherefore, O king, let my counsel be acceptable unto thee, and break off thy sins by righteousness, and thine iniquities by showing mercy to the poor; if it may be a lengthening of thy tranquillity.

28 ¶ All this came upon the king Nebuchadnezzar.

29 At the end of twelve months he walked in the palace of the kingdom of Babylon.

30 The king spake, and said, Is not this great Babylon, that I have built for the house of the kingdom by the might of my power, and for the honour of my majesty?

31 While the word was in the king's mouth, there fell a voice from heaven, saying, O king Nebuchadnezzar, to thee it is spoken; The kingdom is departed from thee:

32 And they shall drive thee from men, and thy dwelling shall be with the beasts of the field: they shall make thee to eat grass as oxen, and seven times shall pass over thee, until thou know that the Most High ruleth in the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomsoever he will.

33 The same hour was the thing fulfilled upon Nebuchadnezzar: and he was driven from men, and did eat grass as oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of heaven, till his hairs were grown like eagles' feathers, and his nails like birds' claws.

34 And at the end of the days I Nebuchadnezzar lifted up mine eyes unto heaven, and mine understanding returned unto me, and I blessed the Most High, and I praised and honoured him that liveth for ever, whose dominion is an everlasting dominion, and his kingdom is from generation to generation:

35 And all the inhabitants of the earth are reputed as nothing: and he doeth according to his will in the army of heaven, and among the inhabitants of the earth; and none can stay his hand, or say unto him, What doest thou?

36 At the same time my reason returned unto me; and for the glory of my kingdom, mine honour and brightness returned unto me; and my counsellors and my lords sought unto me; and I was established in my kingdom, and excellent majesty was added unto me.

37 Now I Nebuchadnezzar praise and extol and honour the King of heaven, all whose works are truth, and his ways judgment: and those that walk in pride he is able to abase.

CHAPTER V.

1 Belshazzar's impious feast: 5 a hand-writing troubles him: 17 Daniel reproves the king for pride, profaneness, and idolatry: 25 he reads and interprets the writing.

BELSHAZZAR the king made a great feast to a thousand of his lords, and drank wine before the thousand.

MINION 24mo BIBLE.

Behold, I will do a thing in Israel, at which both the ears of every one that heareth it shall tingle.

12 In that day I will perform against Eli all things which I have spoken concerning his house: when I begin, I will also make an end.

13 For I have told him that I will judge his house for ever for the iniquity which he knoweth; because his sons made themselves vile, and he restrained them not.

14 And therefore I have sworn unto the house of Eli, that the iniquity of Eli's house shall not be purged with sacrifice nor offering for ever.

15 ¶ And Samuel lay until the morning, and opened the doors of the house of the LORD. And Samuel feared to show Eli the vision.

16 Then Eli called Samuel, and said, Samuel, my son. And he answered, Here am I.

17 And he said, What is the thing that the LORD hath said unto thee? I pray thee hide it not from me: God do so to thee, and more also, if thou hide any thing from me of all the things that he said unto thee.

18 And Samuel told him every whit, and hid nothing from him. And he said, It is the LORD: let him do what seemeth him good.

19 And Samuel grew, and the LORD was with him, and did let none of his words fall to the ground.

20 And all Israel, from Dan even to Beer-sheba, knew that Samuel was established to be a prophet of the LORD.

21 And the LORD appeared again in Shiloh: for the LORD revealed himself to Samuel in Shiloh by the word of the LORD.

CHAPTER IV.

1 Israel overcome by the Philistines. 11 The ark taken, and Hophni and Phinehas slain. 12 Eli, hearing the tidings, falls backward, and his neck breaks, etc.

AND the word of Samuel came to all Israel. Now Israel went out against the Philistines to battle, and pitched beside Eben-ezer: and the Philistines pitched in Aphek.

2 And the Philistines put themselves in array against Israel: and when they joined battle, Israel was smitten before the Philistines: and they slew of the army in the field about four thousand men.

3 ¶ And when the people were come into the camp, the elders of Israel said, Wherefore hath the LORD smitten us to-day before the Philistines? Let us fetch the ark of the covenant of the LORD out of Shiloh unto us, that, when it cometh among us, it may save us out of the hand of our enemies.

4 So the people sent to Shiloh, that they might bring from thence the ark of the covenant of the LORD of hosts, which dwelleth between the cherubim: and the two sons of Eli, Hophni and Phinehas, were there with the ark of the covenant of God.

5 And when the ark of the covenant of the LORD came into the camp, all Israel shouted with a great shout, so that the earth rang again.

6 And when the Philistines heard the noise of the shout, they said, What meaneth the noise of this great shout in the camp of the Hebrews? And they understood that the ark of the LORD was come into the camp.

7 And the Philistines were afraid: for they said, God is come into the camp. And they said, Woe unto us! for there hath not been such a thing heretofore.

MINION 16mo BIBLE.

3 And they stood up in their place, and read in the book of the law of the LORD their God one fourth part of the day; and another fourth part they confessed, and worshipped the LORD their God.

4 Then stood up upon the stairs, of the Levites, Jeshua, and Bani, Kadmiel, Shebaniah, Bunni, Sherebiah, Bani, and Chenani, and cried with a loud voice unto the LORD their God.

5 Then the Levites, Jeshua, and Kadmiel, Bani, Hashabniah, Sherebiah, Hodijah, Shebaniah, and Pethahiah, said, Stand up and bless the LORD your God for ever and ever: and blessed be thy glorious name, which is exalted above all blessing and praise.

6 Thou, even thou, art LORD alone: thou hast made heaven, the heaven of heavens, with all their host, the earth, and all things that are therein, the seas, and all that is therein, and thou preservest them all; and the host of heaven worshippeth thee.

7 Thou art the LORD the God, who didst choose Abram, and broughtest him forth out of Ur of the Chaldees, and gavest him the name of Abraham:

8 And foundest his heart faithful before thee, and madest a covenant with him, to give the land of the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Amorites, and the Perizzites, and the Jebusites, and the Girgashites, to give it, I say, to his seed, and hast performed thy words; for thou art righteous:

9 And didst see the affliction of our fathers in Egypt, and heardest their cry by the Red sea:

10 And showedst signs and wonders upon Pharaoh, and on all his servants, and on all the people of his land; for thou knewest that they dealt proudly against them: so didst thou get thee a name, as it is this day.

11 And thou didst divide the sea before them, so that they went through the midst of the sea on the dry land; and their persecutors thou threwest into the deeps, as a stone into the mighty waters.

12 Moreover thou leddest them in the day by a cloudy pillar; and in the night by a pillar of fire, to give them light in the way wherein they should go.

13 Thou camest down also upon mount Sinai, and spakest with them from heaven, and gavest them right judgments, and true laws, good statutes and commandments:

14 And madest known unto them thy holy sabbath, and commandedst them precepts, statutes, and laws, by the hand of Moses thy servant:

15 And gavest them bread from heaven for their hunger, and broughtest forth water for them out of the rock for their thirst, and promisedst them that they should go in to possess the land which thou hadst sworn to give them.

16 But they and our fathers dealt proudly, and hardened their necks, and hearkened not to thy commandments,

17 And refused to obey, neither were mindful of thy wonders that thou didst among them; but hardened their necks, and in their rebellion appointed a captain to return to their bondage: but thou art a God ready to pardon, gracious and merciful, slow to anger, and of great kindness, and forsookest them not.

18 Yea, when they had made them a molten calf, and said, This is thy god that brought thee up out of Egypt, and had wrought great provocations;

19 Yet thou in thy manifold mercies forsookest them not in the wilderness: the pillar of the cloud departed not from them by day, to lead them in the way; neither the pillar of fire by night, to show them light, and the way wherein they should go.

20 Thou gavest also thy good Spirit to instruct them, and withheldest not thy manna from their mouth, and gavest them water for their thirst.

21 Yea, forty years didst thou sustain them in the wilderness, so that they lacked nothing; their clothes waxed not old, and their feet swelled not.

22 Moreover thou gavest them kingdoms and nations, and didst divide them into corners: so they possessed the land of Sihon, and the land of the king of Heshbon, and the land of Og king of Bashan.

23 Their children also multipliedst thou as the stars of heaven, and broughtest them into the land concerning which thou hadst promised to their fathers, that they should go in to possess it.

24 So the children went in and possessed the land, and thou subduedst before them the inhabitants of the land, the Canaanites, and gavest them into their hands, with their kings, and the people of the land, that they might do with them as they would.

presence of the priests, and in the presence of all the people that stood in the house of the LORD,

6 Even the prophet Jeremiah said, Amen: the LORD do so: the LORD perform thy words which thou hast prophesied, to bring again the vessels of the LORD's house, and all that is carried away captive, from Babylon into this place.

7 Nevertheless hear thou now this word that I speak in thine ears, and in the ears of all the people;

8 The prophets that have been before me and before thee of old prophesied both against many countries, and against great kingdoms, of war, and of evil, and of pestilence.

9 The prophet which prophesieth of peace, when the word of the prophet shall come to pass, then shall the prophet be known, that the LORD hath truly sent him.

10 ¶ Then Hananiah the prophet took the yoke from off the prophet Jeremiah's neck, and brake it.

11 And Hananiah spake in the presence of all the people, saying, Thus saith the LORD; Even so will I break the yoke of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon from the neck of all nations within the space of two full years. And the prophet Jeremiah went his way.

12 ¶ Then the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah the prophet, (after that Hananiah the prophet had broken the yoke from off the neck of the prophet Jeremiah,) saying, 13 Go and tell Hananiah, saying, Thus saith the LORD, Thou hast broken the yokes of wood; but thou shalt make for them yokes of iron.

14 For thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel; I have put a yoke of iron upon the neck of all these nations, that they may serve Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon; and they shall serve him: and I have given him the beasts of the field also.

15 ¶ Then said the prophet Jeremiah unto Hananiah the prophet, Hear now, Hananiah; The LORD hath not sent thee; but thou makest this people to trust in a lie.

16 Therefore thus saith the LORD; Behold, I will cast thee from off the face of the earth: this year thou shalt die, because thou hast taught rebellion against the LORD.

17 So Hananiah the prophet died the same year, in the seventh month.

CHAPTER XXIX.

1 Jeremiah's letter to the captives in Babylon. 20 Fearful end of Ahab and Zedekiah. 30 Shemaiah's doom foretold.

NOW these are the words of the letter that Jeremiah the prophet sent from Jerusalem unto the residue of the elders which were carried away captives, and to the priests, and to the prophets, and to all the people whom Nebuchadnezzar had carried away captive from Jerusalem to Babylon,

2 (After that Jeconiah the king, and the queen, and the eunuchs, the princes of Judah and Jerusalem, and the carpenters, and the smiths, were departed from Jerusalem,)

3 By the hand of Elasah the son of Shaphan, and Gemariah the son of Hilkiah, (whom Zedekiah king of Judah sent unto Babylon to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon,) saying,

4 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, unto all that are carried away captives, whom I have caused to be carried away from Jerusalem unto Babylon;

5 Build ye houses, and dwell in them; and plant gardens, and eat the fruit of them;

6 Take ye wives, and beget sons and daughters; and take wives for your sons, and give your daughters to husbands, that they may bear sons and daughters; that ye may be increased there, and not diminished.

7 And seek the peace of the city whither I have caused you to be carried away captives, and pray unto the LORD for it: for in the peace thereof shall ye have peace.

hath no oblation chooseth a tree that will not rot; he seeketh unto him a cunning workman d to prepare a graven image, that shall not be moved.

21 Have h ye not known? have ye not heard? hath it not been told you from the beginning? have ye not understood from the foundations of the earth?

22 [14] It is he that sitteth upon the circle of the earth, and the inhabitants thereof are as grasshoppers; that i stretcheth out the heavens as a curtain, and spreadeth them out as a tent to dwell in:

23 That bringeth the princes to nothing; he maketh the judges of the earth as vanity.

24 Yea, they shall not be planted; yea, they shall not be sown; yea, their stock shall not take root in the earth: and he shall also blow upon them, and they shall wither, and the whirlwind shall take them away as stubble.

25 To k whom then will ye liken me, or shall I be equal? saith the Holy One.

26 Lift up your eyes on high, and behold who hath created these things, that bringeth out their host by number: l he calleth them all by names by the greatness of his might, for that he is strong in power; not one faileth.

27 Why sayest thou, O Jacob, and speakest, O Israel, My way is hid from the LORD, and my judgment is passed over from my God?

28 Hast thou not known, hast thou not heard, that the everlasting God, the LORD, the Creator of the ends of the earth, fainteth not, neither is weary? m there is no searching of his understanding.

29 He giveth power to the faint; and to them that have no might he increaseth strength.

30 Even the youths shall faint and be weary, and the young men shall utterly fall:

31 But they that n wait upon the LORD shall [a] renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run, and not be weary; and they shall walk, and not faint.

CHAPTER XLI.

[1] God displays his merciful providence in regard of his church. [21] Vanity of idols.

KEEP silence before me, O islands; and let the people renew their strength: let them come near, then let them speak: let us come near together to judgment.

2 Who a raised up [1] the righteous man b from the east, called him to his foot, gave c the nations before him, and made him rule over kings? he gave them as the dust to his sword, and as driven stubble to his bow.

3 He pursued them, and passed [2] safely; even by the way that he had not gone with his feet.

4 Who d hath wrought and done it, calling the generations from the beginning? I the LORD, the e first, and with the last; I am he.

5 The isles saw it, and feared; the ends of the earth were afraid, drew near, and came.

6 They helped every one his neighbour; and f every one said to his brother, [b] Be of good courage.

7 So the carpenter encouraged the [4] goldsmith, and he that smootheth with the hammer [5] him that smote the anvil, [6] saying, It is ready for the soldering: and he fastened it with nails, that it should not be moved.

8 But thou, Israel, art my servant, Jacob whom I have chosen, the seed of Abraham my [c] friend.

9 Thou whom I have taken from the ends of the earth, and called thee from the chief men thereof, and said unto thee, Thou art my servant; I have chosen thee, and not cast thee away.

10 ¶ Fear thou not; g for I am with thee: be not dismayed; for I am thy God: I will strengthen thee; yea, I will help thee; yea, I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness.

11 Behold, all they that were incensed against thee shall be h ashamed and confounded: they shall be as nothing; and i they that strive with thee shall perish.

12 Thou shalt seek them, and shalt not find them, even them that contended with thee: [7] they that war against thee shall be as nothing, and as a thing of nought.

13 For I the LORD thy God will hold thy right hand, saying unto thee, Fear not; I will help thee.

14 Fear not, thou worm Jacob, and ye [10] men of Israel; I will help thee, saith the LORD, and k thy Redeemer, the Holy One of Israel.

15 Behold, I will make thee a new sharp threshing instrument having teeth: thou shalt thresh the mountains, and beat them small, and shalt make the hills as chaff.

16 Thou shalt fan them, and the wind shall carry them away, and the whirlwind shall scatter them: and thou shalt rejoice in the LORD, and shalt glory in the Holy One of Israel.

17 When the poor and needy seek water, and there is none, and their tongue faileth for thirst, I the LORD will hear them, I the God of Israel will not forsake them.

18 I will open l rivers in high places, and fountains in the midst of the valleys: I will make the [d] wilderness a pool of water, and the dry land springs of water.

19 I will plant in the wilderness the cedar, the shittah tree, and the myrtle, and the oil tree; I will set in the desert the fir tree, and the pine, and the box tree together:

20 That [m] they may see, and know, and consider, and understand together, that the hand of the LORD hath done this, and the Holy One of Israel hath created it.

21 ¶ [12] Produce your cause, saith the LORD; bring forth your strong reasons, saith the King of Jacob.

22 Let them bring them forth, and show us what shall happen: let them show the former things, what they be, that we may [13] consider them, and know the latter end of them; or declare us things for to come.

23 Show [n] the things that are to come hereafter, that we may know that ye are gods: yea, [o] do good, or do evil, that we may be dismayed, and behold it together.

24 Behold, ye are [14] of nothing, and your work [15] of nought: an abomination is he that chooseth you.

25 I have raised up one from the north, and he shall come: from the rising of the sun p shall he call upon my name; and he shall come upon princes as upon mortar, and as the potter treadeth clay.

26 Who hath declared from the beginning, that we may know? and beforetime, that 13 And Haman told Zeresh his wife and all his friends every thing that had befallen him. Then said his wise men and Zeresh his wife unto him, If Mordecai be of the seed of the Jews, before whom thou hast begun to fall, thou shalt not prevail against him, but shalt surely fall before him.

14 And while they were yet talking with him, came the king's chamberlains, and hasted to bring Haman unto the banquet that Esther had prepared.

CHAPTER VII.

1 Esther sues for her own life and the life of her people. 7 The king causes Haman to be hanged on his own gallows.

SO the king and Haman came [1] to banquet with Esther the queen.

2 And the king said again unto Esther on the second day, [a] at the banquet of wine, What is thy petition, queen Esther? and it shall be granted thee: and what is thy request? and it shall be performed, even to the half of the kingdom.

3 Then Esther the queen answered and said, If I have found favour in thy sight, O king, and if it please the king, let my life be given me at my petition, and my people at my request:

4 For we are [b] sold, I and my people, [2] to be destroyed, to be slain, and to perish. But if we had been sold for bondmen and bondwomen, I had held my tongue, although the enemy could not countervail the king's damage.

5 ¶ Then the king Ahasuerus answered and said unto Esther the queen, Who is he, and where is he, [3] that durst presume in his heart to do so?

6 And Esther said, [4] The adversary and enemy is this wicked Haman. Then Haman was afraid [5] before the king and the queen.

7 ¶ And the king, arising from the banquet of wine in his wrath, went into the palace garden: and [c] Haman stood up to make request for his life to Esther the queen; for he saw that there was evil determined against him by the king.

8 Then the king returned out of the palace garden into the place of the banquet of wine; and Haman was fallen upon [d] the bed whereon Esther was. Then said the king, Will he force the queen also [6] before me in the house? As the word went out of the king's mouth, they [e] covered Haman's face.

9 And [f] Harbonah, one of the chamberlains, said before the king, Behold [g] also, [7] the gallows, fifty cubits high, which Haman had made for Mordecai, who [h] had spoken good for the king, standeth in the house of Haman. Then the king said, Hang him thereon.

10 So [i] they hanged Haman on the gallows that he had prepared for Mordecai. Then was the king's wrath pacified.

CHAPTER VIII.

1 Mordecai advanced. 7 Ahasuerus grants to the Jews to defend themselves. 15 Mordecai's honours, and the Jews' joy.

ON that day did the king Ahasuerus give the house of Haman, the Jews' enemy, unto Esther the queen: and Mordecai came before the king; for Esther had told what [a] he was unto her.

2 And the king took off [b] his ring, which he had taken from Haman, and gave it unto Mordecai. And Esther set Mordecai over the house of Haman.

3 ¶ And Esther spake yet again before the king, and fell down at his feet, [1] and besought him with tears to put away the mischief of Haman the Agagite, and his device that he had devised against the Jews.

4 Then [c] the king held out the golden sceptre toward Esther. So Esther arose, and stood before the king,

5 And said, If it please the king, and if I have found favour in his sight, and the thing seem right before the king, and I be pleasing in his eyes, let it be written to reverse [2] the letters devised by Haman the son of Hammedatha the Agagite, [3] which he wrote to destroy the Jews which are in all the king's provinces:

6 For how can I [4] endure to see [d] the evil that shall come unto my people? or how can I endure to see the destruction of my kindred?

7 ¶ Then the king Ahasuerus said unto Esther the queen, and to Mordecai the Jew, Behold, [e] I have given Esther the house of Haman, and him they have hanged upon the gallows, because he laid his hand upon the Jews.

8 Write ye also for the Jews, as it liketh you, in the king's name, and seal it with the king's ring: for the writing which is written in the king's name, and sealed with the king's ring, [f] may no man reverse.

9 Then [g] were the king's scribes called at that time in the third month, that is, the month Sivan, on the three and twentieth day thereof; and it was written (according to all that Mordecai commanded) unto the Jews, and to the lieutenants, and the deputies and rulers of the provinces which are [h] from India unto Ethiopia, an hundred twenty and seven provinces, unto every province [i] according to the writing thereof, and unto every people after their language, and to the Jews according to their writing, and according to their language.

10 And [j] he wrote in the king Ahasuerus' name, and sealed it with the king's ring; and sent letters by posts on horseback, and riders on mules, camels, and young dromedaries:

11 Wherein the king granted the Jews which were in every city to gather themselves together, and to stand for their life, to destroy, to slay, and to cause to perish, all the power of the people and province that would assault them, both little ones and women, and [k] to take the spoil of them for a prey,

12 Upon [l] one day, in all the provinces of king Ahasuerus, namely, upon the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, which is the month Adar.

13 The [m] copy of the writing for a commandment to be given in every province was [5] published unto all people, and that the Jews should be ready against that day to avenge themselves on their enemies.

14 So the posts that rode upon mules and camels went out, being hastened and pressed on by the king's commandment. And the decree was given at Shushan the palace.

15 ¶ And Mordecai went out from the presence of the king in royal apparel of [6] blue and white, and with a great crown of gold, and with a garment of fine linen and purple: and [n] the city of Shushan rejoiced and was glad.

his wife looked on it, and [t] fell on their faces to the ground.

21 But the angel of the LORD did no more appear to Manoah and to his wife. [m] Then Manoah knew that he was an angel of the LORD.

22 And Manoah said unto his wife, [n] We shall surely die, because we have seen God.

23 But his wife said unto him, If the LORD were pleased to kill us, he would not have received a burnt offering and a meat offering at our hands, neither would he have showed [o] us all these things, nor would as at this time have told us such things as these.

24 ¶ And the woman bare a son, and called his name [7] Samson: and the [p] child grew, and the LORD blessed him.

17 And she wept before him [3] the seven days, while their feast lasted; and it came to pass on the seventh day, that he told her, because she lay sore upon him: and she told the riddle to the children of her people.

18 And the men of the city said unto him on the seventh day before the sun went down, What is sweeter than honey? and what is stronger than a lion? And he said unto them, If ye had not ploughed with my heifer, ye had not found out my riddle.

19 And [n] the Spirit of the LORD came upon him, and he went down to Ashkelon, and slew thirty men of them, and took their [4] spoil, and gave change of garments unto them which expounded the riddle. And his anger was kindled, and he went up to his father's house.

20 But Samson's wife was given to his companion, whom he had used as his friend.

CHAPTER XV.

1 Samson is denied his wife: 3 he burns the Philistines' corn: 9 he is bound by the men of Judah, and delivered to the Philistines: 14 he kills them with a jaw-bone.

of the king of Babylon's army, which shall take it.

4 Therefore the princes said unto the king, We beseech thee, [f] let this man be put to death: for thus he weakeneth the hands of the men of war that remain in this city, and the hands of all the people, in speaking such words unto them: for this man seeketh not the [1] welfare of this people, but the hurt.

5 Then Zedekiah the king said, Behold, he is [g] in your hand: for the king is not he that can do any thing against you.

6 Then [h] took they Jeremiah, and cast him into [i] the dungeon of Malchiah the son [2] of Hammelech, that was in the court of the prison: and they let down Jeremiah with cords. And in the dungeon there was no water, but mire: so Jeremiah sunk in the mire.

7 ¶ Now, [j] when Ebed-melech the Ethiopian, one of the eunuchs which was in the king's house, heard that they had put Jeremiah in the dungeon, (the king then sitting [k] in the gate of Benjamin,)

8 Ebed-melech went forth out of the king's house, and [l] spake to the king, saying,

9 My lord the king, these men have done evil in all that they have done to Jeremiah the prophet, whom they have cast into the dungeon; and [3] he is like to die for hunger in the place where he is: for there is no more bread in the city.

10 Then the king commanded Ebed-melech the Ethiopian, saying, Take from hence thirty men [4] with thee, and take up Jeremiah the prophet out of the dungeon, before he die.

11 So Ebed-melech took the men with him, and went into the house of the king under the treasury, and took thence old cast clouts and old rotten rags, and let them down by cords into the dungeon to Jeremiah.

12 And [m] Ebed-melech the Ethiopian said unto Jeremiah, Put now these old cast clouts and rotten rags under thine arm holes under the cords. And Jeremiah did so.

13 So they drew up Jeremiah with cords, and took him up out of the dungeon: and Jeremiah remained [n] in the court of the prison.

sent, and took Jeremiah the prophet unto him into the [6] third entry that is in the house of the LORD: and the king said unto Jeremiah, I will ask thee a thing; hide nothing from me.

15 Then Jeremiah said unto Zedekiah, If I declare it unto thee, wilt thou not surely put me to death? and if I give thee counsel, wilt thou not hearken unto me?

16 So Zedekiah the king sware secretly unto Jeremiah, saying, As the LORD liveth, [o] that made us this soul, I will not put thee to death, neither will I give thee into the hand of these men that seek thy life.

17 Then said Jeremiah unto Zedekiah, Thus saith the LORD, the God of hosts, the God of Israel; If thou wilt assuredly [p] go forth unto the king of Babylon's princes, then thy soul shall live, and this city shall not be burnt with fire; and thou shalt live, and thine house:

18 But if thou wilt not go forth to the king of Babylon's princes, then shall this city be given into the hand of the Chaldeans, and they shall burn it with fire, and thou [q] shalt not escape out of their hand.

19 And Zedekiah the king said unto Jeremiah, I [r] am afraid of the Jews that are fallen to the Chaldeans, lest they deliver me into their hand, and they [s] mock me.

20 But Jeremiah said, They shall not deliver thee. Obey, I [t] beseech thee, the voice of the LORD, which I speak unto thee: so it shall be well unto thee, and thy soul shall live.

21 But if thou refuse to go forth, this is the word that the LORD hath showed me:

22 And, behold, all the women that are left in the king of Judah's house shall be brought forth to the king of Babylon's princes, and those women shall say, [6] Thy friends have set thee on, and have prevailed against thee; thy feet are sunk in the mire, and they are turned away back.

23 So they shall bring out all thy wives and thy [u] children to the Chaldeans: and thou shalt not escape out of their hand, but shalt be taken by the hand of the king of Babylon; and [7] thou shalt cause this city to be burnt with fire.

MARTIAL DEEDS OF PENNSYLVANIA.

BY SAMUEL P. BATES, LL.D.

THE work embraces a résumé of Pennsylvania history from the period of its settlement, elucidating all the important questions which have entered into its progress in civil polity and material resource; a consideration of the great questions which led to Civil War; a complete and accurate history of the State during that eventful period; an account of the passage of President Lincoln through the State, and his departure for Washington in disguise; a full narrative of the Battle of Gettysburg; the Burning of Chambersburg; a history of the Union Volunteer, and Cooper Shop Refreshment Saloons of Philadelphia; biographical sketches of many of the prominent officers and civilians of the State who took an active part in the strife; a life of old JOHN BURNS, the "Hero of Gettysburg;" together with incidents of heroic daring and suffering.

For more than six years the author devoted himself to gathering the material for this volume, and having every facility for obtaining the facts, this work is believed to be reliable in every particular. His name is a sufficient guarantee of its excellence in point of literary merit, while the subjects themselves present at once matters of absorbing interest.

In the publication of this work neither time nor expense has been spared to present to the people of this Commonwealth, on fine toned and laid paper, of faultless texture, in exquisitely handsome and durable bindings, A SUPERBLY PRINTED AND ILLUSTRATED VOLUME.

Nearly 80 portraits on steel, with other illustrations, maps, etc., costing many thousands of dollars, from the burins of distinguished artists, which cannot fail of appreciation, will adorn the work.

It is sold only to subscribers, on orders given the salesman, upon personal solicitation, and at the following prices:

A COMPLETE HISTORY OF OUR NATIONAL LITERATURE.

CYCLOPÆDIA OF AMERICAN LITERATURE,

FROM THE EARLIEST DATE TO THE PRESENT TIME.

NEW EDITION, REVISED.

With nearly 1000 Wood-cuts of Portraits, Autographs, Views of Colleges, Authors' Residences, Public and Private Buildings, connected with our Literary History.

Of the merits of "THE CYCLOPÆDIA OF AMERICAN LITERATURE," edited by Evert A. Duyckinck and the late George L. Duyckinck, it is needless to speak. It is the standard work in its special and attractive department. It contains graphic sketches of the Lives and Writings of over eight hundred of the most illustrious American Authors, accompanied by fitting extracts from the best of their works, and illustrated by numerous Portraits, Autographs, and other Engravings. In itself it is a WHOLE LIBRARY OF AMERICAN BELLES-LETTRES, adapted to the most refined home circle. It caters, alike, to the taste of the scholar and the general reader. In no other work are so broadly and plainly set forth the greater and lesser landmarks of American Literature, whether of the past or of to-day. Its full, clear pages are a noble monument to the fruits of the life-toil of American Authors, creditable alike to its Editors and to its glorious theme.

The entire literary revision has been intrusted to M. Laird Simons, whose connection with various literary journals has given him peculiar facilities for a knowledge of contemporary literature.

The work will be published in two handsome imperial octavo volumes of over 1000 pages each, and will be accompanied by an exhaustive Index.

TEXT-BOOKS OF THE BOSTON SCHOOL OF MODERN LANGUAGES.

Heness, der Leitfaden. A guide for instruction in German without grammar or dictionary. Cloth $1 50

From L. KLEMM, Supt. of German Dept. of Pub. Schools, Cleveland.

After having looked carefully through the book, I have no doubt of its great success. This natural method has always been used in our classes (consisting of five thousand five hundred pupils) studying German, and with the best results. All we needed yet to render our instruction more systematic was this book, which I greet with pleasure, and which I shall make known as far as I shall be able to.

From PROF. W. D. WHITNEY of Yale.

The Leitfaden cannot but be, I am sure, a very valuable help to those who would learn and practise your peculiar and very successful method of teaching to speak and to write the modern languages; and I wish it the prosperous career which I am sure that it deserves.

A Most Sumptuous Illustrated Work on

INDIA,

AND ITS NATIVE PRINCES.

Translated from the French of Louis Rousselet. With 317 illustrations, from designs by the most celebrated artists, many of them full-page.

One vol. super-royal quarto, in the following styles:

I. Cloth, full gilt edges, with elegant and elaborate stamp in gilt and black, $25 00
II. Half morocco extra, full gilt edges..... 30 00
III. Morocco, full gilt..... 35 00

There is no country in which may be found so much of the romantic, venerable, and wonderful as in India. Its history is so linked in with the growth of languages and religions, that scholars find a field for limitless research in its past. Its ruins, and the inscriptions they bear, are full of interest to the archæologist; its temples furnish wonderful examples of the majestic and beautiful in architecture; its forests and jungles abound in the noblest game, upon which the sportsman can exercise his skill; and its native princes, notwithstanding their diminished power and numbers, still maintain a degree of magnificent luxury, which is best described as oriental. M. Rousselet spent nearly five years in this wonderful country. During that time he traversed nearly every section of it, and he improved to the utmost the extraordinary facilities for observation which he enjoyed. He was received as an honored guest at several of the courts, and with some of the most powerful of the native princes he came to be upon terms of intimate personal friendship. Rhinoceros and elephant fights and royal hunting parties were organized in his honor. Graphic descriptions of these exciting spectacles alternate with accounts of the manners and customs of the people, of the famous jugglers, of the dances of the Nantoh girls, of the servent charmers, and of the various other innumerable institutions of the East, which are in such strong contrast with the quiet life of more civilized countries. Everywhere that the pencil can aid the pen, illustrations, exquisitely engraved and printed, are given; while maps, most carefully drawn, represent the topographical features of the country, and reproduce the route of the traveler. As a whole, the superb quarto is one of the most perfect specimens of book making ever offered to the American public.

BIBLE—HANDY VOLUME EDITION OF THE HOLY BIBLE.

With Marginal Readings, References and Introductions.

It is believed that the opportunity now for the first time given to possess the Holy Scriptures in a light and handy form, printed in a type large, clear, and easy to be read—capable of being used by the weakest without fatigue, by the aged with comfort, and by all readers with pleasure—will be welcomed.

The references in this edition, which exceed 50,000 in number, have been, for the greater part, carefully selected from those at present existing, the remaining portion being original; and their use will, it is hoped, be greatly facilitated through their being placed in every instance exactly opposite the passage to which they refer.

The "Introductions" which accompany each volume aim at giving a short account descriptive of the history of the different Books, and showing the relation in which they stand to each other. They are also intended to form a concise analysis of the Biblical narrative, which may be useful and suggestive to ordinary readers.

" NET, " " Half Russia 100 00

The English Cyclopædia exceeds in magnitude all other works of its kind which have hitherto been published in the English Language. It consists of Fifteen Thousand Quarto pages, with Seven Thousand Wood Engravings; has a complete Atlas of Maps; and contains Sixty Thousand separate articles and special subjects, including Biographical Memoirs and Notices. The extent of the work may be gathered from a comparative analysis of the numbers of letters contained in each of the following English and American Encyclopædias:

THE ENGLISH CYCLOPÆDIA	140 MILLIONS.
Encyclopædia Britannica	118 "
Appleton's Cyclopædia (U.S.)	65 "
Chambers' Encyclopædia	54 "

So that the English Cyclopædia contains nearly one fifth more matter than is to be found in the Encyclopædia Britannica, although it is sold at less than half the price; it has more than twice the extent of Appleton's Cyclopædia; and exceeds by nearly three times the amount of information that is in Chambers' Cyclopædia. It is thus by far the cheapest Cyclopædia at present existing, while the greater range of its subjects and the uniform exhaustiveness of its treatment, make it the BEST WORK OF GENERAL REFERENCE ever produced.

 An enlarged and illustrated Prospectus, with specimen pages, contributors' names, lists of principal subjects treated, and a Lithographic Engraving representing in fac-simile a copy of the work, will be supplied by Messrs. S. W. and A. on application.

Doré's Grand Portraiture of a Glorious Country.

SPAIN. ILLUSTRATED BY 309 ENGRAVINGS DRAWN ON WOOD, BY GUSTAVE DORÉ. The Descriptive Letterpress and Historical Narrative by the Baron Ch. Davillier. One noble quarto volume of about 800 pages, printed on toned paper, and richly bound in cloth; full gilt side (stamped with design taken from the Alhambra), gilt edges..... 18 00

 This magnificent volume may be justly characterized as one of the most valuable, elaborate, and deeply interesting works yet published on modern Spain. It contains a minute and vivid description of nearly every object of historical and romantic interest, which richly abound in that delightful country, famous for knightly adventure, romance, and song. The text is largely interspersed with sprightly proverbs and choice extracts from rare legendary ballads and poems, illustrative of Spanish history, valor, and gallantry. The numerous superb illustrations by M. Gustave Doré, exhibit, with marvellous fidelity and picturesque beauty, the majestic scenery and grand architecture of the country, the lively manners, piquant dress, and singular customs of its romantic people. Indeed, no labor or expense has been spared to render this sumptuous volume the most beautiful, interesting, and valuable publication, in a literary and artistic point of view, that has ever appeared.

 In bringing together and arranging the various portions of this work, so much new matter has been introduced as to render the old editions pretty well obsolete; so that no one who desires to enter fully into the mind and purpose of the poet can remain satisfied with any other than this his own edition. The additions, etc., are so numerous that it would require a laborious collation to trace them all.

 This is the first of a series of Handbooks to serve as guides to the different branches of Economic Entomology, and as practical treatises on the subject for the use of the public generally. Other volumes to follow on Bugs, Locusts, Grasshoppers, Cockroaches, Bees, Wasps, Butterflies, and Moths, &c., &c.

13. ANIMAL PRODUCTS, THEIR PREPARATION, COMMERCIAL USES, AND VALUE. By P. L. Simmonds. 12mo, with 121 Illustrations. (416 Pages), cloth..... 2 50

 This Work is intended as a practical treatise on Economic Zoology for popular use. While there are very many treatises on Natural History, scientifically arranged, there are few works in which the uses of Animals to Man, and the important Commercial Products they furnish, have received prominent attention. The author has long had this extensive subject before him, and believes that a detailed description of the various useful substances furnished by the Animal Kingdom may be rendered both instructive and interesting.

 "The object of this Series is to bring into one focus the leading features and present position of the most important Industries of Great Britain, so as to enable the general reader to comprehend the enormous development that has taken place within the last twenty or thirty years. Great stress is laid on the progressive developments of the manufactures, and the various applications to them of the collateral Arts and Sciences; the history of each is truly given, while present processes and recent inventions are succinctly described."—Preface.

BRAND'S Observations on Popular Antiquities. Chiefly illustrating the Origin of our Vulgar Customs, Ceremonies, and Superstitions. With the Additions of Sir Henry Ellis. An entirely New and Revised edition, with fine full-page illustrations. 12mo, 807 pages..... $3 00

Any one who will read on each respective day, the chapter which belongs to it, will, when he has got through the volume, have a better notion of what English History is than he will get from almost any other work professedly named a "history"—Quarterly Review.

Though the first large size OUTLINE MAPS in this country, they are now, as they have been, the best, and for their size, the cheapest. They are revised and corrected to correspond with the latest changes and discoveries. This is the only set of Maps published on a large scale, exhibiting the main features of Physical Geography without detracting from the practical features of Political and Local Geography.

German Books.

E. Steiger,

22 & 24 Frankfort Street, NEW YORK.

August, 1877.

E. Steiger, 22 & 24 Frankfort Street, New York,

Publisher, Bookseller, Importer, and Printer, begs leave to call attention to the fact that he has the most extensive German Book Establishment

in the United States. He keeps a very large and carefully selected Stock of German Books in all Departments, and also of German Periodicals. In consequence of this he is in a position to execute at once most orders directed to him.

Regular Importations from Germany, England, France, and other Parts of Europe. Shipments received three or four times a week.

Weekly Exportations of American Books and Periodicals.

Every thing connected with the Literature, Science, and Art of all countries imported promptly, and supplied at moderate rates. Inquiries answered by letter, without delay.

To Booksellers desirous of increasing business and securing customers, E. Steiger would suggest that they give attention to every order for Foreign Books or Periodicals that may come to them, however small. If they cannot fill the order at once, they should write to him for the goods, or for information in regard to the same. Such attention to customers generally pays handsomely, if only in an indirect way.

To facilitate their endeavor in this direction, he is prepared to furnish, if desired, a Desk Placard ("Books and Periodicals from England, Germany, France, Spain, and other Foreign Countries procured within the shortest possible time. Every information obtained for intending purchasers") and a number of Blanks ("Information is requested....", as below). He would also call attention to the large assortment of his Catalogues (see List), and suggest that Booksellers procure and keep on file such as are likely to prove serviceable to themselves and their customers.

All persons desiring information concerning books or periodicals, are invited to address E. Steiger, using the following Form:

Information is requested touching the following

Title of Publication

Year of Publication

Persons wishing information in regard to any work will please indicate the knowledge they have in regard to any of the above points, and add whatever other details they can mention. Prompt and accurate replies will thus be facilitated.

The points upon which information is desired should be very precisely stated.

ON GLOBES.

"A Globe is as essential in a School-room as a Blackboard or a Dictionary".

It may seem needless nowadays to enlarge upon the value and advantages of Globes as means of instruction—all the more so as, apart from their general introduction into schools, they are fast becoming favorites in private libraries and parlors, with a fair prospect that in time they will be regarded as among the necessaries in every well-furnished home.

It will not be, however, considered out of place here to enumerate some of their advantages as follows:

The Globe is the truest and most natural, indeed, cartographically speaking, the only accurate representation of the Earth. All flat map-projections must necessarily contain errors, which will increase in proportion to the area of the Earth's surface which they are intended to represent. The Mercator projection, supposing we join the ends of a Map of the World together, produces a cylinder, and, in different latitudes, presents widely different scales. If we place side by side planiglobes based on other projections, they touch each other only at one point (whilst in fact they ought to touch each other at all points of the periphery), and give the countries according to scales very different, or in a measure distorted and disarranged.

The Globe is, consequently, a most important, indeed an indispensable auxiliary in geographical instruction; and, where means will permit, the Relief Globe, on account of its manifest pre-eminence, should be used.

On the Globe alone can the teacher present to the pupil the whole Earth in its natural form.

On the Globe can easily be explained those points and mathematical lines which require elucidation as being the groundwork of Geography: the poles, the meridians, the parallels, the equator, the tropics, the polar circles, and the ecliptic.

On the Globe the teacher can readily explain the lighting of the Earth at different times of the day; the diurnal revolution of the Earth, the synchronism of sunrise, midday, and sunset in any two given places upon the same meridian, the difference of the time of day between places not upon the same meridian. All this the pupil can see with his own eyes, and, therefore, thoroughly understand.

On a Globe provided with a Meridian, the lighting and heating of the Earth at various seasons may be elucidated; to which may easily be associated explanations of the climatic differences of the zones, the trade-winds, the winds arising from climatic differences, as the monsoons, etc.

On the Globe we get the real form of the countries and seas. We have no flat map of the Pacific or Atlantic Ocean which is correct in every direction and at all points; their representation on a flat surface makes errors inevitable. Consequently on a Globe the great lines, too, of transmarine trade, of circumnavigation, of the telegraphs encircling the whole Earth, are made out with certainty and accuracy.

It must be allowed that the larger Globes have some slight drawbacks, inasmuch as they cannot be put into the pupil's hands, and the minuteness of the drawing and names makes their use at a distance impossible. This little difficulty has been surmounted. For the demonstration of problems, etc., the teacher uses the largest Globe at command. Pupils have Globes of small size in their hands. These little Globes are very cheap, and contain, in the main, every thing necessary for elucidating the elementary principles of general mathematical Geography. They also give the chief countries and seas, and the lines of circumnavigation.

Whilst the foregoing is said with special reference to Terrestrial Globes, it is needless to mention that analogous elements hold good in regard to Celestial Globes.

The more advanced pupil will also find the Tellurian a valuable aid in the study of mathematical Geography. The synchronism and regularity of the Earth's revolution on its axis, as well as of its revolution round the Sun, and of the Moon's revolution round the Earth, may be traced and understood in every phase by this apparatus. Above all, this is the most direct and practical means of making evident to the pupil the eclipses of the Sun and the Moon, the inclination of the Earth's axis to its orbit, etc., etc.

As regards the SCHEDLER Globes, there need be no longer any hesitation in claiming that they are absolutely the best Globes in the market.

In support of this assertion the following statement is submitted:

It is universally conceded that the Centennial Exhibition furnished an opportunity which producers all over the world had desired—the opportunity to test by actual comparison the respective merits of their several manufactures or productions. As a consequence, nearly every nation was there represented by the best it had to offer, and individual exhibitors were, as a rule, confident that their goods, which had been forwarded for competition at great expense, would surpass all similar displays. On the other hand, articles or manufactures concerning the absolute superiority of which any doubt existed, were wisely kept at home to avoid unnecessary expense and possible defeat. On the whole, therefore, we may regard the material placed on exhibition at Philadelphia as the world's best.

Many Terrestrial and Celestial Globes are being produced both in America and in Europe and, yet, only a few publishers ventured to send even the choicest of these to the Centennial. Upon a careful comparison SCHEDLER'S Globes were admitted by all to be by far the finest on exhibition. This popular verdict was officially sustained, after a thorough examination, by the Judges, and, as a result, SCHEDLER'S were the only Terrestrial and Celestial Globes that received an award at the Philadelphia Exhibition.

The Judges recommended them for the following reasons:

"Excellence of Work, Delicacy of Finish, Accuracy of Adjustments, Freshness of Detail, Economy of Cost."

In addition to these qualities, another point might have been mentioned, viz.: the unsurpassed variety of styles and sizes, for the display of SCHEDLER'S Globes comprised no less than 60 different numbers, i. e. more than all the other exhibits of Globes combined, a fact which shows that the wants and tastes of all classes of purchasers have been studiously considered.

The excellence of SCHEDLER'S Globes, thus again officially recognized, had long been acknowledged. They received the First Prize at the Paris Exposition of 1867, and, subsequently the Medal of Merit, at Vienna, in 1873, at which time they entered the field against all their European competitors. Since then, they have steadily increased, alike in quality and in extent of variety, so that they now constitute absolutely the largest assortment of sizes and styles of any one make, either in America or in Europe. In their prominent features, Beauty of Workmanship, Completeness and Accuracy of the Maps, Durability and Cheapness, as well as in minor matters they are unexcelled, nay unrivalled.

It is truly said of them that they combine extreme lightness with the greatest possible durability—they supply the maximum of information compressible within their space, and yet extreme clearness is every-where observable—they are produced by a patented process at prices which place them within the reach of even modest means.

It is a fact that much attention is now being devoted to the matter of improved School Apparatus, and that school officers and educators are making careful selections — inferior articles being considered too dear at any price.

A consequence of this is that universal attention has been attracted and secured to the SCHEDLER Globes. They are now more than ever before closely examined and carefully compared with others, and the uniform result is their being unhesitatingly preferred on account not only of their excellence, but also of their cheapness.

It is of the first importance that new geographical discoveries and territorial changes be promptly reproduced on the Globes. This is being constantly done with SCHEDLER'S, it is, indeed, one of the reasons for the universal favor which they enjoy.

To afford to educators and others an opportunity for examining the SCHEDLER Globes, they have been placed on view near Columns H, 27 and 28 in the Educational Department of the Permanent International Exhibition at Philadelphia.

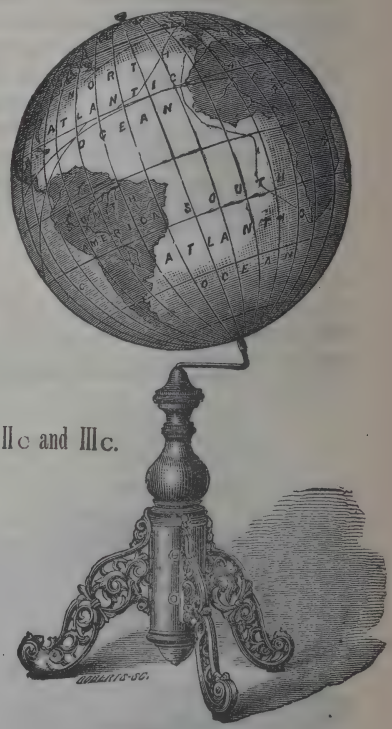
SCHEDLER'S TERRESTRIAL GLOBES, OF 20 INCHES DIAMETER.



Scale 1:25,000,000.

The Parlor Globe. A beautiful ornament for the Parlor or Library.

NOTE—The prices within brackets [] denote the extra cost of packing.

I A. The Parlor Globe. Complete. On fine bronzed, pedestal frame, 42 inches high. With horizon, brass meridian divided into half degrees, hour-circle, and magnetic needle.
175.00 [5.00]

I A 1. The Parlor Globe. Complete. On low frame of black polished wood. With horizon, (cast-iron, nickel-plated) meridian divided into half-degrees, hour-circle, and quadrant.
80.00 [4.00]

The Scientific Globe.

This is the most elaborate Globe ever produced. Not only does it give the latest authenticated discoveries in various parts of the World, but, in addition, it contains a large fund of interesting information on physical matters.

It contains the Lines of Ocean Steam Communication and Overland Routes, the great overland and submarine Telegraph Lines, and the principal Tracks of Sailing Vessels; showing the directions and mean velocity of the Ocean Currents, important Deep Sea Soundings, also the lines of Equal Magnetic Variations.

II A. The Scientific Globe. Complete. On bronzed pedestal-frame, 42 inches high. With horizon, (cast-iron, nickel-plated) meridian divided into half-degrees, hour-circle, and quadrant. 75.00 [5.00]

II B. The Scientific Globe. With full meridian. On bronzed pedestal-frame, with full (cast-iron) meridian, and inclined axis. 60.00 [4.00]

II C. The Scientific Globe. Plain. On plain iron stand, with inclined axis. 55.00 [4.00]

The High School Globe.

In size, form and fixtures, this Globe is similar to the Scientific Globe.

It is specially designed for the use of Colleges and High Schools. All matters represented, and all names, notwithstanding their multiplicity, are kept clear and distinct, and confusion is avoided. By it the fundamental and elementary principles of geography, so difficult to the learner, are readily explained. The most important rivers, capital cities and mountain ranges, are given as distinctly as possible. This Globe, therefore, commends itself to parents and teachers as an essential aid in instruction. Its practical utility cannot fail to be recognized in Schools; it has already been received with great favor by eminent instructors in many of our Normal and High Schools, who have strongly testified to its value; and it may be confidently offered as better adapted for the instruction of youth than any Terrestrial Globe hitherto constructed.

III A. The High School Globe. Complete. On bronzed pedestal-frame, 42 inches high. With horizon, (cast-iron, nickel-plated) meridian divided into half-degrees, hour-circle, and quadrant. 65.00 [5.00]

III B. The High School Globe. With full meridian. On bronzed pedestal-frame, with full meridian, and inclined axis. 50.00 [4.00]

III C. The High School Globe. Plain. On plain iron stand, with inclined axis. 45.00 [4.00]

TERRESTRIAL GLOBES, OF 16 INCHES DIAMETER, are in preparation.

TERRESTRIAL GLOBES, OF 12 INCHES DIAMETER.

Beautifully printed in colors, the water blue, the ocean currents white, indicating the principal lines of Ocean Steam Communication, and the Submarine Telegraph Cables.

The Cabinet Globe.

V A. The Cabinet Globe. Complete. On low bronzed frame, with horizon, meridian, hour-circle, and quadrant. 25.00 [2.50]

V B. The Cabinet Globe. With full meridian. On bronzed stand, with full meridian, and inclined axis. 18.00 [2.00]

SCHEDLER'S CELESTIAL GLOBES.

The most difficult task in the preparation of a Celestial Globe is to present clearly the configurations of the stars and the constellations as two distinct subject-matters.

To effect this, SCHEDLER's Celestial Globes are printed in a manner never hitherto adopted. The stars are printed in black upon a sky-blue ground, so that their configuration strikes the eye forcibly and at once. The figures of the constellations, and the various designations of the stars by letters, numbers, etc., are printed in purple. This method of printing completely obviates the indistinctness and confusion otherwise certain to arise from the multiplicity of objects delineated.

The several subjects are at once grasped by the eye, and present, at the same time, a very beautiful appearance.

These Globes are, moreover, eminently conspicuous for their accuracy, clearness, and elegance: indeed, taking into account their manifold and acknowledged superiority, it may fairly be stated that never have any of equal excellence been offered to the public.

All the Celestial Globes hitherto published are so overcrowded, and the various subjects are so confused, that the very first essential of a Celestial Globe, viz., to present, as totally distinct, the configurations of the stars and the constellations, is utterly wanting.

Mr. SCHEDLER's aim was to remove these drawbacks, and he has completely succeeded in producing Celestial Globes which will prove valuable auxiliaries as well to the accomplished astronomer as to the tyro.

To delineate in a specially characteristic manner, and to throw into relief by color, the various celestial signs, as usually done, is a complete mistake. These uncouth figures detract from the impression which should be created by the outlines of the stars themselves, and are rather prejudicial than favorable to instruction. They form a misleading medley of figures, which is simply annoying and confusing, since no possible assistance is given to one desirous of studying the heavens, by the figure of a "Hercules' club" or a "crown of Cepheus." Such old figures of constellations are only a remainder of the uncultivated spirit of antiquity, which strove thereby to aid the memory in astronomical studies.

> "This disregard is neither supercilious nor causeless. The constellations seem to have been almost purposely named and delineated to cause as much confusion and inconvenience as possible. Innumerable snakes twine through long and contorted areas of the heavens, where no memory can follow them; bears, lions, and fishes, large and small, northern and southern, confuse all nomenclature, etc., etc.")

The most patient care has been bestowed upon these Globes; they contain, too, the latest results of Astronomical Science, as given by the best authorities.

In their preparation, Mr. SCHEDLER has enjoyed the rare advantage of the advice and suggestions of our eminent astronomer, Prof. Peters, of the Clinton Observatory.

SCHEDLER's Celestial Globes give all the stars visible to the naked eye up to the sixth magnitude. The signs indicating magnitudes are given in true and natural proportions, and in such a manner as to preclude all mistakes.—The Greek and Roman letters refer to Bayer's classification of stars; the numbers are arranged according to the Catalogues of Flamsteed, Piazzi, Bradley, Hevelius, and La Caille. The double stars are from Sir Fred. W. Herschel and Struve; the magnitudes given are according to Argelander, reduced to the year 1870.

The fittings of the three sizes of Celestial Globes now published, are exactly similar to those of the corresponding sizes and styles of Terrestrial Globes: thus, those desirous of procuring them in pairs, can have them precisely matching each other.

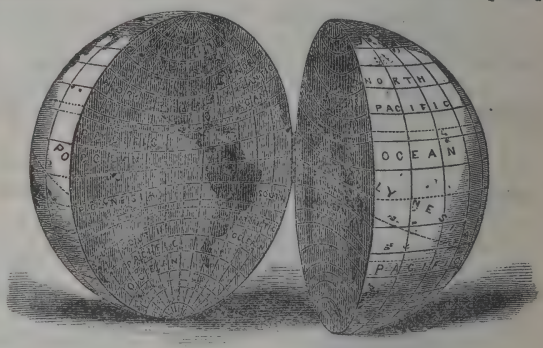
Hemisphere



TERRESTRIAL GLOBES, OF 6 INCHES DIAMETER.

The two styles of Hemisphere Globe mentioned below are a most important addition to cheap school apparatus. In both, the arrangement at once shows the learner why the lines on a map must be curved; how impossible it is to depict perfectly any part of the Globe on a flat Map, or to represent on such a map, in their correct form, and in complete unity, countries and seas in their natural proportions, position, distances, etc. For it is clear that a sphere or part of a sphere cannot be accurately represented upon a flat surface. The juxtaposition of the Hemisphere Globe with the Planisphere Map proves this to evidence, inasmuch as the comparison of the two shows very distinctly how distorted and disarranged all the parts of the Earth appear upon the Planisphere Map.

VII E. The Hand Hemisphere Globe. With hinge. 3.00 [0.40]

This style consists of two half-globes, or hemispheres, connected by a hinge. When closed they form a handy little globe; when opened, the planiglobes are found inside.

Beyond the above mentioned advantages, the Hand Hemisphere Globe is extremely useful in the school-room. It can be passed from hand to hand, whilst the teacher is explaining the lesson; it is light, and yet so strongly made that no amount of ordinary wear and tear will affect it, and besides being really hard to break, it is extremely cheap.

The Wall Hemisphere Globe.

(Patented October 21st, 1873.)

VII F. Planisphere Maps and Hemisphere Globes combined. Mounted on pasteboard. 3.75 [0.40]

In this style the two hemispheres are mounted side by side on pasteboard, the two planiglobes being placed above them. The Wall Hemisphere Globe can thus be hung on the wall of a study or school-room, and, whilst forming a very attractive ornament, is a very compendious, albeit a diminutive repertory of geographical and other information, as the available space on the mounting is occupied with statistics of prime importance to the beginner in geography.

These statistics comprise the area and population of the various States and Territories of the Union in 1870; the population of thirty of the chief cities in the United States; the area and population of the various continents; the area and population of the main divisions of the American Continent, and other leading geographical data.

Besides the foregoing, the Wall Hemisphere Globe has another very strong recommendation, viz. its very low price, which makes it peculiarly adapted for general use, as there is not a single school in the country which cannot afford to provide itself with at least one of these Globes.

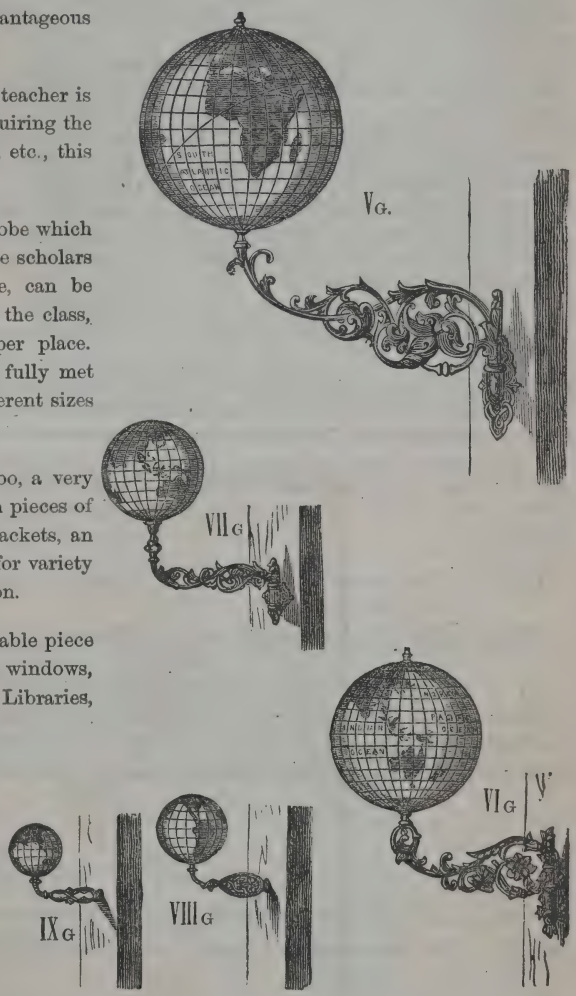
BRACKET-GLOBES.



This is an entirely novel and most advantageous method of mounting the Globe.

For Common Schools, in which the teacher is not, as a rule, engaged in problems requiring the Globe to have stand, meridian, horizon, etc., this is the best kind.

The teacher needs an inexpensive Globe which can be placed beyond the reach of the scholars and the danger of accidental damage, can be readily taken down and handed round the class, and as quickly put back in its proper place. All these requirements will be found fully met in the Bracket-Globe, of which five different sizes are offered.

The Bracket-Globe will be found, too, a very useful and elegant addition to all such pieces of furniture as can be fitted with the Brackets, an arrangement allowing unlimited scope for variety both in richness of design and execution.

These Globes can be fixed to any suitable piece of furniture, as well as to mirror-frames, windows, blind-doors, etc. etc., in Offices, Clubs, Libraries, Drawing-Rooms, Alcoves, Bay-Windows, and, indeed, in almost any portion of an apartment where there is spare room for an ornamental and uncumbersome piece of furniture. The Brackets offered by me, whilst elegant and pleasing in design, are both substantial and cheap.

VI G. The nine-inch Terrestrial Globe. On bronzed hinged Bracket. 6.00 [0.60]

VI*G. The nine-inch Celestial Globe. On bronzed hinged Bracket. 6.00 [0.60]

VII G. The six-inch Globe. On bronzed hinged Bracket. 4.00 [0.40]

VIII G. The four-inch Globe. On bronzed Bracket. 3.00 [0.30]

IX G. The three-inch Globe. On bronzed Bracket. 2.00 [0.25]

SLATED GLOBES.

These Globes have a black slate surface, which readily takes a slate-pencil mark. They are admirably adapted for illustrating those principles and facts in Geography and Astronomy which are most difficult of elucidation to the pupil.

Each slated Globe is furnished with a thin brass Guide, which serves, at the same time, as a meridian. This band is divided into sections of 10 degrees each. The pupil places, with his left hand, his pencil in one of the holes given on the line of the degree, and, with the right hand, turns the Globe round to the right. Thereby a line is drawn upon the Globe which forms a parallel of latitude. The pupil then proceeds thus to draw all the parallels of latitude.

In the middle of the Guide there is a lateral projection, from the extreme left of which to the extreme right of the Guide is a distance of 10 degrees. The pupil takes hold, with his left hand, of the button in the middle of the Guide, and draws with his pencil, down the meridian, a straight line from the North to the South pole. Thereby a degree of longitude is formed.

The pupil then marks a point at the extreme left of the projection on the middle of the meridian, turns the Globe to the right until this point appears on the extreme right of the meridian, again draws a line from the North to the South pole, and thus continues until he has drawn every tenth degree of longitude.

The pupil thus traces a perfect net of degrees, and can then proceed to draw countries, etc. etc., on the Globe, according to a given Map, or if further advanced, from memory.

With the use of these Globes a solid grounding in Geography is acquired. The teacher can at once begin object-lessons, by showing things, and not merely representations of them. Pupils are taught not simply the names of geographical lines, but what these lines are, their purpose, and, what is more important, how to draw according to them.

Multitudes of facts and phenomena can be explained and illustrated so simply and clearly that any child can understand them. The most obscure theorems and problems of Spherical Geometry, Trigonometry and Navigation, become, when studied in connection with the Sphere, perfectly intelligible.

SUSPENDED GLOBES.

This style will be found very serviceable wherever floor or table space cannot conveniently be spared for a Globe. The very low price at which the several sizes are offered, is another point in their favor.

Each Globe is provided with a cast-iron nickel - plated full meridian, 2 bird-cage pulleys, 1 pin, and 6 yards of strong cord.

BLACK WALNUT GLOBE STANDS.

The above illustrations sufficiently explain themselves.

These stands, as here offered, are of black walnut, nicely finished and varnished, simple in design, but solid, and cheap. They afford a field for the display of much taste in design, and can be made by cabinet-makers to match any style and quality of furniture. They occupy but little room, are portable, and, as the Globe is not fastened to them, can, as occasion may require, be used for a variety of purposes. Thus they are highly acceptable for Offices, Clubs, Libraries, Parlors, Drawing-Rooms, Alcoves, Bay-Windows, and, indeed, in almost any portion of an apartment where there is room to spare for an ornamental and uncumbersome piece of furniture.

A most valuable help in studying Geography and Astronomy—by means of the Globes—is JOS. SCHEDLER. An Illustrated Manual for the Use of the Terrestrial and Celestial Globes. 34 pp. In Paper cover. 0.25

"I have examined Mr. Schedler's American Globes. The best geographical positions seem to be used, and the most recent discoveries are given. The great currents of the ocean, and the principal routes by steamers are indicated. As Maps they are neatly drawn, of names very full, the writing being clear and distinct." (C. H. F. PETERS, Professor of Astronomy and Mathematics, Hamilton College, Clinton, N. Y.)

"I have examined with Prof. Hilgard, of the Coast Survey, the 20-inch Terrestrial Globe by J. Schedler, and I have no hesitation in commending it to all who desire a superior article of the kind. It is not surpassed by the best Globes of European manufacture."

(HENRY BARNARD, Commissioner of Education, Washington, D. C.)

"The Terrestrial Globe by J. Schedler we regard as invaluable. As an object of art it is really beautiful, and for scientific study could hardly be improved."

(S. M. CAPRON, Principal of High School, Hartford, Ct.)

"I am much pleased with the 20-inch Schedler Globe. In modern additions to Geography, in all political changes, it takes precedence of all other Globes I know. The style of engraving and coloring is distinct and pleasing." (Prof. J. E. HILGARD, U. S. Coast Survey Office, Washington, D. C.)

"In this Globe by J. Schedler, we find not only the utmost regard paid to the latest geographical discoveries, but also a variety of important, accurate, and valuable information on physical matters. Mr. Schedler has introduced on his Globe, without prejudice to its clearness, a surprisingly large number of names."

"This Globe appears to embody the results of the most recent explorations, topographical surveys, and political changes. The physical geography of the ocean surface is beautifully exhibited, as well as the chief commercial highways, and submarine telegraphs. I would, therefore, heartily commend Schedler's Globe to the favorable notice of my fellow-teachers."

(THOS. F. HARRISON, Assist. Superintendent of Public Schools, New York.)

"I am so well pleased with your Globes that I wish to say a word in their favor. In accuracy of detail and beauty of finish they surpass all others with which I am acquainted."

(ELLIS A. APGAR, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Trenton, N. J.)

The Judges of the International Exhibition, Philadelphia, 1876, recommended SCHEDLER'S Globes for award for the following reasons:

"Excellence of work, delicacy of finish, accuracy of adjustments, freshness of detail, economy of cost".

SCHEDLER'S RELIEF GLOBES are now in preparation.

(Until the above are ready, E. Steiger keeps a complete assortment of imported Relief Globes, of 26, 16, and 12 inches diameter, respectively; each size in three different styles of mounting.)

SCHEDLER'S RELIEF MAPS of the various States of the Union, and of the Chief Cities with their Environs.

Each Map, 10 by 13 inches, printed in 6 colors; in neat black-walnut frame. Price, $1.50.

It is quite superfluous to demonstrate the great advantages which these Relief Maps offer for teaching Physical Geography in schools. But, apart from this, their Novelty and Attractiveness make them a very desirable acquisition; they can every-where be used as pleasing ornaments; and, being mailable, are peculiarly adapted for presentation to friends living away from home. At the Centennial Exhibition these Maps readily obtained unqualified recognition and praise.

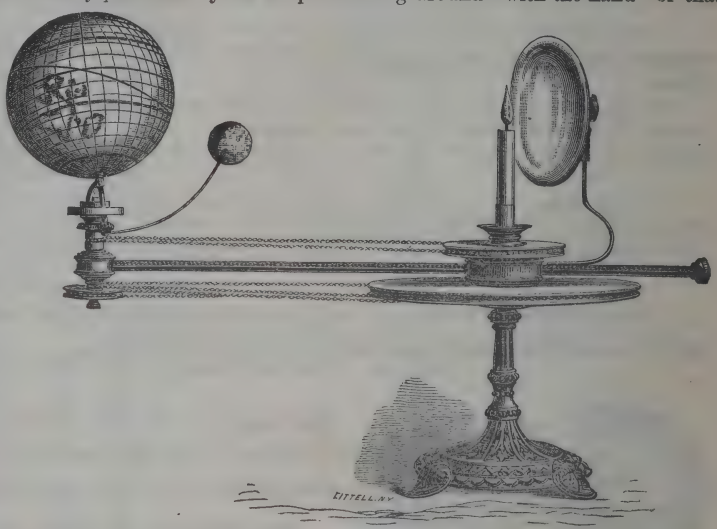
SCHEDLER'S LUNAR TELLURIAN.

The Tellurian is a valuable aid in the study of Mathematical Geography. The synchronism and regularity of the Earth's revolution on its Axis, as well as of its revolution round the Sun, and of the Moon's revolution round the Earth, may be traced and understood in every phase by this apparatus. Above all, this is the most direct and practical means of making evident to the pupil the eclipses of the Sun and the Moon, the inclination of the Earth's Axis to its Orbit, etc.



SCHEDLER'S Tellurian is the most convenient and simple, yet accurate and, withal, cheapest instrument of the kind, extant.

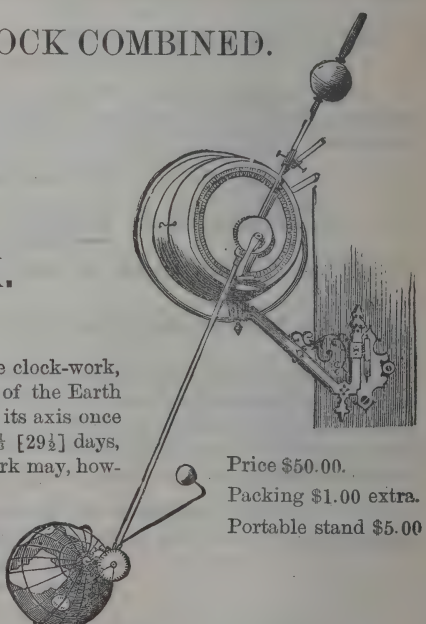
The revolutions are all easily produced by the simple moving around—with the hand—of that end of the bar which counterbalances the Globe, quickly or slowly, as may be desired.

The stand is of cast-iron; bronzed, elegant, and sufficiently heavy.

The Globe—a six-inch Terrestrial— is large enough to fully occupy its proper position as an important factor in this truthful representation of the motions of the Earth.

The Moon is covered with a map faithfully representing the wonted appearance of this satellite of the Earth.

VII M. Lunar Tellurian. On elegant cast-iron, bronzed stand, with 6" Globe of the Earth, and 1½" Globe of the Moon. Diameter of the Earth's Orbit 36". 20.00 [1.50]



TELLLURIAN AND SCHOOL-CLOCK COMBINED.

J. TROLL'S

Automatic Tellurian,

OR

ASTRONOMICAL CLOCK.

This Tellurian is so constructed that, by means of the clock-work, its movements are made to agree exactly with those of the Earth and Moon, that is to say, the Earth will revolve around its axis once in 24 hours, the Moon around the Earth once in 27⅓ [29½] days, the Earth around the Sun in 365¼ days. The clock-work may, however, be easily disconnected, and then, by means of the gearing, the astronomical phenomena can be shown as quickly as instruction in the class-room may require.

The clock (of which the above illustration shows the reverse) may be turned on the hinge so as to face the class, and will serve as a common school-clock.

Price $50.00.
Packing $1.00 extra.
Portable stand $5.00

By means of the bracket with which it is provided, TROLL'S Tellurian may be screwed on permanently, in a suitable place. A portable stand, however, will enable the proper showing of the Tellurian successively, in different places.—Full instruction as to its use may be had gratis.

THE STELLAR TELLURIAN, with Jackson's Mathematical Geography, Manual for the Instrument, Celestial Hemispheres, and Key.

The instrument is, at present, made of two sizes:

No. 1. 18 inches Diameter . . . . . 75.00 [2.00]
No. 2. 36 inches Diameter . . . . . 115.00 [3.00]

SCHEDLER'S MAPS.

Topographical Map of the ISLAND of CUBA.

Including a Plan of the City of Havana, and a Map of Central America and the West-Indies, showing the relative position of the Island of Cuba. Size of Map 23 × 34 inches. Compiled from the most reliable Spanish authorities. Carefully drawn, engraved, and printed in colors.

Folded, in paper cover, 2.00. Mounted on muslin, varnished, with rollers, 3.50.

No similar Map exists, and aside from the interest with which the ISLAND OF CUBA, the "Pearl of the Antilles", is regarded, Mr. SCHEDLER'S work is a fit ornament for any Library, Reading-Room, or Office.

Map of TURKEY and GREECE, with Special Maps of the Black Sea, Constantinople, and the Bosphorus. — Printed in three colors: black, brown (mountain), blue (water). Size, 19 × 24 inches. — Price, folded and in cover, 0.75. — Mounted on muslin, with rollers, and varnished, 1.20.

This Map comprises the whole of Turkey in Europe, Greece, the North-western and Northern portions of Asia Minor, the Caucasus, the Black Sea, Southern Russia, Roumania, Southern Hungary, etc.—With it is also given a Map showing the Relative Preponderance of Nationalities in Turkey.

Cheap Edition of the above Map of TURKEY and GREECE.

Size 19 × 24 inches. Carefully printed and colored, and having, also, the Special Maps of the Black Sea, Constantinople, and the Bosphorus—but wanting the Map of Nationalities. Price, folded and in cover, 0.25.

Map of the BLACK SEA, ASIA MINOR, the CAUCASUS, SOUTHERN RUSSIA, EASTERN TURKEY, and ROUMANIA.

Engraved on stone, and carefully printed and colored. Scale, 1 : 3,000,000. Size 22 × 28 inches.—Price, folded and in cover, 0.40.—Mounted on muslin, with rollers, and varnished, 1.20.

Topographical Map of ROUMANIA, BULGARIA, and EASTERN SERVIA, the Valley of the Danube from Milanovatz and the "Iron Gate" to the Black Sea.. With a special Map of the Seat of War in Asia Minor.—Colored. Scale, 1 : 600,000. Size, 28 × 46 inches.—Price, folded and in cover, 0,75. Mounted on muslin, with rollers, and varnished, 2.00.

This is the best and most complete War-Map published in America. It has been prepared with great care and with a view to minute accuracy, giving the location not only of all cities and towns, but also of almost all villages ; railroads and highways are distinctly shown, while many, even, of the less important roads are also indicated. The lakes, lagoons, swamps, and marshes of this region are given, and it is also very accurate and reliable in regard to all water-courses, and to mountains, hills, etc.

ATLASES and MAPS.

(NOTE. The Names on the Maps and the accompanying Text are in German, unless otherwise stated.)

Ed. Amthor and Wm. Issleib's Atlas of all Parts of the World.

24 colored Maps. In Paper cover. 0.45

R. Andree's School-Atlas of all Parts of the World.

34 Maps. In Paper cover. 0.45

H. Berghaus' Chart of the World. (Names in English.)

Containing the lines of Ocean Mail Steam Communication and Overland Routes, the International Overland and Submarine Telegraphs, and the principal courses of Sailing Vessels; presenting some Continental surface characteristics, the Ocean currents and important Deep-Sea Soundings. With 25 additional Charts and Plans showing the general currents of air, and the lines of equal magnetic variation, the Tehuantepec, Honduras, Nicaragua, Panama, Darien, and Suez Routes, several Sea-ports, the Telegraphic and Steam lines round the World. 8 Sheets, together measuring 61 × 38 inches. In sheets. 5.00

Mounted on muslin, varnished, with rollers. 8.75

The estimation in which this Chart is held, is best shown by the fact that the United States Government purchases many copies of the same for the use of Departments, etc.

Important improvements and the latest details of information have considerably enhanced the value of the Chart of the World. It is equally well adapted to the Counting-house, the School-room, and the Library. Intrinsic worth, beauty of execution, and cheapness commend it to the public.

A. Petermann's New Map of the United States.

6 Plates, together measuring 28×50 inches. In sheets. 1.50
Mounted on muslin, varnished, with rollers. 3.00

It may be fairly said that until the publication of this Map (March, 1874), there was really not one extant which fully embodied the latest results of geographical study and exploration in regard to the United States.

For the production of this excellent Map the United States authorities placed all the official material at their command at the disposal of Dr. PETERMANN.

Sohr-Berghaus' Geographical Hand-Atlas

of all Parts of the World. 100 large lithographed Maps. Strongly bound. 15.85

This is one of the most complete Atlases, and comparatively the cheapest.

K. von Spruner's Historico-Geographical Hand-Atlas.

In 3 Volumes, together containing 122 colored Maps, with many Supplementary Maps, Plans, and explanatory remarks.

I. Atlas antiquus. 31 Maps of the Ancient World, by TH. MENKE. Half Russia. 13.75

II. Historico-Geographical Hand-Atlas of the European States. From the commencement of the Middle-Ages to the present time. 73 colored Maps, with explanatory remarks. Cloth. 27.50. Half Russia. 29.50

III. Historico-Geographical Hand-Atlas of Asia, Africa, America, and Australasia. 18 colored Maps, with explanatory remarks. Cloth. 8.35. Half Russia. 9.70

A new edition of the Second Volume of SPRUNER'S Hand-Atlas, revised and enlarged by TH. MENKE, is now issuing in 23 Parts (to contain altogether 90 Maps), of which at present—July 1877—16 Parts are out. Price per Part 1.60

K. von Spruner's Historico-Geographical School-Atlas.

22 colored Maps. Cloth. 3.55

A. Stieler's Hand-Atlas of all Parts of the World.

90 colored Maps, engraved on copper. Half Russia. 27.00

This new edition of STIELER'S Hand-Atlas has but recently been completed. It is worthy of note that a very considerable proportion of all the copies issued has been taken by subscribers in the United States.—This one fact speaks sufficiently in favor of STIELER'S Hand-Atlas: it is published—under A. PETERMANN'S editorial supervision—by JUSTUS PERTHES' world-renowned cartographical establishment, of whose Maps BAYARD TAYLOR, as long ago as 1858, testified that in all parts of the world which he had visited, they had proved more correct than any others.

A. Stieler's Hand-Atlas of all Parts of the World.

Abridged Edition, containing 63 Maps only. Half Russia. 19.20
The same. A Selection of 31 Maps. Cloth. 8.35

A. Stieler's School-Atlas of all Parts of the World.

32 colored Maps, engraved on copper. Cloth. 2.10

E. von Sydow's Wall-Maps.

Chart of the World, in 2 large Planispheres. With 2 Planispheres, showing the Northern and Southern Hemisphere, and a Chart of the World on Mercator's projection. 12 Sheets. Mounted on muslin, varnished, with rollers. 7.30

Europe. Scale 1:4,000,000. 9 Sheets. Mounted on muslin, varnished, with rollers. 6.90

Australasia. On Mercator's projection. 6 Sheets. Mounted on muslin, varnished, with rollers. 5.85

The above 6 Wall-Maps are devoted to Physical Geography only, showing Mountains, Rivers, Lakes, etc.; the principal cities are merely indicated by dots; no names are given on these Maps.

H. Wagner's Wall-Map of the German Empire and adjacent Territories. Mounted on muslin, varnished, with rollers. 9.00

Fuller information regarding the above Atlases and Maps will be furnished upon application.

I would also mention that a large assortment of imported German Atlases and Maps, besides those enumerated in the foregoing list, is on hand, and that all publications of importance are added to my stock immediately on their appearance. E. Steiger.

Kindergarten Gifts

AND

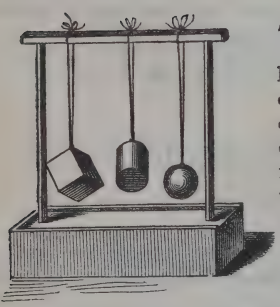
Occupation Material.

Come, let us live for our children!
FR. FRŒBEL.

The First Gift.

For the youngest children :

Six soft Balls of various colors.



Aim : to teach color (primary — red, blue, yellow — and secondary or mixed — green, violet, orange) and direction (forward and backward, right and left, up and down) ; to train the eye ; to exercise the hands, arms, and feet in various plays.

A Set, in Wooden Box, with Directions (Frœbel's First Gift for Babies), $1.00

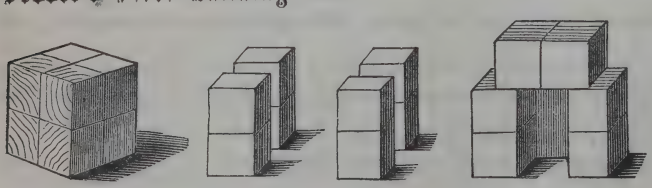
Extra Sets, of 6 Balls, $0.60

Directions for the use of the First Gift may also be found in HOFFMANN, Kindergarten Toys and how to use them. A Practical Explanation of the first six Gifts of Frœbel's Kindergarten, $0.20 and in many other publications.

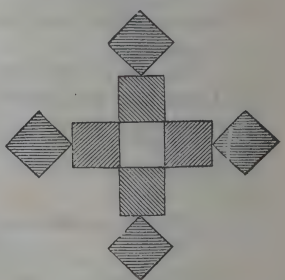
The Second Gift.

Sphere, Cube, and Cylinder.

Aim : to teach form, to direct the attention of the child to similarity and dissimilarity between objects. This is done by pointing out, explaining, and counting the sides, corners, and edges of the cubes ; by showing that the properties of the sphere, cylinder, and cube are different on account of their difference of shape ; by pointing out that the apparent form of the sphere is unchanged, from wherever viewed, but that the apparent forms of the cube and cylinder differ according to the point from which they are viewed.



The forms are of wood, machine-made for the special purpose; are neat and provided with the necessary staples and holes for hanging.



In Wooden Box, with cross-beam for hanging the forms, $0.70

For Directions see HOFFMANN, Kindergarten Toys, and other publications.

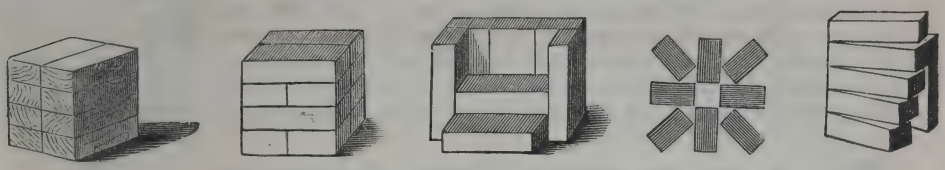
The Third Gift.

Fröbel's First Building Box.

Large Cube, divided into eight small cubes of equal size.

Aim: to illustrate form and number; also to give the first idea of fractions.

In Wooden Box, $0.30



In Wrapper, $0.30

Diagrams and Directions for using the Third Gift.

See also HOFFMANN, Kindergarten Toys, and other publications.

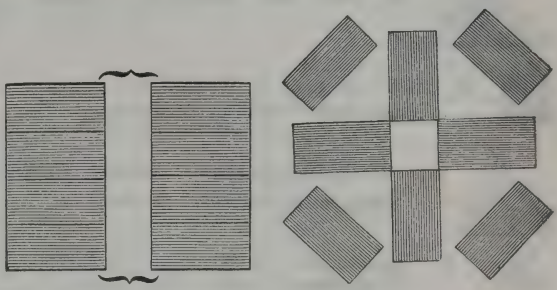
The Fourth Gift.

Fröbel's Second Building Box.



Large Cube, divided into eight oblong blocks. — The points of similarity and difference between this and the Third Gift should be indicated.

In Wooden Box, $0.30

Diagrams and Directions for using the Fourth Gift. In Wrapper. $0.30

See also HOFFMANN, Kindergarten Toys, etc.

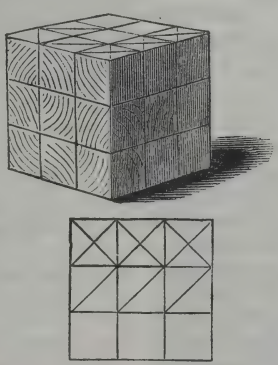
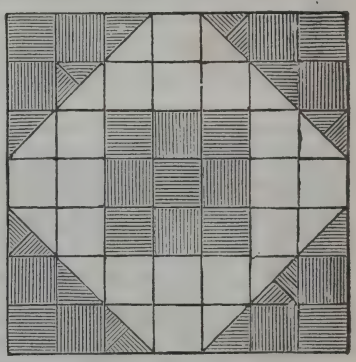
The Fifth Gift.



Fröbel's Third Building Box.



This is a continuation of, and complement to, the Third Gift. It consists of twenty-one whole, six half-, and twelve quarter-cubes, forming altogether one large Cube.

In Wooden Box, $0.75

Diagrams and Directions for using the Fifth Gift. In Wrapper, $0.60

See also HOFFMANN, Kindergarten Toys, etc.

The Fifth Gift B.

The Fifth Building Box (a combination of the Fifth and Second Gifts). In Wooden Box, $1.00

Diagrams and Directions for using the Fifth Gift B. In Wrapper, $0.50

The Sixth Gift.

Fröbel's Fourth Building Box.

This is a continuation of, and complement to, the Fourth Gift. It consists of eighteen whole oblong blocks, three similar blocks divided lengthwise, and six divided breadthwise, forming altogether one large Cube. In Wooden Box. $0.75

Diagrams and Directions for using the Sixth Gift. In Wrapper, $0.60

See also HOFFMANN, Kindergarten Toys, etc.

The Fifth Gift (FRŒBEL's Third Building Box), extra-large size, 1½ cubic feet. In strong Wooden Box, $7.20

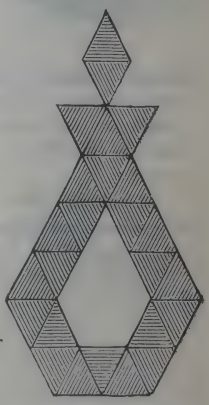
The Sixth Gift (FRŒBEL's Fourth Building Box), extra-large size, 1½ cubic feet. In strong Wooden Box. $9.00

The Seventh Gift.

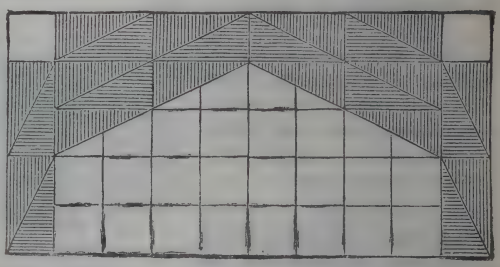
Quadrangular and triangular Tablets of polished wood. These tablets, as well as the previous Gifts, are designed for instruction in reversing the position of forms and combining them. In the six previous Gifts the child had to do with solids: by the tablets the plane surfaces are represented; these are followed by the straight line in the Eighth Gift, and the curve in the Ninth Gift.

A. Four large right-angled Triangles. In Wooden Box, $0.25

B. Eight squares. In Wooden Box, $0.30
Diagrams to same. In Wrapper, $0.40



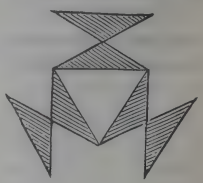
C. Nine large equilateral Triangles. In Wooden Box, $0.30
Diagrams to same. In Wrapper, $0.40



D. Sixteen isosceles Triangles. In Wooden Box, $0.30
Diagrams to same. In Wrapper, $0.40

E. Thirty-two isosceles Triangles. In Wooden Box, $0.40
Diagrams to same. In Wrapper, $0.40

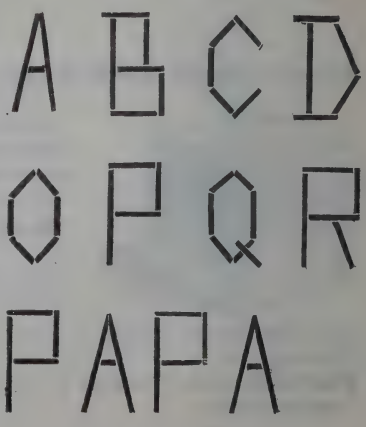
F. Fifty-four equilateral Triangles. In Wooden Box, $0.50
Diagrams to same. In Wrapper, $0.40



G. Fifty-four isosceles Triangles. In Wooden Box, $0.50
Diagrams to same. In Wrapper, $0.40

H. Fifty-six scalene Triangles. In Wooden Box, $0.60
Diagrams to same. In Wrapper, $0.40

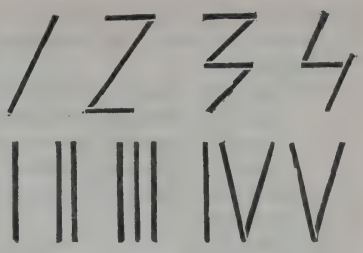
I. Sixty-four obtuse-angled Triangles. In Wooden Box, $0.60
Diagrams to same. In Wrapper, $0.40



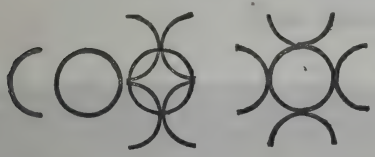
Box containing, in five divisions, Squares and the four different kinds of Triangles (of binder's board); with Diagrams, $1.60

Box with glass cover, containing, in five divisions, Squares and the four different kinds of Triangles, in finely colored and polished wood, $6.00

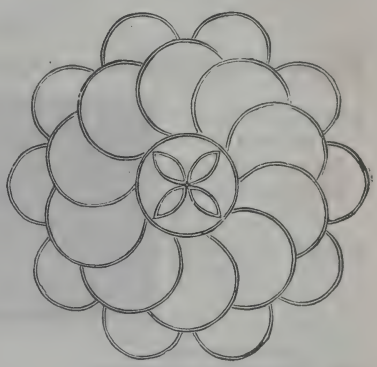
The Eighth Gift.



Sticks for Stick-laying. This Gift consists of thin wooden Sticks, about 13 inches long, to be cut into various lengths by the teacher or pupil, as occasion may require. These Sticks, like most of the previous Gifts, are designed to teach numerical proportions and forms. Stick-laying is an excellent preparation for drawing. The Multiplication Table is practically taught by means of this Gift. Reading, according to the phonetic method, is taught by imitating with these Sticks the letters of the Alphabet. In the same way the Roman and Arabic numerals are taught previous to instruction in writing.



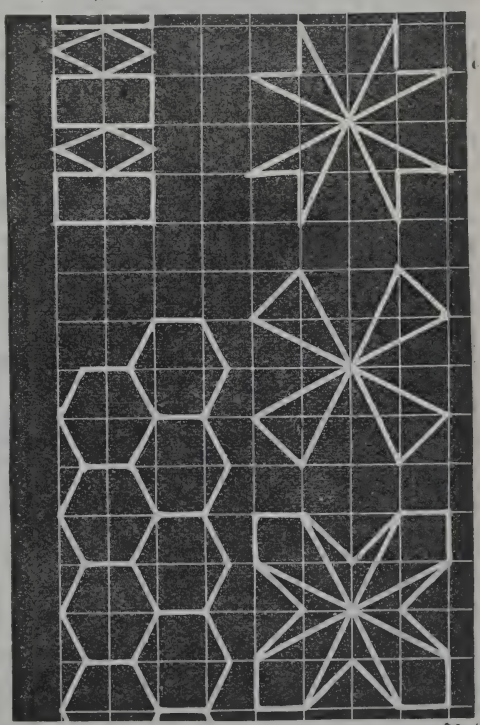
Package of 1000 Sticks, 1 inch long, $0.30
Package of 1000 Sticks, 2 inches long, $0.30
Package of 1000 Sticks, 3 inches long, $0.30



Package of 1000 Sticks, 4 inches long, $0.30
Package of 1000 Sticks, 5 inches long, $0.30
Package of 500 Sticks, 13 inches long, $0.50
Box with Sticks 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5 inches long, $0.35
Diagrams, in Wrapper, $0.30
Steiger's Designs for Stick-laying. 12 plates in Wrapper, $0.30

Frœbel's Kindergarten Occupations for the Family. No. 1. Stick-laying, $0.75

The Ninth Gift.



Rings for Ring-laying. This gift consists of whole and half Rings of various sizes, in wire, for forming figures. These Rings, like the Sticks in the Eighth Gift, are intended to teach the first elements of form as an introduction to drawing.

Box of whole and half Rings of various sizes, $0.75
Diagrams, in Wrapper, $0.60
Steiger's Designs for Ring-laying. 12 plates in Wrapper, $0.30

Frœbel's Kindergarten Occupations for the Family. No. 8. Ring-laying, $0.75

The Tenth Gift.

Drawing on Slates and Paper. The material used is, first, Slates grooved in squares, next, Paper ruled in squares. This method of beginning drawing is the most systematic and perfect ever invented for young children. It is interesting to note how rapidly, by it, even the youngest pupils advance.

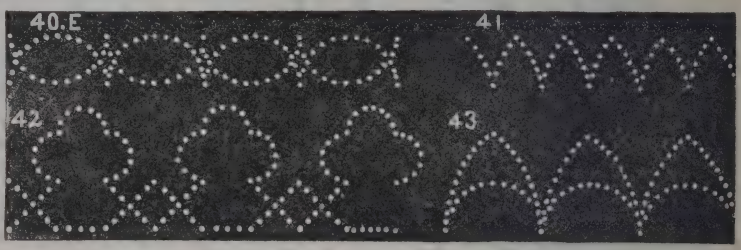
Slates, 13½ by 10 inches (No. 12), grooved in squares, ¼ inch wide, on one side, each $0.50
Slates, 12 by 9 inches (No. 9), grooved in squares, each $0.40
Slates, 10 by 7½ inches (No 6), grooved in squares, each $0.30
Slates, 8½ by 6½ inches (No. 4), grooved in squares on one side, with narrow frame, rounded corners, each $0.30
Slate pencils (fine), per doz., $0.15, per gross, $1.50
Diagrams, in Wrapper, $0.30
Drawing-Books, ruled in squares, ¼ inch wide, on both sides, each book containing 12 leaves, per doz., $0.70
Drawing-Books, ruled in squares, one-sixth inch wide, on both sides, per doz., $0.70
Paper ruled in squares, ¼ inch wide, on both sides, per quire (24 sheets), each 14 by 17 inches, $0.40
Paper ruled in squares, one-sixth inch wide, on both sides, per quire, $0.40
Lead-pencils, per doz., $0.75
Lead-pencils (fine), per doz., $0.90

K. FRŒBEL'S Elements of Designing, on the Developing System, for Elementary School Classes, and for Families, 4 Parts, each containing 24 pages ruled in squares, with designs and space for copying, each part $0.35

Part I. Straight Lines, and their Combinations.
Part II. Straight Lines, and their Combinations.
Part III. Straight Lines, and their Combinations.
Part IV. Circles and Curved Lines, and their Combinations.

Each page of given examples is followed by a blank page for the Compositions, Combinations or Inventions of the pupil.

Steiger's Designs for Net-work Drawing. 12 plates in Wrapper, $0.30



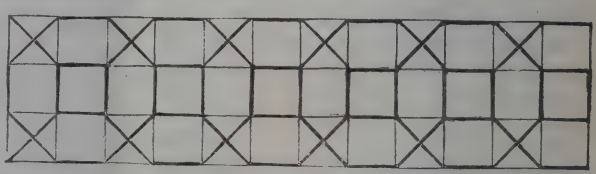
Frœbel's Kindergarten Occupations for the Family. No 2. Net-work Drawing. $0.75

The Eleventh Gift.

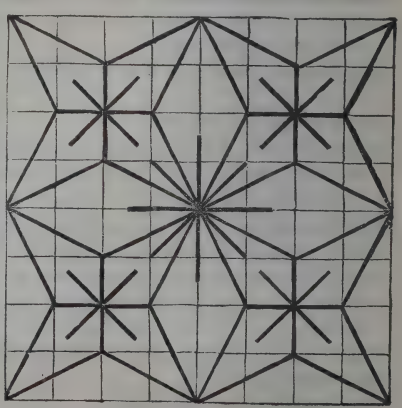
Perforating (Pricking) Paper.

A Package of 50 leaves of paper, 11 by 8½ inches, ruled in squares on one side only, $0.50

Package of same, 25 leaves, $0.30



Perforating-Needles with long handles, per doz., $0.60
Perforating-Needles with short handles, per doz., $0.60
Perforating-Needles with long black handles, per doz., $0.25
Perforating-Cushions, each $0.25, per doz., $2.40
Diagrams, in Wrapper, $0.30
Steiger's Designs for Perforating (Pricking). 12 plates in Wrapper, $0.30



Frœbel's Kindergarten Occupations for the Family. No. 3. Perforating (Pricking). $0.75

The Twelfth Gift.

Embroidering. The Perforating Material is also used in this Gift: after the pattern is perforated, it is embroidered with colored silk or worsted on cardboard.

Material for perforating and embroidering, in Wrapper, Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4, each $0.50
Card-board ruled in squares on one side, Package of 25 leaves, $0.25
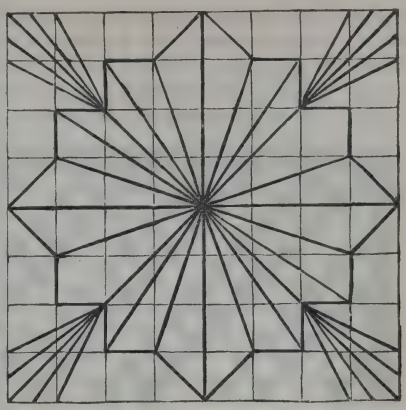
Blotting-Pad, Package of 25, $0.15
Card-Board (fine), Package of 25, $0.20
Twelve Designs, 8 by 6 inches, for perforating and embroidering, in Wrapper, Nos. 1 to 12, each, $0.50
Card-board (fine), 8 by 6 inches, to be used with these Designs, Package of 12, $0.20
Twelve Designs, 5½ by 4 inches, for perforating and embroidering, in Wrapper, Nos. 1 to 6, each $0.35
Card-board (fine), 5½ by 4 inches, to be used with these Designs. Package of 12, $0.10
Card-board in sheets, 22 by 27 inches, in various colors, per sheet $0.10 or $0.12

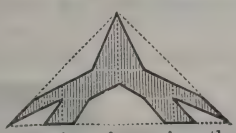


Baskets for Cards or Needle-work, embossed, for perforating and embroidering in worsted or silk, and otherwise ornamenting and making up, 3 sizes, 7, 8, and 9 inches wide, respectively. Package of 6, assorted, $0.50

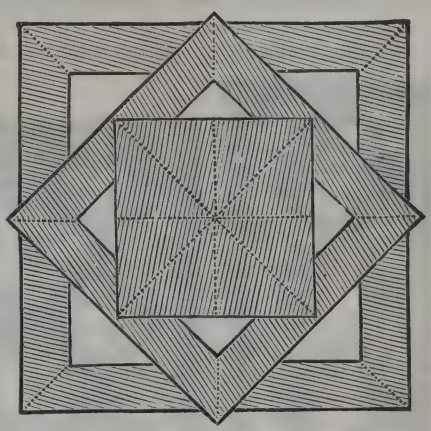
Worsted-Needles, per doz., in Wrapper, $0.15

Worsted, 12 assorted colors, with 3 Worsted-Needles, in Wrapper, $0.25

Embroidering Silk, 12 assorted colors, with 3 Needles, in Wrapper, $0.35



Steiger's Designs for Embroidering. 12 plates in Wrapper, $0.30



Frœbel's Kindergarten Occupations for the Family. No. 5. Embroidering. $0.75

The Thirteenth Gift.

Cutting Paper.

Squares or Triangles of Paper are folded, cut according to certain rules, and formed into figures. The child's inclination for using the scissors is here so ingeniously turned to account as to produce very gratifying results.

Package of 100 squares, white, $0.20

Package of 100 squares, colored, $0.20

Package of 100 squares, white and colored, mixed, $0.20

Diagrams to same, $0.75

Scissors, for Paper-Cutting, with rounded blades, per pair, $0.40 per doz. pairs, $4.00

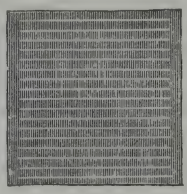
Package of 30 leaves, 9 inches square, of stout ultramarine paper, for mounting the cut figures, $0.50

Package of 30 leaves, 9 inches square, of Manilla paper, $0.30



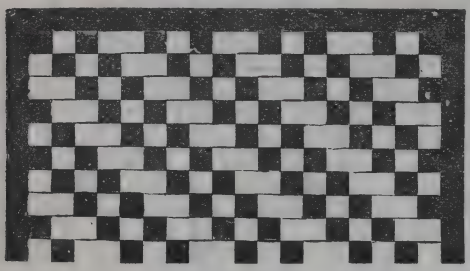
Steiger's Designs for Paper-Cutting. 12 plates in Wrapper, $0.30

Frœbel's Kindergarten Occupations for the Family. No. 10. Cutting Paper. $0.75

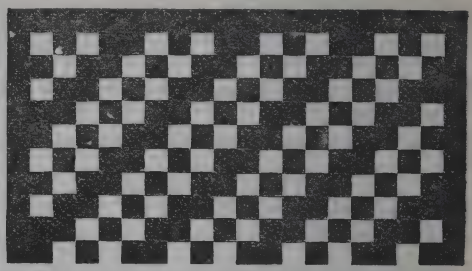
The Fourteenth Gift.

Weaving (Braiding) Paper.

Strips of colored paper are, by means, of a steel, brass, or wooden needle of peculiar construction, woven into another (differently colored) leaf of paper, which is cut into strips throughout its entire surface, except that a margin is left at each end to keep the strips in their places. A very great variety of designs is thus produced, and the inventive powers of teacher and pupil are constantly stimulated.

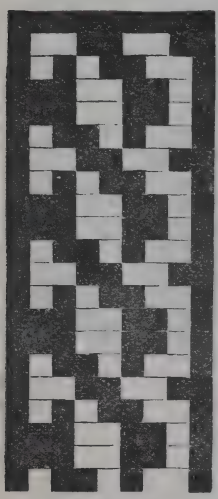


Mats, 7 by 6 inches, with slits and corresponding strips for weaving, slits ½ inch wide (No. 1), Package of 1 doz., of various colors, $0.20

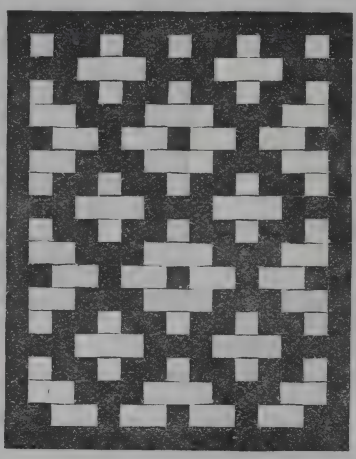


Mats, 7 inches square, slits ½ inch wide (No. 11), Package of 1 doz., $0.20

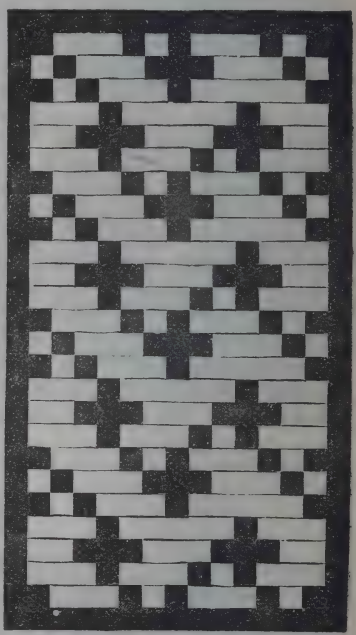
Mats, 7 by 6 inches, slits ¼ inch wide (No. 2), Package of 1 doz., $0.20



Mats, 7 inches square, slits ¼ inch wide (No. 12), Package of 1 doz., $0.20



Mats, 7 by 6 inches, slits 1–3 inch wide (No. 3), Package of 1 doz., $0.20
Mats, 7 inches square, slits 1–3 inch wide (No. 13), Package of 1 doz., $0.20
Mats, 7 by 6 inches, slits 1–6 inch wide (No. 4), Package of 1 doz., $0.20
Mats, 7 inches square, slits 1–6 inch wide (No. 14), Package of 1 doz., $0.20
Mats, 7 by 6 inches, slits 1–8 inch wide (No. 5), Package of 1 doz., $0.20



Mats, 7 inches square, slits 1–8 inch wide (No. 15), Package of 1 doz., $0.20
Mats, 7 by 6 inches, slits 1–12 inch wide (No. 6), Package of 1 doz., $0.20
Mats. 7 inches square, with alternate wide and narrow slits and corresponding strips (No. 16), Package of 1 doz., $0.20
Mats, like the foregoing—No. 16—blue and white paper only (No. 17), Package of 1 doz., $0.20

Mats, 7 by 6 inches, with alternate wide and narrow slits and corresponding strips (No. 21), Package of 1 doz., $0.20
Mats, 7 by 6 inches, in which one wide slit alternates with two narrow ones, with corresponding strips (No. 22), Package of 1 doz., $0.20

Mats 7 by 6 inches, in which one wide slit alternates with two narrow ones, with corresponding strips (No 26), Package of 1 doz., $0.20

(Note. Mats will be cut to order in quantities not less than 12 doz., of a particular kind.)

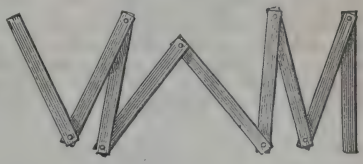
Diagrams, in Wrapper, $0.30

Wrappers, to protect the mats from creasing when left unfinished in the Kindergarten or at home, per doz., $0.60

Weaving-Needles of wood, long, per doz., $0.50
Weaving-Needles of wood, short, per doz., $0.30
Weaving-Needles of steel, per doz., $1.20
Weaving-Needles of brass, per doz., $1.20
Material for book-marks, strips 1–8 inch wide, per Package, $0.20
Material for book-marks, strips 1–4 inch wide, per Package, $0.10
Material for book-marks, strips 3–8 inch wide, per Package, $0.10
Steiger's Designs for Weaving (Braiding). 12 plates in Wrapper, $0.30

Frœbel's Kindergarten Occupations for the Family. No. 4. Weaving (Braiding). $0.75

The Fifteenth Gift.



Plaiting (Interlacing Slats). Fifty Slats, 10 inches long and $\frac{3}{8}$ inch wide, for interlacing, to form geometrical and fancy figures, $0.35 $0.75
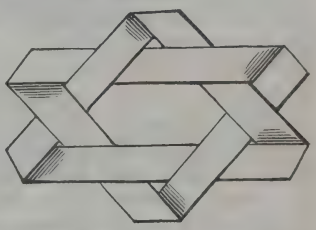
Diagrams to same,
Steiger's Designs for Plaiting. 12 plates in Wrapper, $0.30

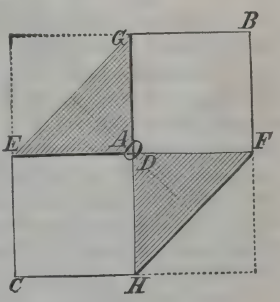
Frœbel's Kindergarten Occupations for the Family. No. 7. Plaiting (Interlacing Slats). $0.75

The Sixteenth Gift.



A Set of Jointed Slats with 9 links. per Set, $0.20
Diagrams to same, $0.30

The Seventeenth Gift.



Intertwining Paper. Paper strips of various colors, lengths, and widths, folded lengthwise, are used to represent a variety of geometrical as well as fancy forms, by plaiting them according to certain rules. Packages of Paper strips of different length and width, containing 100 each, $0.20 $0.75
Diagrams to same,
Steiger's Designs for Intertwining Paper. 12 plates in Wrapper, $0.30

Frœbel's Kindergarten Occupations for the Family. No. 9. Intertwining Paper. $0.75

The Eighteenth Gift.

Folding Paper. The material for Paper-folding consists of square, rectangular, and triangular pieces, with which variously shaped objects are formed, and the elements of geometry are taught in a practical manner. The variety is endless and prepares the pupil for many useful similar manual performances in practical life.

100 leaves, white, 4 inches square, $0.20
100 leaves, colored, 3½ inches square, $0.20
100 leaves, colored, 4 by 2 inches, $0.15
100 equilateral Triangles, white, sides 6 inches long, $0.30
100 equilateral Triangles, colored, sides 4 inches long, $0.25

The Nineteenth Gift.

Cork (or Peas) Work. Peas are soaked in water for six or eight hours, and pieces of wire, of various lengths, pointed at the ends, are stuck into them for the purpose of imitating real objects and the various geometrical figures. Skeletons are thus produced, which develop the eye for perspective drawings most successfully. Sticks belonging to the Eighth Gift are also used for this purpose.

In place of Peas many persons prefer to use small Cork Cubes.
Wires of different lengths, per Package, $0.20
Cork Cubes, per Package of 100, $0.25
Diagrams to same, $0.75
Steiger's Designs for Cork (or Peas) Work. 12 plates in Wrapper, $0.30

Frœbel's Kindergarten Occupations for the Family. No. 6. Cork (or Peas) Work. $0.75

The Twentieth Gift.

Modeling. Bees-wax, Clay, Putty, or other material, worked with a small wooden knife on a light smooth board, is used for the purpose. These materials can be bought almost every-where.

Modeling-Knives of Wood, each $0.10

Modeling-Knives of Wood, larger and better kind, each $0.20

Modeling-Boards of Wood, each $0.12

Diagrams to same, $0.75

☞ Customers will please bear in mind that the method of describing Kindergarten Gifts, etc., in this Catalogue, is that adopted in America, which differs considerably from the one used in Germany and England. It is very important to remember this when ordering the Gifts, etc. Only the first six Gifts are used in a strictly serial order, the Planes, Sticks, Weaving, and Embroidering materials being introduced at the same time as the Third Gift, so that the work of no two or three consecutive days need be alike.—The designation by numbers (No.) of various articles is entirely arbitrary, and is made solely for the purpose of enabling customers to order the exact kinds they desire to receive.—Requests to take back or exchange goods sent in conformity with orders must be declined.

Kindergarten Tables, 22 inches high, with cover of bass-wood (white-wood), marked off in squares one inch wide, nicely finished and varnished. Tables, 30 inches wide, 6 feet long, $7.50

Tables, 30 inches wide, 9 feet long, $10.00

Tables for one child, each 20 inches wide and 30 inches long, $3.00

Kindergarten Chairs, per dozen from $13.50 to $18.00

[Boxing and Shipping Expenses will be charged extra.]

The List on the foregoing pages comprises only part of my Stock of Kindergarten Gifts, Occupation Material, etc.

A very large assortment of kindred articles is on hand, and additions are incessantly made, both by importation from Europe and by domestic manufacture, so as to render mine the most complete and most extensive Repository of the kind in America.

To meet the growing demand, I offer, at a concession from the regular prices, Selections —more or less complete—of Kindergarten Gifts and Occupation Material, sufficient for a smaller number of children. As such I offer the following:

STEIGER'S Kindergarten Chest No. 1.

Wherever REFFELT'S Arithmetics become known, they are preferred to all other Arithmetics, because

1. they are simple, concise and progressive, preparing the way to the higher Arithmetical Branches more surely and intelligently;

2. they are thoroughly practical and freer from rules and matter not adapted to young minds;

3. they contain in a very limited space a greater number and variety of problems;

4. the examples are all original;

5. they give, besides the old Systems of Weights and Measures, a thorough exposition of the Metric System adopted by Congress in 1866, now taught in the National Schools of Great Britain, and in many other foreign countries;

6. they are published in four Books, or in smaller divisions (Parts), which can be procured singly, and at a very low price;

7. The several Keys to REFFELT'S Arithmetics are replete with Hints and Suggestions which must prove invaluable alike to teacher and pupil. They can be used with equal benefit in classes, or without a master.

REFFELT'S Arithmetics are extensively used; they have also been imitated, copied, and reprinted largely by German and American Authors.

It is an easy matter to write a long, difficult text-book. To write a short, easy, and satisfactory one, is exceedingly difficult.

Highly competent authorities concur in the opinion that the AHN-HENN Series of German text-books combine all the latter qualities. Moreover, they have been expressly and carefully constructed to form a thoroughly graded, well-balanced whole. Accessories have everywhere given way to essentials. The pupil has been presented with the marrow and fibre of the language taught, so as to enable him, at an early stage, to cut loose from his leading-strings.

The German Series begins with AHN's German Reading Charts (closely based upon the first part of the Rudiments), which deal with the letters of the Alphabet in every possible position and combination, in which every word used has a definite meaning, and which are printed in such large type, that with them a whole class can be taught as readily as a single pupil. Then follow AHN's Rudiments of the German Language.

This book has been entirely re-written by Dr. P. HENN, in accordance with the Course of Instruction planned by the Superintendent of Public Schools of New York City, and is designed for the lowest four grades (the 8th, 7th, 6th, and 5th) of pupils in the Public Schools, but may be used with equal advantage in all other educational institutions as well as for private instruction. [For the sake of economy and convenience, AHN'S Rudiments of the German Language has also been issued in two separate divisions, entitled: AHN'S First German Book, 64 pp. (for the 8th and 7th grades), and AHN'S Second German Book, 123 pp. (for the 6th and 5th grades).]

AHN'S Third German Book (for the 4th and 3d grades), and AHN'S Fourth German Book (for the 2nd and 1st grades) complete the Course.

AHN'S First German Reader is intended to be used simultaneously with the Third German Book, and AHN'S Second German Reader is for use with the Fourth German Book.

The chief features of AHN-HENN'S four German Books are: 1) The great ease with which they teach correct German Pronunciation. 2) The simplicity and wide range of the pieces for Translation. 3) The large number of available every-day words and phrases, and the colloquial style mainly adopted, by which German Conversation is taught from the outset. 4) The clearness and brevity of the rules, and the systematic arrangement of the whole. 5) The great variety of matter introduced, by which the pupil's attention is constantly stimulated. 6) The boldness and clearness of the type, and the great quantity of German Script introduced, part of which has been expressly cut for these books, so as to give the pupil ready command over German Handwriting.

The Readers are noticeable for their simplicity and thorough gradation, the copiousness of the Notes, and the absolute completeness of the Vocabularies.

For the convenience of teachers and private learners, Keys are issued to all the above books.

The AHN-HENN text-books for the study of German, are universally recognized to be most exceptionally adapted for use in the public schools, whilst making it possible to dispense with the services of foreign-born German 'special'-teachers.

Aided by the Keys and Reading Charts, the graduates of our Normal Schools and Colleges are enabled to teach German even more successfully than foreign-born teachers, who frequently lack a sufficient command over the English language.

The following are a few of the opinions which State Superintendents of Public Instruction have, of their own accord, communicated to the Publisher.

"Your Reading Charts and elementary books for teaching German and French to beginners, are excellent, and superior to any with which I am acquainted."

Another says: "Your AHN-HENN Series, in my judgment, is superior to all others."

Another remarks: "Your AHN-HENN rudimentary text-books of German and French form a complete and superior Series for beginners. The Charts will greatly aid the young student. The use of the Series will enable pupils to attain correct pronunciation, and will economize time, labor, and money."

☞ It is a significant fact that in the Public Schools of New York, and other large cities, AHN-HENN'S German and French rudimentary books are now being used in preference to all similar publications.

The necessity of French as a part of modern Education is admitted. The teacher requires elementary books which, whilst being thorough, shall be practical and attractive. Such they can be made only by simplicity, clearness, and concision. The AHN-HENN French rudimentary books are admitted by the best authorities to possess these qualities in a high degree.

The French Series begins with AHN'S French Reading Charts, which give the pupil a thorough drilling in French Pronunciation, from the simplest elements to the greatest difficulties. The outline type employed to show the silent letters, saves a vast amount of time and trouble to both teacher and scholars. By them a whole class can be taught simultaneously with the same ease as a single pupil. Then follows AHN'S French Primer, which deals exhaustively with French Pronunciation. This is succeeded by the First Course of the Practical and Easy Method of Learning the French Language, and by the Second Course. Then come AHN'S First French Reader and AHN'S Second French Reader.

It is unnecessary to say more than that all the qualities previously claimed for the AHN-HENN German Series, are equally claimed for the French Series, and that what is elsewhere stated of the AHN-HENN German Series, viz., that the graduates of our Normal Schools, after a short course of study, can conduct elementary instruction in German as well as native Germans themselves, is equally true of the AHN-HENN French Series for the instruction in French.

This is an elementary work, as small and concise as possible, and yet lacking nothing that is essential. It aims, throughout, to be quite as practical as the scope of the subject and the limits of a few pages allow. The plan pursued is that of laying down principles or giving definitions illustrating them and then testing the learner's knowledge of them by calling upon him to make a practical application of them. In the execution of this plan, the system of questioning, which brings directly before the pupil the essential points, has been adopted, and will, doubtless, prove a help to teachers as well as scholars.

The Educational Year-book. Edited by Henry Kiddle and Alexander J. Schem.

Like the Cyclopædia of Education, to which the Year-book will serve as an annual supplement, this is the first work of its kind in the English language, and will prove indispensable to all interested in Education.

The first volume devoted to the progress of Education during the year 1877, is now in preparation, and will appear about April, 1878. It will contain not less than 200 pp. 8vo, uniform in style with the Cyclopædia of Education, and, in addition, a very extensive Classified Descriptive Catalogue of American, British, German, French, and other foreign Publications on Education, General Philology, Works of Reference, Hand-books for Teachers, etc.—

Papers on Education: A Selection of short Articles, Essays, and Papers on Educational Topics — writings which are too small for circulation through the regular book-publishing channels, and yet so valuable as to deserve a wide distribution all over the country, at very low prices, singly or in quantities.

The Papers on Education are published by "runs," which are made up of a certain number of pamphlets in the regular order of their issue comprising in the aggregate not less than 600 pages, and furnished to subscribers for $0.50 i. e. less than cost. The Papers published thus far (June 1877) are:

1. The Science and Art of Education, and Principles of the Science of Education. By Joseph Payne. (36 pp.)
2. Teaching Color. By Norman A. Calkins. (28 pp.)
3. The Kindergarten engrafted on the American Public-School System (16 pp.)
4. Waste of Labor in the Work of Education. By P. A. Chadbourne. (20 pp.)
5. History of the Philosophy of Pedagogics. By Charles W. Bennett. (24 pp.)
6. A few Words to Parents. (8 pp.)
7. Moral Education in the Public Schools. By W. T. Harris. (24 pp.)
8. Pestalozzi, the Influence of his Principles and Practice on Elementary Education. By Joseph Payne. (24 pp.)

Single copies, or quantities, may be had of any Number. Prospectus sent on application.

NOTICE.

The undersigned is resolved to expend his best energies in the interest of Education. During the past twelve years he has been actively engaged in bringing before the Public elementary helps calculated to promote that object, as well as publications on the Kindergarten System, and books specially designed for the use of teachers and educators. These publications have been everywhere favorably received, not only for their intrinsic merits, but also on account of their mechanical execution and their very moderate prices.

Convinced that the cause of Universal Education can be largely promoted by the active interest which booksellers and publishers extend to it, the undersigned has also devoted much attention to bringing within easy reach of all persons interested, the best books, pamphlets, periodicals, etc., representing the

of this and foreign countries. Catalogues of such publications gratis on application. In this connection and with reference to the facilities now at his command, he would hereby announce to that he is willing to undertake for them the publication and sale, on commission, of books and pamphlets treating of educational matters in all their aspects and relations. Through his Catalogues, his wide-spread connections abroad, and other means, such publications will become known in America and in foreign countries, to an extent which cannot otherwise be secured.

Proposals will meet with prompt consideration.

The adoption of the AHN-HENN German and French Series saves 1) expense, 2) the time of both teacher and pupil, whilst ensuring a considerable gain in sound, practical knowledge of modern languages, sufficient for the purposes of every-day life.

The assertion is already fully borne out that thorough instruction can be imparted, with these books, in half the time required with any other series.

E. STEIGER'S CATALOGUES

enumerated hereafter are intended, on the one hand, to keep the public informed of what he has in stock in the various departments of literature; of books, therefore, which are usually on hand, and can be at once supplied. On the other hand, these Catalogues serve as a guide to the best publications in their special branches of literature, and such as are most serviceable in this country.

These Catalogues having now reached a considerable number, and being continually made more comprehensive by additions and revisions, they can, for the future as a rule, be sent only on receipt of the subjoined nominal prices, which simply cover in part the expenses of production and the prepayment of postage.

These books are now in use in all the dioceses and are rapidly coming into general favor.

Bishop WHIPPLE says:—"They supply a great want, and I believe the reverent and churchly way of presenting the truth will commend them to pastors and teachers."

Bishop WILLIAMS says:—"I am happy very cordially to recommend the numbers thus far published of 'The Complete System of Sunday School Instruction,' arranged by the Rev. O. Witherspoon."

Bishop CLARKSON says:—"I have never seen any instruction books for Sunday Schools that have pleased me so much as those you have set forth. They supply in my opinion, fully and satisfactorily, one of the greatest wants of the Church. I have determined to recommend them in my annual address to my Council, and, as far as my influence goes, to have them adopted as the uniform instruction system in the Sunday Schools of my Diocese."

Bishop COXE says:—"Mr. Witherspoon's Course of Instruction for Sunday Schools has many original features, which, in my opinion, meet acknowledged wants."

Bishop ARMITAGE says:—"I very gladly assure you that I consider it the best series we have yet had in the Church, supplying in some points what we have never been able to get by the use of the books of various writers."

SCHOOL BOOKS.

Baker's Brief System of Drawing. By E. K. Baker, Teacher of Drawing in the Public Schools of Buffalo. A thoroughly graded, economical, comprehensive and scientific course in drawing, adapted to all schools, both public and private; consisting of—

Baker's Complete Drawing Book, with full and explicit rules for plane and object drawing,..$0.20
Baker's Drawing Models, No. 1, Line Drawing, 1st Series,..... .20
Baker's Drawing Models, No. 2, Line Drawing, 2d Series,..... .20
Baker's Drawing Models, No. 3, Object and Perspective, 1st Series,..... .20
Baker's Drawing Models, No. 4, Object Drawing, 2d Series,..... .20
Baker's Drawing Models, No. 5, Object Drawing, 3d Series,..... .20

This system of Drawing has been taught in the Public Schools of Buffalo during the past seven years with satisfactory results. The most unqualified recommendations from Superintendents and Teachers can be furnished on application to the Publisher. Each packet of models contains a card with definite directions for drawing each figure, and those wishing to learn to draw without a master will find the instructions full and complete.

Berry's Analysis and Parsing Book; or, Analysis and Parsing in Tabulated forms. By J. Berry, A. M..... .40

The object of this Manual is to reduce Parsing and the Analysis of Sentences to a system at once rational and comprehensive, yet simple and attractive to the learner. It is claimed that the author has accomplished this by means of a series of Analytical Parsing Tables which furnish the model for analyzing and parsing any sentence in the language.

The work also contains numerous extracts from the best writers. Teachers will find them the most valuable collection of grammatical exercises ever published. It may be used with any grammar.

From the late Prof. James Hadley, of Yale College.

The plan of your work (Berry's Analysis and Parsing Book) is well considered and thoroughly worked out. To teachers and learners it will be a valuable aid in the systematic analysis of English sentences.

Berry's Elementary Grammar. (In preparation.)

Klein's Rudiments of German Etymology. A necessary appendix to every German Class Book. By HENRY KLEIN, A. M., ... $0.50

This book renders the elements of the German Grammar in the very plainest, easiest and most concise manner, and is admirably adapted for beginners.

Pomeroy's Introductory Spelling Book. A Manual of Spelling for Primary Classes in Schools and Academies. By E. C. POMEROY, ... .20

Attention is called to three prominent features of this work: 1st. It is purely a manual of spelling. 2d. It contains most of the monosyllabic words arranged in simple progressive lessons. 3d. The words are printed in large, plain type, thus rendering the task of learning to spell easy and attractive to children.

Pomeroy's Introductory Reading Book. An Illustrated Primary Reader for Schools. By E. C. POMEROY, ... .40

The Nursery Reading Book. Beautifully Illustrated, 16mo, cloth, ... .75

This little book is admirably adapted for home instruction.

Great Joy comprises his Chicago Sermons, from The Inter-Ocean Reports, with Life and Portrait of P. P. BLISS. 528 pages. Extra Cloth, Beveled Boards, $2.

To All People comprises his Boston Sermons, from The Globe Reports, with Life and Portrait of IRA D. SANKEY. 528 pages. Extra Cloth, Beveled Boards, $2.

Each volume is complete in itself, and entirely different in matter, with Index to Anecdotes. Uniform in style.

The Angels' Song Library consists of the above three volumes (Moody's Complete Sermons) in a substantial box. Specially designed for Sunday-Schools, Pastors, and Home Libraries. They comprise upwards of TWO HUNDRED SERMONS, &c., and over sixteen hundred Anecdotes and Illustrations, alphabetically indexed. Nine Portraits and Illustrations. Sold only in sets. Price, $4.50.

Our National Centennial Jubilee.—Comprising upwards of one hundred select Orations and Poems delivered in every State of the Union on the one hundredth anniversary of American Independence, by Hon. William M. Evarts, Rev. Dr. Storrs, Henry Ward Beecher, Charles Francis Adams, Robert C. Winthrop, Horatio Seymour, George William Curtis, Gen. John A. Dix, Robert G. Ingersoll, Rev. Dr. Collyer, Wm. C. Bryant, J. G. Whittier, Bayard Taylor, and others,—issued under the auspices of the respective authors,—forms an authorized and enduring monument of that memorable epoch. "Not for an age, but for all time."—Shakspeare. Edited by F. SAUNDERS, A.M., Librarian of the Astor Library.

Nearly 900 octavo pages. Price, $3.50. Library Edition, Half Morocco, $4.50.

American Progress.—A Ready Reference Manual of National Facts and Figures—Historical, Statistical, Financial, Documentary, Biographical, Political, &c., from the Discovery of America to the Present Time. Edited by Rev. E. O. HAVEN, D.D., LL.D., Chancellor of Syracuse University, N. Y., late President Northwestern University, Illinois, and formerly President of the Michigan (Ann Arbor) State University.

Great care and thorough investigation have been devoted to its preparation, and we offer it to the American public as the most complete and reliable non-partisan record of our nation's progress.

In one large 12mo volume of about 500 pages. Illustrated. Price, $2.

Our Home Physician.—The New Handy Book of Family Medicine. By GEORGE M. BEARD, A.M., M.D., late of the University of the City of New York, assisted in the various departments by the leading medical men of the metropolis. This is a new work, written up to date, immensely superior to all family medical works ever written, and is not the hobby of any particular School of Medicine, but is based on the principle that the wise physician of our times uses for his patients all things that have proved to be beneficial. It gives causes, symptoms, and remedies for every known disease. It contains all the newest remedies and discoveries in medical science, tells what to do and how to do it, in every emergency. Over three years have been devoted to its careful preparation. Quackery, humbuggery, and old-fogy dogmas exposed. Its value is attested by thousands who have saved money, health, and life.

"The best work on the subject ever published."—N. Y. Medical Record. "A work of great value to every family in the land."—Scientific American. "A valuable companion in the family."—L. J. Sanford, M.D., Prof. Yale College.

1067 octavo pages. Fully illustrated. Price, in Cloth, $5; Full Sheep, Library Edition, $6.

The Farmers' and Mechanics' Manual.—Edited by GEO. E. WARING, Jr. This is a practical book, designed for the every-day use of Farmers, Mechanics, Artisans, and Working-Men of every trade and occupation. It gives more reliable information, better arranged, and in less space, than any work of its class ever published. It is complete in every particular in which it is possible for such a book to be complete, and containing more that has been proven by long use to be of value, than any other that has ever been presented to Farmers and Mechanics. "It is a sound, honest, instructive publication, doing all which it professes to do, and is full of information suited to put money into the purse of the Farmers and Mechanics who consult its pages."—New York Tribune.

"It abounds in valuable information to the Farmer and Mechanic, and, indeed, to nearly every one,—information which is usually scattered through many books."—New Orleans Picayune.

22,000 sold. 500 octavo pages. 211 Illustrations. Price, $3; Embossed Morocco, $3.50.

Sacred Heroes and Martyrs.—Hon. J. T. HEADLEY'S New Illustrated Biblical Work, written in the author's happiest style, and surpassing his former works that have sold by the 100,000, with Steel Engravings from designs by our artist, who has spent three years in Bible Lands. Rev. E. J. GOODSPEED, D.D., Chicago, says: "Our old favorite, who wrote so graphically of the Sacred Mountains, has given us another volume of a similar character. His gorgeousness of imagery revels and is at home among the mighty men and sublime landscapes of the ancient past. A soberer pen would fail to reproduce the men and their surroundings in just proportions and coloring. We welcome, therefore, and heartily commend this noble volume, with its fresh illustrations, clear type, and handsome binding, hoping that our dear old Bible, ever new, because so human and yet divine, and hence adapted to our profoundest necessities, may become yet more thoroughly understood and universally read."

600 octavo pages. Green and Gold Binding. Price, $3.50; Full Gilt, $4; Full Morocco, $6.

The Devil in History; or, The Footprints of Satan.—A New Book. By Rev. HOLLIS READ, A.M., late Missionary of the American Board to India; author of "God in History," &c. Comprising the Origin, Character, Influence, and Power of Satan, with historical outlines of his work in the abuse and perversion of every good, as shown in the ruinous effects of the apostasy in the affairs of the world, from Adam's fall, through Bible times, the early Church, the Middle Ages, to the present day. The work, in scope and character, is original; and, in matter of fact, has the freshness of a novel,—"not fictitious, yet stranger than fiction."—Rev. THEO. L. CUYLER, D.D., says: "It is a unique and valuable book."—Rev. T. DE WITT TALLMAGE, D.D., says: "May all the world see Mr. Read's book, and profit by its exposures."—President PORTER, of Yale College, says: "Footprints of Satan is a fearful book."—Bishop HARRIS, of the M. E. Church, says: "It contains a startling array of facts and figures."

Illustrated from designs by the celebrated GUSTAVE DORE, NAST, of Harper's Weekly, and others.

550 octavo pages. In Cloth, $3; Extra Cloth, Gold and Black, $3.50; Library Style, Full Sheep, $4.

The Bright Side of New York.—An Illustrated Library of Information pertaining to the grand and beautiful of the Great Metropolis. By Rev. J. F. RICHMOND, seven years city missionary. A book of solid historic facts and incidents; thrilling, without being sensational; full of absorbing interest to the resident and to those who have visited the city, as well as to those who can only read of it. Its 220 superb engravings of public buildings, institutions, and views, produced at a cost of $10,000, make a very attractive and instructive book.

"As a manual for residents and guide-book for strangers it is unequalled, and it supplies a place hitherto entirely vacant."—N. Y. Observer. 600 octavo pages. Elegantly bound. Price, $3; Full Sheep, Library Edition, $4.

The Great Riots of New York.—By Hon. J. T. HEADLEY, author of "Napoleon and his Marshals," "Sacred Mountains," &c. Comprising historical accounts of the causes and results, with thrilling descriptions of incidents, scenes, and daring deeds of the days of terror in New York, from the Slave Riots of Colonial Times to the present day, including a full and complete account of the four days' draft riots of 1863, written with that power, grandeur, and soul-stirring style peculiar to our distinguished author. The New York Observer says: "Mr. Headley has given their history in his usual graphic style. It will be sure to find readers."

360 pages. Crown Octavo. Illustrated. Price, $2.

The Life of General and Ex-President U. S. Grant.—The best, most reliable, and Standard Life of the Great Chieftain. New and enlarged edition. By Hon. J. T. HEADLEY, the distinguished historian of "Washington and his Generals," "Napoleon and his Marshals," &c. The details regarding the early life of the General are full and accurate, and the account of his military career is written with that skill and power which long since secured for Mr. Headley the foremost position among American historical writers.

In one large volume, 458 pages. Handsomely Illustrated. Price, $2.50.

Grant and Sherman and their Generals.—By Hon. J. T. HEADLEY. Comprising the Life and Times of Generals Grant, Sherman, Sheridan, Thomas, Hooker, Meade, Burnside, Rosecrans, Howard, Hancock, Gilmore, Sedgwick, Sigel, McPherson, Kilpatrick, Slocum, Logan, Schofield, Hazen, McClernand, Terry, Warren, and others. 606 pages, with 30 steel portraits, battle-scenes, and maps. The four years of civil war of the United States created a history, the records of which are full of heroes and heroic deeds, and Mr. Headley, of all writers, was perhaps best qualified to portray the stupendous features of the mighty contest.

In German at same price. Cloth Binding, $3.50; Library Style, Full Sheep, $4.50; Half Calf, Antique, $5.50.

Farragut and Our Naval Commanders.—By Hon. J. T. HEADLEY. The only work of Naval Biographies of the Rebellion. Comprising the Life and Times of Admirals Farragut, Porter, Foot, Dupont, Stringham, Davis, Goldsborough, Wilkes, Winslow, Dahlgren, Paulding, Worden, Cushing, Bailey, Boggs, Blake, Rowan, Smith, Rogers, Thatcher, Palmer, Jenkins, Bell, Drayton, Craven, and others. 608 pages, and 22 steel portraits and battle-scenes. Written in Mr. Headley's graphic and inimitable style, with an authentic account of Battles, Sieges, and Bombardments, including the recent discoveries in conducting Naval Warfare by Gunboats and Iron-Clad Vessels. The Norwich Bulletin says: "It will be read with interest and pleasure by thousands of Americans." Cloth Binding, $3.50; Library Style, Full Sheep, $4.50; Half Calf, Antique, $5.50.

The Boys in Blue; or, Heroes of the Rank and File.—Comprising Incidents and Reminiscences from Camp, Battlefield, and Hospital, with Narratives of the Sacrifice, Sufferings, and Triumphs of the "Soldiers of the Republic." By Mrs. H. A. HOGE, of the U. S. Sanitary Commission, Chicago. With an Introduction by T. M. EDDY, D.D. The story Mrs. Hoge relates is one of most thrilling interest. She confines herself to incidents which passed under her own observation, and these she weaves together with wonderful skill and effect. Nearly 500 octavo pages. Illustrated. Cloth Binding, $3; Cloth, Gilt Edge, $3.50.

The Life and Times of General R. E. Lee.—With a full Record of the Battles and Heroic Deeds of his Companions-in-Arms—"Names the world will not willingly let die." By EDWARD A. POLLARD. Handsomely embellished with 30 lifelike Steel Engravings, and a truthful representation of the Conflagration of Richmond. The Biography of Gen. R. E. Lee is here given, replete with facts of interest never before published, and obtained from the most authentic sources. Besides which there are about fifty Biographies (names dear to each part of the former Confederacy). It is from the pen of Virginia's most gifted author, and is in all respects the most finished, accurate, and complete work of Biographies ever issued. Nearly 900 pages. The New Orleans Times says: "We can recommend this work as the best that has appeared on the Southern side since the war. It should be found in every household where its members believe that earth knows no prouder fame than to be a countryman of Lee and Stonewall Jackson." In substantial Cloth Binding, Gilt Back, $3.75; Embossed Morocco, $5.

The Lost Cause.—A Complete Southern History of the War. By E. A. POLLARD, of Virginia. Containing a full and authentic account of the rise and progress of the late Southern Confederacy, the Campaigns, Battles, Incidents, and Adventures of the most gigantic struggle of the world's history, with 24 Steel Portraits. The counterpart of 28 Northern Histories, patronized by thousands eager to hear "the other side." Not only in this country, but in Canada and throughout Europe (having been reproduced in foreign languages), has its character been established as the Standard Southern History of the War, and the greatest literary success of the age.

762 royal octavo pages, Cloth Binding, $5; Library Style, Full Sheep, $6; Half Calf, Antique, $8.

Wearing of the Gray.—By JOHN ESTEN COOKE, of Virginia. Comprising Personal Portraits, Sketches, Adventures, and Incidents of the late War, with thrilling narratives of the Daring Deeds and Patient Sufferings of the "Boys in Gray." The author writes as an eye-witness and participant, and not as one compiling facts from books. The New Orleans Times says: "The work abounds in graphic descriptions, hair-breadth escapes, lively anecdotes, and such other matter as can not fail to prove attractive to the general reader."

600 pages. Beautifully illustrated. Cloth binding, $4; Library Style, Full Sheep, $5.

Echoes from the South.—Comprising the most important Confederate Government Documents, Speeches, and Public Acts emanating from the South during the late struggle; from official sources. One volume, 12mo., 211 pages. Price $1.25.

Illustrated New York and Brooklyn; Treat's.—A new Pictorial Sketch-Book and STRANGERS GUIDE to the grand and beautiful of the Great Metropolis and its suburbs. "It is a treat to look through it."—N. Y. Weekly Witness. "The most complete work of its kind."—Christian Advocate. "The very best guide we have seen."—Christian-at-Work. 100 first-class Engravings and an Outline Map of 20 miles around New York; a Street Map and a Map of Central Park. On tinted paper, handsomely bound. Price 50 cents.

Centennial Games of American History on 60 cards, comprising the names of Presidents, Vice-Presidents, and their Rival Candidates, with popular and electoral votes of each; Cabinet Officers; history, rank, and population of all the States and Territories; and the leading historical event of each year for 100 years, with which 50 new and instructive GAMES may be played. "Exceedingly attractive for amusement in the family circle."—American Agriculturist. "They stand without a rival in the home circle."—PHILIP PHILLIPS, Singer. In an elegant box. Price, 75 cents.

The Ten Plagues of Egypt.—A charming Bible History Pastime. By Rev. J. S. OSTRANDER. Each step is typical of the Hebrew bondage. "Something new in the line of innocent, amusing, and instructive games for the home circle."—N. Y. Christian Advocate. Four games, with 40 Illustrated Cards, in a neat box. Price, 50 cts.

A Commemorative Record of our Centennial Anniversary.

This work groups together the choicest of the eloquent and patriotic Orations, Addresses and Poems, delivered in the several States of the Union, July 4th, 1876, issued under the auspices of the Authors themselves;—the documents having been submited to their critical supervision;—forms an authorized and enduring monument of that memorable epoch;—

EDITED BY F. SAUNDERS, LIBRARIAN OF THE ASTOR LIBRARY.

Among these clustered flowers of rhetoric, will be found many of singular beauty and grace, forming as they do a many-hued garland of rare excellence, worthy of the occasion which celebrates the festival and fruitage of our first century. They most strikingly illustrate the freedom of opinion, characteristic of our country, with representative orations, from White and Black, Jew and Christian, Protestant and Catholic, and even the aboriginal Redman of the frontier.

Cloth Binding.....$3.50. | Morocco Binding.....$4.50.

Seen and Heard. POEMS OR THE LIKE. By MORRISON HEADY. Cloth, side stamps in gold. $1.50.

Mr. Heady's poems have much in them to attract, and will no doubt find their way to many firesides.—Gazette, Baltimore.

. . We feel no hesitation in pronouncing Mr. Heady a poet of true genius, and no mean skill in his art; whose works would under every circumstance attract notice and deserve praise; but which, considering the deprivations under which the author suffers, are little less than wonderful. We should not do entire justice to this book were we to omit to notice the extreme elegance of its dress and general finish, on which the publishers seem to have spared neither care nor cost.—Statesman, Baltimore.

. . The art of the printer has fitly set these jewels. No one need fear to purchase lest he buy pinchbeck for gold, or paste for diamonds. . . Those loving true poetry will buy the volume and read for themselves. The enjoyment we guarantee.—Gazette, Lexington.

. . All of them display considerable poetic power, and even if not issued under its peculiar circumstances, which lend additional interest, the work would be worth while as one of the best collections of amateur poetry made for some time. The elegance of the paper, typography, and binding, are worthy of notice.—Evening Mail, New York.

. . While it is not sufficient to justify us in believing that a Tennyson is likely to come out of this beginning, still there is much in the volume equal to many things Tennyson has written. . . . "The Double Night" has a melancholy interest, when we remember that the author lost his sight when about sixteen, which calamity was soon aggravated by the loss of hearing also. The poem contains many beautiful and tender passages. "The Apocalypse of the Seasons" is not unworthy of a more pretentious author.—Christian Standard, Cincinnati.

. . But it is in "Yoonemskota," an Indian idyl, that Mr. Heady shows himself to be a poet of original and varied powers. Here we have the Indians, and their haunts, and their ways of life, the seasons and their phenomena, all the varying aspects of nature, limned with rare freshness, force, and fidelity, aglow with striking and highly poetic imagery, and evincing no common mastery of rhythmical harmony and variety of movement. There are scenes or situations in this poem so uncommonly fresh and vivid in conception and handling, as would furnish worthy subjects for the greatest living painters. . . He is certainly no "mute, inglorious Milton." Only one of a very rare order of endowments could have written these poems in Mr. Heady's affliction.—Picayune, New Orleans.

. . There is much of the spirit of true poety in his writings, which, under the circumstances, are remarkable productions.—Observer, New York.

. . While we may be actually astonished that Mr. Heady should have composed at all, we cannot, in spite of this, say that the work has not been well done. . . Among those to whose notice they are brought, they will be found peculiarly sympathetic, while the vivid descriptions of scenes that he saw more than twenty years ago are something wonderful.—Courier, Chicago.

. . Notwithstanding these afflictions, he managed to acquire such an education as brings him before the world as an author of no insignificant pretensions, and has even invented and constructed with his own hands a writing machine, through which he communicates with his friends.—Mail, Hagerstown.

. . Though laboring under the difficulties of silence and darkness, Mr. Heady has established his success as a poet with all those whose opinion is worth having.—City Item, Philadelphia.

. . . It is hard to conjecture from whence his poetical inspiration is derived, or how he is enabled to find expression in such fitting language, and yet the fact remains that many poems in this volume would be remarkable if the author had spent a life-time among books and bibliopolists.—Journal, Indianapolis.

. . "The Double Night," which is pathetically inscribed to the shades of Milton and Beethoven, both, as readers will remember, blind sweepers of the lyre, is, in parts, imaginative and facile; and although it prefigures most of the contents that succeed, in a certain sombreness of tone, it is far from being commonplace.—Times, New York.

. . As it is, we can hardly read without tears "The Double Night" or "Blindness." Perhaps it is a sympathetic fancy; but these verses that are wrought out of the author's personal experience, are to us the best in the volume.—Harpers' Monthly.

. . We next turn to "The End of Time," an unparalleled poem, which in awful grandeur and sublimity, exceeds anything we ever read before.—Spencer Journal, Taylorsville.

. . . These poems exhibit a power of personification equal to that of Shelley, a delicacy and truthfulness of touch in word-painting that imparts to their descriptions of nature a life-likeness, reminding us of Keats' Eve of St. Agnes, and a liquid melody of verse that ripples through their gloomy but gorgeous scenery of imagination like rills through autumn-tinted forests.—Episcopal Methodist, Balto.

. . . That under this double deprivation he should have produced poetry marked by so many vivid passages of description, is truly remarkable.—Catholic World.

. . . In the present volume we have not only a work of merit, but of extraordinary merit. It is a rare production, evincing keen perceptions, clear and lucid thoughts, a royal imagination, and wonderful rhetorical power. There is not an indifferent or commonplace piece in the whole book, but all are excellent; and there is not a thought or line that does not show the purest and most aesthetic moral instincts. Taste, judgment, virtue, and religion will all be gratified in reading of the precious treasure.—Shelby Sentinel.

. . The dedication of these poems is so short, quaint and poetic, that we cannot refuse it to our readers:

To My Friends—
And ye be my friends who read this book—
I dedicate whatsoever of excellence or beauty
Ye may chance to find therein;
To oblivion the rest.

We have entitled ourselves to be written the author's friends, since we have read his book; and we have seldom been so well pleased with a volume of verse. Mr. Heady is a true poet. He looks back through the vista of his youthful years, and beholds earth as Wordsworth saw it through the boy eyes, ere yet its loveliness had faded "into the light of common day":

And by the vision splendid
Is on his way attended.

The heaven of infancy still lies about him, and peoples his mind with the subtle music and buoyant hopefulness of its spring-time, whence his matured judgment selects a beautiful profusion of images of fadeless beauty. . . . Yet we affirm that Mr. Heady is a poet in the noblest aspect of the name; and that our readers may be enabled to judge for themselves, we will here transcribe such passages from his volume as our space will allow. These extracts must necessarily be brief, and can but serve as imperfect examples of the harvest.—Courier Journal, Louisville.

. . . The author, Mr. Heady, is a poet in the fullest sense of the words. He has the keenest perception of truth, of beauty, and of wisdom. His command over language is extraordinary. His versification and rhythm are inimitable. His words seem ever to come winged and obedient to his call. In no instance does he allow conceit to take the place of thought. There is nothing commonplace or conventional about him.—Sunday Times, Louisville.

The Moneyless Man, AND OTHER POEMS. By HENRY T. STANTON. $1.75.

Mr. Stanton's poems have rare grace and finish, and we predict that this book will occupy a front rank among the collections of American poets.—Mercury, Carlisle.

. . . Stanton is a writer of rare genius and promise, and the only regret we have is that he does not write more.—Southern Shield.

. . Two of the greatest poets of the age belong, at this hour, to Kentucky; namely, Morrison Heady and Henry T. Stanton. We have never read anything from Tennyson that we like so well as Heady's "Double Night," and the "Apocalypse of the Seasons" far transcends the choicest strains of Thomson. Stanton is even a sweeter poet than Longfellow. Some of his poems slip into the mind like dew into a flower-cup. "Moneyless Man," and "Charity," and "Fallen," are positive reinforcements to benevolence. No one can read them without a kindlier feeling for the race. We stake our literary judgment upon the statement that no one will be disappointed in the contents of this volume, and all must be pleased with its mechanical execution.—Free Mason.

. . Many critics pronounce Mr. Stanton the best and most finished poet this country has produced. . . . He is a natural poet, combining beauty, pathos, and exquisite sentiment.—The Enterprise.

. . "The Moneyless Man" has had a great run. It struck the heart of the people, and has become widely known. We do not think it, however, the best of Mr. Stanton's work. The poem, "Type and Time," is, in our opinion, better; and several of the shorter pieces are as good.—Commercial, Louisville.

. . . The poem which gives title to the book has been read and admired wherever the English language is spoken; and had its author written no more, it would have given his name to posterity as a true poet. "Fallen," one of the author's early productions, touches all hearts with its exquisite pathos; while the "Nasturtium Flower," in the delicate beauty of its conception and rhythm, recalls the musical verse of Keats.—Glasgow Times.

. . To a facility and faultlessness of rhyme, he combines the faculty of expressing a thought or evolving a sentiment so naturally, that even those of his productions which evince the most thorough acquaintance with the art, are void of all semblance of effort, and breathe the very inspiration of true poetry.—Yeoman, Frankfort.

. . The characteristics of Major Stanton's poetry are smoothness of rhythm, a pleasing selection of harmonious measure, vigorous and well sustained imagination, and as deep and tender appreciation of the sufferings and sorrows of his fellow-man. The book is handsomely printed on tinted paper and tastefully bound.—People, Kentucky.

. . Those who have read the published poems of Mr. Stanton will not need to be told that he has poetic genius of the highest order, which, with beauty and aptness of expression, grace of diction, and a heart-soulness, so to speak, of sentiment, renders him a valuable laureate in the poetic brotherhood.—Commonwealth, Frankfort.

. . We hardly know which to suggest as the best, when all alike are good and perfect, and we can't select.—Sun, Louisville.

. . His "Moneyless Man" is an immortal poem, and will make the name of the author live forever in the chronicles of literature.—Good Templar's Advocate.

. . The subject of the leading poem is very repulsive. The Moneyless Man, under this reign of Mammon, has little to attract to him. A moneyful man, with a heart as black and dry and blasted as a crater, does attract. Money and fool, together, make good pinchbeck for wisdom. Money and selfishness, variously compounded, make many oroide combinations for respectability and reputation. But a moneyless man! who cares for him but God, who, when upon earth, was moneyless too? So the poet thinks; and so he has touchingly and beautifully said it. There are a number of fine little poems in this volume—a collection of fugitive pieces, evidently written in the ephemeral vein, but too good to be permitted to perish in the ashes of newspapers. Some of the pieces are very beautiful in sentiment and expression, and manifest a poetic talent worthy of careful cultivation.—Baltimore Christian Advocate.

Studies in Literature. By G. W. GRIFFIN. 12mo. $1.25.

There are twenty sketches in this neat and modest volume. Some are biographical, some critical, and some descriptive. All are gracefully written, thoughtful and suggestive.—Herald and Presbyter, Cincinnati.

A considerable portion of this work is devoted to a memoir of Geo. D. Prentice, to whom the author bore intimate personal relations, and from whom we would naturally expect to learn much of the social character of that wonderful man. In this our expectations are more than realized. The American people are indebted to Mr. Griffin for this sketch. The fame and genius of Mr. Prentice are their property, and in their presentation and preservation they have an interest . . Its rarest merit is its suggestiveness. All criticism must be more or less so, and amateurs in literature, reading the author's sketches and critiques, will insensibly desire to know more of his subjects. Mr. Griffin never seems to have exhausted himself in any article; and in any book the consciousness of the author's reserved power is pleasing. The book gives the elements of various subjects, interests you in them, and creates a desire to know more.—Christian Observer.

. . Mr. Griffin is a painstaking worker at belles-lettres, and possesses that keen, susceptible and sensitive organism out of which critical stuff is chiefly made.—Louisville Courier Journal.

. . These various topics are treated with an intelligent, discriminating and critical taste that evinces a gratifying degree of culture, analysis and reflection; and the book cannot but be very acceptable to the readers of the better classes, whose acquirements render them capable of appreciating the manner in which the subjects are discussed.—Louisville Courier Journal.

. . Mr. Griffin wields a pen of rare grace and delicacy. Being a finished rhetorician, and familiar in all the haunts of rich language, his essays are rhythmical and without fault. He was the close friend of Geo. D. Prentice during his declining years, and was one of the few persons present at his death. Mr. Prentice regarded him one of the first literary gentlemen in the country, and sought his society more than that of any other man of his age by whom he was surrounded.—Evening Sun, Louisville.

. . The article on Prentice is not so long as we would wish it, but it is full of deep feeling and pathos, and cannot fail to add to the reputation of the writer. There are, however, a number of other essays of equal or greater merit, and among them, those on "The Scarlet Letter," "The Man who Laughs," Thackeray, "The Gypsies," and the various criticisms on Shakspeare's plays are especially worthy of mention. There is also a lengthy account of the great autographic collection of L. J. Cist of St. Louis. The subject of autographs is generally dry to most readers; but Mr. Griffin has made it intensely interesting. The amount of labor devoted to it is really extraordinary, for the essay embraces an infinite variety of names, and something new is said about almost every one of them.—Gazette.

. . The essays are evidently written without any attempt at what is called fine writing. Upon the contrary they are characterized by clearness, vigor and animation, a style of writing dear to every genuine lover of literature, but seldom met with in the works of the present day. The critical essay upon the life, character and writings of Geo. D. Prentice is peculiarly interesting, and furnishes much that is pleasant concerning the great journalist.—Glasgow Journal.

. . The essays are all very creditable to the author's imagination and culture, and give evidence of a careful and conscientious observance of the canons of criticism.—Daily Union, Brooklyn.

The University Memorial. BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCHES of Alumni of the University of Virginia who fell in the Confederate War. By REV. JOHN LIPSCOMB JOHNSON, B. A. (With Portraits.) Large 8vo. Cloth. Gilt side stamp. $5.00

We dismiss all critical feeling from our mind in taking up this volume. To comment on, or even to examine its literary merit, would be mere trifling, when its pages are so filled with solemn and deep suggestiveness. Here we have the biographical sketches of about two hundred men, all alumni of a single university, all occupying high social position, and nearly all young, who died in the defence of their State and of the cause which she had pronounced to be just.—Southern Magazine.

The art of making a book must be particularly complex and difficult. Certes, almost every other manufacture can be established and brought to the standard of highest excellence in a city long before a first-class book can be made in it. We are, therefore, particularly pleased to see this fine, large, well-printed, paper-tinted, handsomely bound portly volume on our table. Baltimore has done it at last—made a first-class book. The young house of Turnbull deserves our hearty thanks and congratulations. The volume is profoundly touching. The record of the lost lives of two hundred university-bred young men, sacrificed in a hopeless, fruitless war—how saddening it is! What has it cost our country? Who knows what gifts of God to the world were destroyed when all this wealth of cultivated intellect was lost? God help us! what a cry of blood is going up against somebody! It was well to gather up these memorials of those early dead. There are lessons in all life and in all death. There are lessons in this volume that all may well ponder. Mr. Johnson has labored under the natural disadvantage of the scarcity of material for the biographies he has prepared. Yet the memoirs are full of interest, for they are full of the deeds and devotion of as brave men as ever died for a cause. Old Virginia has no faculty for making roads; but for making men and women of the first human quality, she has no superior in this world.—Christian Advocate, Baltimore.

. . The Baltimore publishers have produced in the paper, typography, and binding of the book, an illustration of their capacity and enterprise in publication which reflects high credit upon them. The work is one which richly deserves the handsome style in which it is gotten up, and will have a wide circulation in the South and among the friends of its chief educational institution, the University of Virginia. It contains the names of nearly two hundred alumni; among them representatives of every Southern State; every religious denomination; every arm of the military service, and every grade short of major-general. The sketches are prepared by distinguished literary men of the South, and in some instances accompanied by likenesses of the subjects of the sketches. The memoirs appear in chronological order, so as to present the great events of the war in their proper succession. The statements of military movements are based not simply upon the histories that have appeared, but in the main upon the authority of those who took part in the actions described. It is a volume of great interest and value.—Sun, Baltimore.

Some time ago we had a notice of this work, as then in press, and we now take pleasure in announcing that it is ready for delivery. We have read it with tearful, thrilling interest; and we most cordially commend the book as worthy of wide circulation. Containing biographical sketches of nearly two hundred alumni of the University of Virginia—among them, representatives of every Southern State, every religious denomination, every arm of the military service, and every grade short of major-general—arranged in chronological order so as to give in their proper succession the great events of the war. This book will not only prove to the immediate friends of the "fallen alumni" a grateful tribute to their memory, but will be a most valuable contribution to the history of our struggle for independence.—Gazette, Lexington.

Dukesborough Tales. By PHILEMON PERCH. New and Enlarged Edition. Sq. 12mo. $1.50.

As illustrating an aspect of society, now almost, if not quite obsolete, these sketches possess not a little value; and by reason of their novelty of subject and dramatic skill of handling, constitute a really notable contribution to American literature.—Literary World, Boston.

The collection of tales in this volume is of far more than average merit, and certainly does not need the apology made by the author in his very modest preface. As tales alone, they are exceedingly amusing. They abound in rich, piquant humor, and contain many character sketches exhibiting a high degree of skilful and exact observation . . . Their perusal has afforded us much amusement and gratification, which we do not doubt will be shared by all who read them.—Literary Gazette.

. . We do not know the author whose pseudonym is Philemon Perch, but if he continues his literary labors, we can confidently predict for him a place among contemporary American writers of fiction not far below the best.—Louisville Commercial.

. . There is great reality in all the descriptions, and many an incident is told, replete with that mother-wit which we find in all classes, and in the midst of the greatest ignorance. It is a volume which will repay the time spent in reading it.—Age, Phila.

. . They seem, as we read, so much like scenes in real life, and not caricatures. They are as natural pictures as that drawn by Burns in his "Cotter's Saturday Night." They are full of quaint humor, but not always dry humor. Much of it is very racy without being salacious. The pervading tone of the volume is healthy.—Constitutionalist, Augusta.

. . These tales are short, and for the most part simple. As humorous sketches of character, they rival the best of Judge Longstreet's efforts in that direction, and are more elaborate and artistic than "Sut Lovengood's" effusions. The humor is neither coarse nor boisterous, but is quaint, deft, unique and natural. The style of the author is simple, direct and terse. We predict that "Dukesborough Tales," when they are once fairly before the public, will have a great run.—Morning News, Savannah.

This is perhaps one of the most thoroughly enjoyable books that has been given to the public since the days of "Major Jones." It consists of a series of sketches of life in "Dukesborough," a Georgia village, which are all the more ludicrous and amusing because of their truthfulness to life. The book is full of life and fun, and will doubtless become as popular as "Major Jones" or the equally famous "Georgia Scenes."—Courier, Charleston.

. . There is in these tales none of the coarseness and vulgarity with which some writers in the same field have marred their pictures of the queer, rough times. The author exhibits, in combination with his delightful humor, a rare power of dramatic presentation of character. We may add that it suits his fancy to assume as the narrator the character of an old man, which, however admirably sustained in the narrative, is to those who know him personally, and how young and warm his heart remains under a not immoderate weight of years, one of the funniest of his comicalities.—Sun, Baltimore.

. . The chief fault we have to find with this little book is that there is not enough of it. We have taken a fancy to these queer, simple, harmlessly grotesque people, and would like to see a little more of them. We want Mr. Bill Williams to take another tremendous "responsibility," or pursue with his characteristic temerity and fine tact, another delicate and perilous "investigation"; or, the great-hearted Brinkly Glisson to give us some taste of his quality as a man full-grown, before we bury them and all the quaint company with the past-way "old times" to which they belong.—Southern Magazine.

. . Never was there a more finely painted character in the humorous line than Mr. Bill Williams; but indeed, each of the tales brings up right before the reader's eye a series of quaint, actual personages of the backwoods, just as they looked, dressed, talked, acted. The author's humor is so abounding, so exuberant, that one is apt to forget the painful historical exactness of the portraiture, and the fidelity and loving-kindness with which each trait of those homely times and homely people is brought out. This book is a miracle in this age of flimsy sketches, and broad-bedaubed canvasses. It could only have been written by a Southerner, and it is a credit to our national literature.—Evening Journal.

. . "Philemon Perch" saw that life with keenly observant eyes, and has written of it with a freshness and vivacity, and with a humor of a kind oftener met in his own section of the country than in any other, but rarely there in such wealth of sunniness. "The Goosepond School" and "The Early Majority of Mr. Thomas Watts" are full of very happy touches of character, and might bring a smile to the features of the most wretched, stoical, or saturnine of human beings. —Evening Post, New York.

. . They exhibit genuine humor, which is the merriment of good sense, and not the buffoonery of a fool.—Christian Advocate, St. Louis.

. . To "Major Jones' Courtship," "The Letters of Bill Arp," and other equally laughable productions, are now added these tales of the ambitious village of "Dukesborough," which, perhaps, surpass all the rest. The exuberant humor of the book is not allowed to exceed the bounds of probability; it is rather the result of truthful delineation.—University Monthly.

Life of Hon. C. L. Vallandigham. By REV. J. L. VALLANDIGHAM. Illustrated 8vo. Cheap edition, $3.00; English cloth, $4.00; sheep, $5.00; half calf, $6.00.

Mr. Vallandigham's intimate connection with politics for many years, his position during the war, his exile, his escape to Canada, and finally his attempt to organise a new party, under the theory of what for a time was termed the "New Departure," make his life a historical one, and the volume before us a valuable contribution to the libraries of the country.—Gazette, Baltimore.

. . The type of his character was one not often met with, and this biography will be acceptable to all who are curious in the study of human nature, as well as those who feel a personal or political interest in the subject of the memoir. It ought to relieve his memory from the obloquy that was cast upon him in his life-time, and which gave to many a wholly erroneous idea of him.—Age, Philadelphia.

. . The literary excellence of the work is beyond question, and scarcely a man in the Western country can fail to find it interesting. . . Take it altogether, we consider this biography a valuable addition to our literature, and have no hesitation in recommending it to all classes of readers . . . There are a great many matters of historical importance related in this biography which are new to the public, among them the account of the circumstances under which "E. M. Stanton was appointed Secretary of War" is the most remarkable.—Enquirer, Cincinnati.

. . A work not only valuable as an exhaustive biography of a man admired for his talents, but also as an interesting history of a great political era in our country.—Sun, Baltimore.

Women, or Chronicles of the Late War. By MARY TUCKER MAGILL. 12mo. Cloth. $1.75.

. . . We are happy to be able to give the book a cordial and unqualified commendation.—Register, Mobile.

. . In this attractive volume, so true to nature and reality, the author has called to her aid no heightened coloring of fiction to adorn the simple facts of history, the eventful incidents of her own experience and observation; and while the thread of narrative on which closely cluster the precious memories of "the days that are no more" has a blending of romance common to every life and every era, and does not affect the historical, though it may increase the popular, interest in the book.—News, Fredericksburg.

. . . We congratulate the accomplished author on the assurance given in this book of something beyond mere temporary success in the walk she has chosen.—News, Winchester.

. . . But to recur: the eminent virtue is naturalness, however adorned. This lulls the reader's critical power, puts him into a direct communication and harmony with the personages of the volume, not because of the tragical or the sentiment, as is the case in all successful books of novel, but because he sees there the genuine reflections of human nature; and the thoughts coming from the author's heart, touch his own.—Times, Winchester.

. . The book bears evidence of being the production of a mind of more than ordinary culture and grace as a writer.—Yeoman, Frankfort.

. . The historical pencillings of our author are extremely fresh and captivating. She has all of a woman's shrewd and incisive descriptions, rapid and intuitive judgment, and masterly play over our feelings . . . We defy any reader to follow the author of "Women" through these and other graphic descriptions without yielding to the magic of her picture, and to the pathos of its delineation . . . The book is a success.—Presbyterian.

. . By Mary Tucker Magill, an authoress satirised, as some of our readers may remember, in Bret Harte's Sensation Novelists, with more animosity and less point than was shown in the rest of those clever caricatures, or than the present volume can at all explain.—The Saturday Review, London.

Heart Echoes. By MRS. MARY LEWIS. 12mo. Cloth. $1.25.

. . In graphic power, in clear, beautiful expression of thought, and in delightful evangelical moral, it is complete, and it will be hard to find another of its kind among our standard writers that surpasses it.

. . There is a pathos and tenderness in these poems that could only come from a true and loving heart. The mournfulness that pervades many of them confirms the author's words:

"These thoughts were born of grief."

—Spectator, Staunton.

. . It is rarely that a title is as true an index of the contents of a book as is that of this little volume of tender memories . . . No one can read this book without being the better for it.—Times, Winchester.

. . There is a depth of womanly tenderness in all her poems that finds its way straight to the heart of the reader . . . We only notice them as apposite specimens, for the volume is full of the true poetry of all shades of human feeling.—Vindicator, Staunton.

. . The poems are really what the name implies—"heart echoes." They are not distinguished by the higher order of creative genius—the poetic fire which strains the mind to catch and digest the thoughts presented. They are addressed more to the heart as coming from the heart, and carry with them an elevating, winning influence, that causes regret when you have gotten through the volume.—Valley Virginian.

. . Heart Echoes is an appropriate title for this little volume; it is full of sweet, sad poetry that must have come from the heart of the gifted lady who wrote it. We commend it to our readers.—Churchman.

Fifty Years in a Maryland Kitchen. By Mrs. B. C. HOWARD. 12mo. Cloth. $1.50.

. . Now this plainly written, common sense, unpretentious little volume covers the desired ground precisely. It is replete with the very best receipts upon not only cookery subjects, but other household matters, which have not been compiled from other books, but are the tried and often-used compoundings of a lady who has had the reputation for many years of being one of the very best of housekeepers.—Twice a Week, Hagerstown.

. . We, who have read her book, can safely say that for its directions to young housekeepers, for its admirable recipes in all the ramifications in cooking and household preparations for the table, very seldom has so valuable a production been presented to the public.—Catholic Mirror, Baltimore.

This is emphatically a good book to have around the house. The author is the widow of the late General Howard, of the best Maryland stock, and famous as one of the best housekeepers of Baltimore. The book was published solely for the purpose of aiding certain benevolent undertakings. The recipes which it contains have been repeatedly tested by the author during a period of more than fifty years. It will be found a very useful manual for the experienced as well as the young housekeeper.—Times, Winchester.

. . It is surely worth something to have the cooking of the old times rescued from oblivion. These later days of cooking au something, or à la something else, by no means supply the void. Our French cookery after all is an imitation, and never will rival that of the gay Gaul. What we have to do is to perfect our own cookery according to the principles of science, and a delicate and aesthetic taste . . To give an idea of the amount of valuable information in the book, we will simply say that there are fifty receipts for soup alone; and that fish, entremets, vegetables, desserts, sauces and breads are in proportion. The grave matters of curing bacon, and the preparation of pickles and sweetmeats receive the same care—in a word, we venture to say, without pretending to a critical knowledge of the subject, that this is a volume adapted to the bosom of the domestic circle, and that no family should be without it.—Gazette, Baltimore.

. . . A manual for housekeepers, containing recipes for cooking every imaginable dish, besides directions for doing various other things, for the lack of knowing which housekeepers are often greatly perplexed. It seems to be prepared with great care, and most of the recipes have been practically tested by the author in her own family, and are selected from a collection made by her during a period of fifty years.—Advance, Chicago.

A Maryland kitchen has some peculiarities in which it differs a little from a New England kitchen. Therefore a genuine Maryland "cook book" will be interesting and useful to housekeepers in this part of the country. In this work Mrs. Howard shows what she has learned in the art of cookery in her experience of fifty years as a housekeeper. She tells us that the recipes here collected have been practically tested by herself in her own kitchen; they have been carefully selected from a much larger collection which has grown on her hands during her housekeeping life; and no one can examine this book without perceiving that she has great intelligence and excellent judgment in this matter of cookery.—Daily Spy, Worcester.

Baltimore has been from time immemorial famous for its cookery, and this little volume tells us just how the dishes so celebrated in the cuisine of that city are gotten up.—Evening Star, Washington.

. . . We strongly recommend this book to our young housekeepers, many of whom will often find it a "God-send"; and in such moments of doubt and perplexity as often occur to the inexperienced young wife, she will thank in her heart the venerable and benevolent authoress.—Maryland Farmer.

. . . Her book is comprehensive, giving many different rules for the different dishes, also for those accidents that will happen, ink-stains, grease spots, &c. The volume is one of the most sensible and useful of its class.—Commonwealth, Boston.

. . . The various recipes are given with admirable clearness and refined taste, and the spirit of the enthusiastic bon vivant is manifested on every page. In addition to instructions on cooking, it has a large number of valuable recipes on miscellaneous affairs in connection with housekeeping and household economy. To those in want of a simple, useful and exceedingly practical book of this kind, we know of none that will prove more acceptable than that under notice.—Saturday Evening Gazette, Boston.

. . . It is the record of an experience of fifty years in the kitchen, by a Maryland lady, and contains just such information as is invaluable to every Southern housekeeper. The information is extensive and varied, and a copious and convenient index is an attractive feature of the book.—Mountain Home, Talladega, Ala.

Chronicles of Baltimore. Being a Complete History of "Baltimore Town" and Baltimore City, from the year 1606 to 1874. By J. Thomas Scharf. 8vo. Cloth, $5.00; sheep, $6.00; half calf, $7.00.

. . . This is a Baltimore book throughout, the author being a Baltimorean; and the printing, binding, and the entire mechanical part of the work being done here, and that in a highly creditable manner. In advance of the issue of the work, after having had the opportunity of consulting its preface and several of its chapters some time since, we gave our opinion of the historical value of this most diligent, thorough and trustworthy record of the past of this city. It is the most comprehensive and complete book upon the subject ever offered to the public, and the sketches of events in Maryland history, the chief actions of which concentrated in Baltimore, leading up to and bearing upon the American revolution, which have appeared in the Sun from Mr. Scharf's pen from time to time, indicate how deeply and with what breadth the work has gone into the spirit of the early period of the past era in which Baltimoreans conspicuously played a part. These sketches have arrested the attention of the press and of intelligent men all over the country. The written and unwritten, the scattered and fragmentary facts bearing upon the rise and progress of Baltimore, are given in this new work of Mr. Scharf's with such comprehensiveness, minuteness of detail, and thoroughness of execution as to entitle the book to be regarded as an encyclopaedia of its kind. Many old and valuable letters of eminent men, never before published, have been preserved in this volume, as well as brief biographical notices of prominent citizens of the past, and pleasing reminiscences and incidents in connection with the customs and habits of the people of Baltimore in the olden time. The author need not have told us in his preface that his work has been a labor of love, pride, sympathy and ambition. That is evident enough in every chapter and page, and the same sentiments ought to be exercised towards his work in the community for whom he labored. From the days of Captain John Smith, "the first white man whose eyes rested upon the site of Baltimore," through the colonial era, the revolutionary war, the last war with England, the civil war, and the nine years which have elapsed since its termination; nothing of interest to Baltimoreans has been overlooked or left to be recorded by any succeeding historian. Every citizen of Baltimore, indeed of Maryland, will find this volume an interesting addition to his library, and as a means of communicating to his children the history of the city, connected with that of the State, in many respects invaluable.—Sun, Baltimore.

The "Chronicles of Baltimore" are thoroughly well done. He has gone over the ground with excellent judgment, and apparently with a microscope. Nothing escapes him, and the reader may well be astonished at the industry displayed, and the mass of material acquired. The book is, moreover, conscientiously correct in facts, figures and dates. . . It is high praise, but deserved, when we say that the Chronicles, although dealing with much of statistical information, are written in such a clear style, and arranged in such an orderly and comprehensive manner, with so much space given when necessary, to matters of social, political and curious interest, that they are made a pleasant occupation for the general reader, who can pick out the plums and pass lightly over whatever does not suit his taste. . . The book in itself, without any external inducement, is worth a good deal more than twice the sum asked for it, and, like all works of the kind, will increase in value as the years advance.—Gazette, Baltimore.

. . The intelligent antiquarian enthusiasm of the editor is conspicuous in its preparation. He has spared no labor in the examination of ancient archives and documents to give it a completeness and accuracy of which few works of a similar character can boast. Indeed, the toilsome research which has been employed by Colonel Scharf in its compilation is almost incredible. . . In short, no available authority has been neglected which could contribute to the value of the work, and as the fruit of so much energy and enterprise, we have a mass of interesting facts presented in an orderly and lucid arrangement, with which the chronicles of few American cities can compare.—Tribune, New York.

Col. J. Thomas Scharf has compiled altogether the best history of an American city that has ever come under our notice, in his "Chronicles of Baltimore."—Bulletin, Philadelphia.

Col. Scharf has proved himself one of those useful heroes who deserve well of their country. He has put the stery of a great city into a book; out of the depths he has rescued the traditions and the records of that famous Baltimore, and in a volume of 750 pages he has given them to the world. Much of it is romantic in interest, all of it is valuable. The historical, political, civil, commercial, religious, educational and social matters here embodied will engage the attention of the reader, and be of permanent value.—Observer, New York.

The book is full of information, comprehensive, minute in detail, mainly an exhaustive compilation of facts interesting to citizens of Baltimore and all who are concerned in the growth of that splendid city. These local histories are of the utmost value in enabling us to sum up the aggregate of our national power and advancement, and we cannot give too high praise to the patient, modest historians like Col. Scharf, Thompson Wescott of Philadelphia, and others who have achieved those feats of investigation.—Herald, New York.

The book we have before us is the record of the growth, economically and socially, of the now great community, and a most admirable and painstaking chronicle it is. . . It is a history—especially a social history, of Baltimore ab ovo, from the egg of "Baltimore town" to the "City of Baltimore" as it has grown to be, and is exceedingly well told. Its local history is worth study and illustration, and we are glad that Baltimore has at last undertaken it, and that it has been done so admirably.—World, New York.

United States Bonds, or, Duress by Federal Authority: a Journal of Current Events, during an Imprisonment of Fifteen Months at Fort Delaware. By Isaac W. K. Handy, D. D. 8vo. Cloth, $4.00; half calf, $6.00. 25 full-page illustrations.

. . The style is simple and plain, and bears truthfulness on its face. The Doctor shows no malice, but the contrary feeling continually. He credits with their full value kindness and courtesy from Northern sources, but fearlessly tells the plainest truths.—Gazette, Lexington.

. . It is a valuable contribution to history, and will doubtless have a large sale, . . particularly among those who have felt the sufferings of prisoners of war.—Enquirer, Richmond.

. . Although the author has sought only to preserve the memory of events in plain and simple narrative, yet the events themselves give to the book a thrilling interest. We have read the book with a great deal of pleasure, and can heartily recommend it.—Mercury, Farmville.

. . We are beaten and cannot control history; but, at least, we can qualify it by facts which will sooner or later take their place in the current literature of the world, and vindicate a people whose conduct and motives have been misrepresented with studied deliberation by their conquerors.—Dispatch, Richmond.

. . Dr. Handy is a ready writer, a most assiduous chronicler and antiquarian, and a thoroughly reliable historian.—Whig, Richmond.

There is a sly humor in the title of Dr. Handy's book which characterises his style in the body of the work, and which is one of the charms that will give it popularity and a wide circulation. He is a very ready and fluent writer, a truthful chronicler, a genial Christian gentleman, whose manifold troubles in peace and war have increased rather than diminished the cheerfulness of his vein.—Gazette, Lexington.

"United States Bonds" is the title of a book of some six hundred pages, embracing the writer's journal or diary of events, personal and historical, passing under his observation during the long period of his imprisonment. It is, as he fairly states in the preface, a private journal, kept with no original purpose of publication, but perhaps for this very reason preserves a freshness of narration and a facility of description which constitute the chief attractions of the work.—Baltimorean.

This volume comes to us in the modest shape of a diary of current events and bears the aspect of truthfulness in every line. We are heartily glad to see that it deals in a candid temper with one of the darkest chapters of the late war, and Dr. Handy's experiences at Fort Delaware will be consulted by historians as an authority hereafter. We find a number of allusions scattered through the book of local interest, but it is in its larger aspect that it will be chiefly valued.—Landmark, Norfolk.

This book is intensely interesting. It exhibits to us a faithful, patient minister, unjustly and illegally arrested for words spoken in private conversation, enduring the discomforts of prison life for conscience' sake, and withal laboring incessantly for the spiritual good of his fellow-prisoners, and praying for his oppressors. A more charming, unaffected picture of unpretending piety, of earnest, unostentatious zeal, we never remember to have seen. To us the book is as interesting as "Robinson Crusoe." The amount of evangelistic labor performed by this good man in jail surpasses belief. Weakened by prison diet, worn out by repeated disappointments, his zeal never flagged, but he was always ready to preach, to pray, to converse with any one who would accept his ministrations. After a year of persevering labors, they were crowned with a gracious revival.—Christian Observer, Louisville.

. . We would like to make other and larger extracts from this interesting journal, but our space forbids. Enough has been given, we are sure, to tempt the Southern man and the fair-minded Northern man to read for himself, and learn what was suffered "for conscience' sake" by these martyrs to the principle of free government.—Bulletin, Baltimore.

History of Virginia. For the Use of Schools. By Mary Tucker Magill. 12mo. Fully illustrated $1.25.

This book has been officially adopted by the State Board of Education for exclusive use in the common schools. We have read enough of the book to convince us that the facts in the history of the old "Mother of States and of statesmen" have been brought out so truthfully, and in such an attractive form, that the book must prove very useful in the common schools of the State. We most heartily commend it. The wood-cuts are neatly executed, the paper used is good, and the type large and clear.—Christian Sun, Suffolk.

. . It is handsomely illustrated, and having a series of questions appended to each chapter, it is indeed an important addition to our school-books. It will not only entertain and instruct the young, but the old also, in the early history of Virginia, which is not well enough known to her people. We commend it to all, and especially to our common schools.—Gazette, Lexington.

. . It is an admirable school-book, clear and true in facts and statement, written in a pleasant, easy style, with abundant incident and illustration. We are glad to welcome a work so necessary and useful, so widely beneficial and worthy of its accomplished author.—News, Fredericksburg.

. . We hail this book prepared by Miss Magill. She has done this work with the spirit of a devoted daughter of the dear old commonwealth, and has done it well.—Central Presbyterian.

. . It is, indeed, an admirable book, not only for schools, for which it is specially designed, but also for the adult reader. It supplies a felt want, and has been welcomed with the warmest encomiums throughout the bounds of the State. There is a charm and a value about the history of Virginia of which no other State can boast, and it is but high praise to say that Miss Magill has done justice to it.—Times, Winchester.

. . Thus in every particular it seems to us to meet fully the end for which it is designed. A history of this character, as we have said, has been a long-felt need in our schools and families, and we rejoice to see that need so fully met and supplied in the work of Miss Magill.—Index, Petersburg.

. . We have never seen a history which is more interesting as a story-book. Miss Magill has that singular ease and simplicity of style which men so seldom acquire. Her book does not need commendation, for wherever it is known it will make friends for itself.—Christian Observer, Richmond.

Edgar Allan Poe. A Memorial Volume. By Sara Sigourney Rice. Small quarto. Illustrated. Cloth, $2.50; full Turkey, $4.00.

. . Miss Rice, who is to be credited with the original proposal to place a proper memorial over the mortal remains of Poe, was the most suitable person to edit this volume, and has performed the labor of love with good feeling and good sense.—Press, Philadelphia.

. . Miss Rice's work has been one of great admiration and appreciation of the poet, and has been done with notable tenderness and love throughout. To the friends of Poe the book is one of grateful interest.—Evening Post, Hartford.

. . It contains a biographical sketch of the poet; reminiscences of Poe's schoolboy days, by one of his school-fellows, with anecdotes of his athletic feats, first attempts at poetry, &c.; a full account of the ceremonies at the unveiling of the monument, with the addresses then delivered; facsimiles of letters received from eminent poets and authors; memorial poems, &c. A peculiar feature of the book is a portrait of the poet taken from the hitherto unknown daguerreotype, which is pronounced by the best judges "the only real likeness of Poe in existence."—Home Journal.

. . It is to commemorate these two facts that Miss Rice, the leading spirit in the movement which resulted in the erection of the monument, has prepared this very tasteful and elegant volume. It contains a biographical sketch of the poet by Mr. Ingram, of London (Poe's vindicator), reminiscences of Poe's schoolboy days, by one of his schoolmates; a history of the monument, with a full account of the ceremonies and addresses at the dedication; letters from eminent English and American poets, of which a number are in fac-simile; a view of the monument, &c. Perhaps the most attractive feature of the book is the admirable likeness of Poe from a hitherto unpublished daguerreotype, showing him as he looked in the last year of his life. The portraits by which he is generally known are mere shadows compared with this, which gives the living features of the man. The publishers have shown great taste in embellishing the work with all the furtherances of the printer's and binder's arts, and taken altogether, it is probably the handsomest volume ever printed in Baltimore.—Evening Bulletin.

. . Miss Rice, the author of the book, was one of the first to call attention to the neglected grave of poor Poe, and to her exertions is due the success of the scheme. This memorial volume should prove a most acceptable token to the thousands of admirers of the dead poet. In this city was his fame established; here did his reputation receive its best acknowledgments; here did he make many friends. The book, as we said before, is beautifully gotten up, handsomely bound in cloth, gilt edges, &c., suitable for the drawing-room table and a choice gift for the holidays. It contains a photograph of Poe, with fac-simile letters from Tennyson, Swinburne, Whittier, Bryant, Longfellow and Holmes.—Evening Chronicle, Philadelphia.

. . The labors of Miss Rice in behalf of the poet's memory entitle her above all others to the honor of adding this interesting capstone to the monument reared by her generous industry; and well has she done this work also.—Evening News.

This beautiful memorial of Edgar Allan Poe every admirer of his genius will not fail to procure. It is as elegant a tribute to a dead poet as has ever been made. . . The affectionate care which has prepared this exquisite book will not fail to be appreciated by every lover of "The Raven," and those who possess it will have one of the finest gift-books of the season.—Evening Mail, New York.

HOLMWOOD, HENLEY ON THAMES,
December 28th, 1876.

My Dear Miss Rice:—I have just received your letter and the Memorial Volume, and return you my sincere thanks for both. The book appears to me all that could have been hoped or desired by the truest of Poe's admirers. May I, without seeming impertinence, make mention of the especial satisfaction with which I have read the admirable tribute of Dr. O. W. Holmes, and those of the American and the English veterans of noble song, Mr. Bryant and Mr. Horne? I can only wish that my own hurried scrawl had been less unworthy of the good company to which I find it promoted by your favor.

With renewed thanks, I have the honor to remain
Yours very truly,
ALGERNON C. SWINBURNE.

GENERAL POST-OFFICE, LONDON, ENGLAND,
December 27th, 1876.

To-day, on reaching my office, I found your truly beautiful Memorial Volume. Printing, paper, portrait, type, everything is really admirable. I have shown it to a practical bookseller, and he very reluctantly said, "I cannot find any fault with it." The only one I can find with it is, that my name has been so prominently and frequently mentioned that it makes the volume somewhat of a glorification for me. I fancy people will deem that I had more to do with it than I really had. It is a real édition de luxe, worthy to compete with the best productions of Europe, and would have done Poe's eyes good. I congratulate all concerned. I congratulate Baltimore upon having turned out so elegant a piece of book-making.

JOHN L. INGRAM,
Editor English edition Poe's Works.

Heart Life in Song. BY F. H. MARR. 12mo. $1.00.

. . These poems are eminently womanly in the best sense of the term. They are pure, tender, penetrated with a peculiar pathos, delicate and full of fervent religious feeling. . . The strongest piece in Miss Marr's book is the poem called Life. It is full of vigorous thinking, of high truth and of solemn import. One could hardly read such verses and remain unimpressed by them. . . Some of Miss Marr's religious pieces remind us of Anna Waring's, the favorite English hymn-writer, and of Miss Havergal's Ministry of Song—in saying which we mean only to convey a compliment, for it is altogether probable that our author has never seen these English volumes.—Southern Churchman.

Sunshine and Shadow. By MARY WILKINSON. 12mo. Cloth and gilt, $1.50.

. . "Mary Wilkinson" (this, our readers must know, is a nom de plume) is evidently a great lover of nature, and draws inspiration from the grand and beautiful scenery which is to be found near her home. Her verses indicate communion with the "voices of nature," rather than the thoughts of the illustrious men and women who have written before her.—Gazette, Lexington.

We have examined this neat volume of poetry with sincere delight. It is a modest, unpretending work of real merit. The poetry is in good taste, simple, natural and touching.—Religious Herald, Richmond.

The Southern Side; or, Andersonville Prison.

Compiled from Official Documents in the hands of R. RANDOLPH STEVENSON, M. D., formerly Surgeon in the Army of the Confederate States of America; Chief Surgeon of the Confederate States Prison Hospitals, Andersonville, Georgia; Surgeon and Medical Purveyor to the Confederate States Prisons East of the Mississippi River. Together with a Review of a portion of the Testimony of the Witnesses in the celebrated "Wirz Trial," and brief notices of some of the works that have appeared on Southern Prisons by Northern Authors. With an Appendix containing the names of about 13,000 Union Soldiers who died at Andersonville; giving number of their graves, their rank, the companies and regiments to which they belonged, the date of their death, and the disease from which they died, as registered by the author and others. Also Cause and Classification of the Diseases incident to Prison Life; Comparative Statements of Prisoners captured and died in Northern and Southern Prisons; a Chapter on the Exchange Bureau, etc., etc. 8vo. Illustrated. Cloth, $3.00; sheep, $4.00; half calf, $5.00.

. . No intelligent man can afford to be without this book, the information contained being constantly needed to use when prison horrors are spoken of by those who don't seem to know there were prisons used north during the late war, and brutalities practised compared with which Andersonville was nowhere, and the dead Wirz a saint compared with the commandants of several Northern prisons.—Roanoke Valley.

. . Dr. Stevenson has published a "History of Andersonville: the Southern Version," which gives in clear, candid and dispassionate style all the facts connected with the mortality incident to the prisoners confined in that memorable place, and which effectually relieves the Confederate officials from the criminality which James G. Blaine and other reckless Radicals have sought to fix upon their shoulders. The responsibility for the sufferings at Andersonville is traced home to the government of Mr. Lincoln, which refused to make exchanges of prisoners, while the willingness of the Confederate government to do everything for the prisoners which it did for its own soldiers in the field is triumphantly established. . . Some of the incidents of the prison-pen are most romantic and thrilling. Dr. Stevenson touches also in his valuable work on some of the abuses of Northern prisons, and makes a most satisfactory argument based upon the rates of mortality between the Northern and Southern prisons.—Index-Appeal, Petersburg.

. . Though too late perhaps for practical service in refuting the calumnies circulated under the malignant, "bloody-shirt" crusade of sordid politicians and office-holders, it is yet timely as serving to rescue the American name from the infamy with which, for partisan effect, there were those but too ready to blast it. It may be less sensationally poetic than the portrayals of a Nast, or the word-painting of such archetypes of diabolism as Blaine, Morton, Ingersoll, et id omne genus, but it is more valuable to history as a compilation of simple facts. The Southern actors in the great struggle would be recreant to the duty they owe to posterity if they permitted the false allegations of irresponsible cartoonists or political charlatans to be accepted as true without attempting a refutation and vindication. We hope this timely and courageous history may have a wide circulation wherever in the world the mischief of the calumniator has done its baleful service, so that the antidote may go with the poison.—American, Nashville.

. . It may be said that enough has been written on this painful theme, and this would be true if only one side of the question were entitled to a hearing. But unless a people are to be condemned unheard, upon the ex parte statements of their adversaries, the friends of justice will hail with satisfaction the statements of this work.—Dispatch, St. Louis.

The contents of this portly and handsome volume correspond with its ample title-page. Some one will doubtless exclaim, Cui bono! Why revive these horrible details? Why, indeed? Look at the horrible slanders which leading men of the North have been heaping up against the South, in regard to the Andersonville prison Here is a true, faithful, and competent witness. Dr. Stevenson knows what he speaks and whereof he affirms. He says, and we believe him, that the Confederate authorities did all in their power to alleviate the horrors of imprisonment at Andersonville and elsewhere. We can bear personal testimony to the fact that Federal prisoners were fed with the best provisions that could be provided for them; and gladly would the authorities have sent the prisoners home if the United States authorities would have agreed to the exchange. We say but little on subjects of this kind, as our paper is a connectional organ. But we should lose our self-respect, and the respect of all men, if we did not denounce the immense wrong done to the Southern people in charging them with a barbarity of which they were the victims rather than the actors. But what of Wirz? We knew the poor fellow. His wife was a member of our church, and under our pastoral care when her husband had charge of the Federal prisoners in Tuskaloosa. He was a Swiss, and had Old World ideas on the subject of prison discipline. He shot a prisoner for disobeying orders. Some approved the act—we did not, though we might not have been in circumstances to judge correctly in regard to it. But whatever might have been the misdemeanors of poor Wirz, who, notwithstanding his parole, was hurried to the gallows—he exonerated President Davis from all blame with his dying breath. We hold it to be a sacred duty to do all in our power to enable the future historian of our country to write an impartial and true history of those terrible times—nothing to extenuate, and to set down naught in malice. We do firmly believe that the perusal of this book by our Northern fellow-citizens would greatly tend to promote the cause of charity and good-will between the two great sections of our common country. They could not fail to note the obvious faithfulness of the record, and to ascertain that there are two sides to this Andersonville tragedy, and that the "Southern Side" is just the opposite of what they may have imagined.—Christian Advocate, Nashville.

. . Dr. Stevenson quotes largely from official documents, and his contribution to the literature of the rebellion is certainly worthy of attentive perusal by all who would make up a fair opinion on one of the darkest chapters in the history of our civil war.—Boston Journal.

Perhaps it was no more than just that this book should be written, and it is now but just that it should be read. The reported horrors of an institution where so many Union prisoners have suffered, have festered in the minds of Northern people, who, inflamed by the utterances of dishonest demagogues, have allowed their prejudices to be strengthened and deeply imbued with sectional rancor long after they should have been buried out of sight.—Post, Boston.

. . He proves quite conclusively that the site of Andersonville prison was healthy, but acknowledges that the sickness there was greatly owing to improper food. He argues, however, that no better could be furnished. He says that it was sufficient in quantity, but was not varied enough. His fourth proposition has the most strength. If Secretary Stanton had consented to an exchange of prisoners, much suffering and death would no doubt have been prevented. Dr. Stevenson says that a special military commission tried Wirz, by a direct violation of the Constitution, which reads, "No person shall be held to answer for a capital or otherwise infamous crime, unless on presentment or indictment of a grand jury." The writer is evidently partisan, but not bitterly so. His book, which has a chart of Andersonville prison grounds, is a contribution of value to the question he discusses, the more so from his personal knowledge of some things he narrates, and should be read by every one who wishes to see what can be said on both sides of a vexed question.—Evening Mail, New York.

. . Dr. Stevenson's book will help to correct some of the monstrous falsehoods that were during the war, and even since, for party purposes, circulated at the North, concerning the history of prison discipline and life at the South. Never in the world lived there a people who possessed more humanity, or who were more prompt and zealous in exhibiting it than the people of the South; and the man—be he party-man, historian, or moralist, who asserts that cruelty was ever wantonly visited upon Northern prisoners as a part of the Southern policy of government or army, or was at all in consonance with the feeling of the Southern heart, is a liar. If ignorant, he malignantly asserts what he has no right to assert without knowing what he says to be true.—Dispatch, Richmond.

. We consider any library incomplete without it, whatever the politics of the owner may be, as nothing is said that can wound the feelings of the most loyal. And as a book of reference its value is incalculable.—Chatauqua Farmer, Forestville, N. Y.

. . Let the truth be known. Dr. Stevenson has made an important contribution to American history. No man should form his opinion concerning the treatment of prisoners in the war, either Federal or Confederate, without reading his work.—Religious Herald, Richmond.

. . From the distinguished official position which Dr. Stevenson occupied during the war, and from the arduous and responsible duties which he had to discharge, the public has long regarded him as the only man who could possibly remove the wrong impressions which deliberate malignity had long created respecting Andersonville. The work now under review is the one to which Mr. Jefferson Davis alluded in his correspondence with the Hon. James Lyons, last year, and it will be found on perusal to fulfil all the high anticipations Mr. Davis had formed of it.—Mercury, Farmville.

. . Dr. Stevenson was in position to know whereof he affirms. He was fortunate in preserving a large part of the Andersonville papers, and he has most abundantly made good the assertion in his preface.—Southern Historical Society Papers.

Sunday-School Lessons. FOR THE CHURCH YEAR. By RT. REV. T. U. DUDLEY, D. D. 12mo. 25 cts. boards; 20 cts. paper.

. . The Lessons endeavor to impart the truths which each Sunday of the Christian year brings before the Church, having two divisions for small and older children of the Sunday-School. They are, as the author states, suggestive rather than exhaustive, and each question leads the teacher on deeper into the truth which the Sunday-School tries to convey. It is an encouraging sign of the times, and a cheering one to Sunday-School workers, to know that the Sunday-School is claiming the best energies of the rectors of our large city churches, who, in many instances overburdened with large parochial cares, often leave the teaching, and even the proper selection of books, in the hands of their lay helpers. On the hearts of the children of the Church the true foundation of Gospel truths must be laid, if we desire to retain the "truth once delivered to the saints."—Episcopal Register, Baltimore.

. . There are no best question books; some are bad, teaching false doctrine; others are good; and we think Mr. Dudley's is as good as any, and in some respects better.—Southern Churchman.

The Republic of Republics. A RETROSPECT OF OUR CENTURY OF FEDERAL LIBERTY. An Attempt to ascertain from the Federal Constitution, from the Acts of the Pre-existent States, and from the contemporaneous Exposition of the Fathers, the Sovereignty, Citizenship, Allegiance and Treason of The United States, the Obligation of the President's Constitutional Oath, and the Reason why the Trial of the Confederate Chiefs was evaded. By one of the Counsel in the Case of Jefferson Davis. Third Edition, carefully revised and greatly amplified, with a very large Appendix, containing much apposite Matter now out of print, and very instructive and valuable. Cloth, $3.50; sheep, $5.00; half calf, $5.50.

The whole protest is most admirable, well-arranged and able. It should have an extensive reading everywhere . . . It needs a rehearsal of just such arguments to awaken the mistaken people of the North to the real position of affairs as at present existing, and to the right of the Southern States to act as they did. . . . The work you propose should have a large sale here. It would not only be useful as a lamp in the present, but as a standard reference in the future, and the time must come, it seems to me, when such a work would command a prominent position in every library.—From a Prominent Gentleman.

If upon the numerous points that any lawyer can see in the case I had so admirably prepared and overwhelmingly conclusive a brief as the protest, my task [in defending Davis] would be slight indeed.—Charles O'Conor in 1865 to the Author in England.

A most important argument has been received by the President from London, in which are set forth the reasons why Davis cannot be convicted of treason in any court, &c., &c.— Telegram from Washington to the "Ledger," Philadelphia, in 1865.

It is historically correct, and logical.—Andrew Johnson.

This treatise is an extraordinary work, considering that it is written by an English lawyer. It exhibits an acquaintance with the history and philosophy of the late federal constitution and union, from which ninety-nine out of a hundred of our "Northern brethren," and not a few Southern people, might derive information if they would.—Mobile Register, July 24, 1866.

Should you be in this country before the trial, I would be happy to confer with you on the subject, as your close attention to and thorough understanding of the leading topic in the probable discussion give you great facilities for usefulness.—Charles O'Conor, June 28, 1866.

The Round Table of March 27, 1869, introducing the series of chapters I to XVIII, published therein, referred to the author as "one of the counsel of Jefferson Davis," said we publish these articles without concurring in all the views, because we believe in "a free expression of all honest opinion, and because of our respect for the candor, patriotism and learning of the writer, who having made his subject a long and anxious study, is well qualified to interest and instruct upon it, even in most cases where he may fail to convince."

William M. Randolph, one of the most distinguished lawyers of Louisiana, thus writes to the author under date 1870: "If it be true that you are the author [of certain papers in a magazine and a newspaper], why do you not present them to the public in book form? The argument is a complete vindication of the theory of her rights as held by the South."

Whoever he may be, his work is one which ought to make a profound impression upon all who feel any interest in politics—using that word in its true sense—not as meaning a struggle between persons or parties for office, but as expressing the noblest of all sciences, except theology. The book is dispassionate and philosophical, but plain, lucid, terse and incisive. Without any partisan spirit whatever, it cuts into the heart of the subject, lays bare its principles, and establishes the confederate character of the American Union—using the term as distinctive from all "national" or consolidation theories—on a foundation of impregnable reasoning. No brief extract can give an adequate idea of the character of the work, any more than the brick, in the familiar anecdote, could serve as a sample of the house.—The Cycle, Mobile.

The Proper Study of Mankind is Man.

PHRENOLOGY. PHYSIOGNOMY.

Vol. 65. 1877.

PHRENOLOGICAL JOURNAL and SCIENCE of HEALTH.

Our two Journals, having been combined, are now published as one, and the Science of Human Character, the Laws which govern the Physical Organism, and the Relations of Mental and Physical Health to External Conditions, are the grand themes which belong to the special province of this Magazine, and are treated of in it from points of view embraced by no other serial publication.

PHRENOLOGY unfolds the relations of Mind and its physical instrumentalities; shows how the multifold diversities of human character and capacity are related to universal laws, and by a positive analysis of individual mentality ministers to individual usefulness, designating special aptitude, and indicating the methods by which mental and physical deficiencies may be remedied. As an agency in training the young, in correcting and reforming the vicious, and in controlling the insane, its value can not be estimated.

It treats also of ETHNOLOGY, or the Natural History of Man; contains practical articles on PHYSIOLOGY, DIET, EXERCISE, and the LAWS OF LIFE AND HEALTH; Portraits, Sketches, and Biographies of the Leading Men and Women of the World, besides much general and useful information on the leading topics of the day. It is intended to be the most interesting and instructive FAMILY MAGAZINE published.

For single Models, packing-boxes charged at cost.

BOCK-STEGER'S MODEL'S, whose unsurpassed usefulness as a means of instruction has been universally acknowledged, are made of a hard composition of Plaster of Paris by the Brothers Steger in Leipsic, after preparations by Dr. Bock and other prominent physiologists. They have been widely introduced in the Schools and Colleges of this country; they are particularly well-adapted for instruction in INSTITUTIONS FOR THE BLIND, and their very moderate price brings them within the reach of every school, or even of the medical student with limited means.

☞ We are prepared to fill orders from our stock without delay.

Beware of spurious imitations. Each genuine model bears the trade-mark of "BOCK-STEGER, LIPSIA."

TESTIMONIALS.

"THE BOCK-STEGER ANATOMICAL MODELS" of the human body are a great desideratum. In accuracy of detail and beauty of finish they are unsurpassed, and their cheapness brings them within the reach of most educational Institutes, in which they will be found of great assistance in the study of Anatomy and Physiology."

LEONARD J. SANFORD, M.D.,
Prof. of Anatomy and Physiology,
YALE COLLEGE, New Haven, Conn.

"BOCK-STEGER'S ANATOMICAL MODELS" are the finest in existence for the money, and every School and College should have them, as their low cost places them within the reach of all those desiring a general knowledge of their physical system."

NATIONAL SURGICAL INSTITUTE,
INDIANAPOLIS, IND.

"The ANATOMICAL MODELS were received in good order and have been fairly tested in our High-School. They prove even better than I had thought them to be. I do not know of any means of illustration so perfectly adapted to their object as these models."

W. H. PAYNE, Sup. Public Schools,
ADRIAN, MICH.

Besides these the Models are in use in the following Institutions:

Edwards Place School, Stockbridge, Mass.
Girl's High School, Boston, Mass.
Hampden Sidney College, Va.
Hanover College, Ind.
Institution for the Deaf und Dumb, New York.
Medical College, Houston, Tex.

THE MASTERPIECE SERIES

OF

FICTION AND ROMANCE.

"Not for a day, but for All Time."

The attention of the trade is called to this new Series, to be composed of the most celebrated works of Fiction and Romance ever written. The simple mention of which is a guarantee of their excellence both in a literary and mercantile sense. Each work will be complete, filling from 500 to 600 pages, crown octavo, type clear and legible, well printed on good paper, and fully illustrated. Style of binding new, unique, and very attractive. In short, their mechanical worth will vie with their literary excellence. The price will be just one-half now charged; or, in other words, we unite in one volume two of the works named below, and charge for the two only $1.50. Thus each volume will contain two works and an average of 1,000 pages, fully illustrated, being emphatically

MARVELS OF CHEAPNESS.

The following are in preparation, and will be ready in July. Other volumes will follow soon after:

Robinson Crusoe and Arabian Nights. The two works complete and unabridged in one vol., crown octavo, of 1,000 pages, fully illustrated. Cloth, extra unique. Price $1.50.

Gulliver's Travels and Baron Munchausen. The two works complete and unabridged in one vol., crown octavo, of 1,000 pages, fully illustrated. Cloth extra, unique. Price $1.50.

Swiss Family Robinson and Sanford and Merton. The two works complete and unabridged in one vol., crown octavo, of 1,100 pages, fully illustrated. Cloth extra, unique. Price $1.50.

I would not for the wealth of all this town,
Here in my house, do him disparagement;
Therefore be patient, take no note of him;
It is my will; the which if thou respect,
Show a fair presence, and put off these frowns,
An ill-beseeming semblance for a feast.

Tyb. It fits, when such a villain is a guest;
I'll not endure him.

1 Cap. He shall be endured;
What, goodman boy?—I say, he shall.—Go to;—
Am I the master here, or you? go to.
You'll not endure him!—God shall mend my soul—
You'll make a mutiny among my guests!
You will set cock-a-hoop! you'll be the man!

Tyb. Why, uncle, 'tis a shame.

1 Cap. Go to, go to.
You are a saucy boy.—Is't so, indeed?—
This trick may chance to scath[1] you;—I know what.
You must contrary me! marry, 'tis time—
Well said, my hearts.—You are a princox;[2] go:—
Be quiet, or—More light, more light, for shame!—
I'll make you quiet. What! cheerly, my hearts.

Tyb. Patience perforce[3] with wilful choler meeting,
Makes my flesh tremble in their different greeting.
I will withdraw; but this intrusion shall,
Now seeming sweet, convert to bitter gall. [Exit.

Rom. If I profane with my unworthy hand
[To JULIET.
This holy shrine, the gentle fine is this—
My lips, two blushing pilgrims, ready stand
To smooth that rough touch with a tender kiss.

Jul. Good pilgrim, you do wrong your hand too much,
Which mannerly devotion shows in this;
For saints have hands that pilgrims' hands do touch,
And palm to palm, is holy palmers' kiss.

[1] i. e. do you an injury. The word has still this meaning in Scotland.
[2] A pert, forward youth. The word is apparently a corruption of the Latin præcox.
[3] There is an old adage—"Patience perforce is a medicine for a mad dog."

THE AMERICAN REPRINT

OF THE

ENCYCLOPÆDIA BRITANNICA.

(NINTH EDITION.)

Edited by THOMAS SPENCER BAYNES, LL.D., etc.

This reprint of the ENCYCLOPÆDIA BRITANNICA will be a reproduction, in all respects, of the original English edition. The American edition will, therefore, contain ALL that is in the English edition.

This ninth edition of the ENCYCLOPÆDIA BRITANNICA will be completed in twenty-one volumes of about eight hundred pages each, and illustrated by numerous steel and wood engravings. In its mechanical execution it will represent the best typographical skill.

The publishers purpose issuing three volumes annually. The first six volumes are now ready, and the succeeding ones will follow in regular order.

PUBLICATIONS OF G. & C. MERRIAM,

SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

GEORGE MERRIAM. CHARLES MERRIAM. HOMER MERRIAM.

Webster's Unabridged Dictionary contains one fifth more matter than any other, the type being smaller, therefore giving much more matter on a page.

Contains 3000 Illustrations, nearly three times as many as any other Dictionary, and these are repeated and classified at the end of the work.

More than 30,000 copies have been placed in the public schools of the United States, by State enactments or School Officers.

Recommended by State Sup'ts of Schools in 30 different States.

The sale of Webster's Dictionaries is 20 times as great as the sale of any other series of Dictionaries.

Webster's Unabridged Dictionary.

Royal Quarto. 1840 Pages. 3000 Illustrations.

THE entire work, Unabridged, carefully revised, with upwards of Three Thousand Engravings, an Explanatory and Pronouncing Vocabulary of the Names of Noted Fictitious Persons and Places, a Pronouncing Table of Christian Names, with their Derivation, Signification, etc., with various other new features.

COLORED ILLUSTRATIONS—A New and Attractive Feature. Webster's Unabridged now contains Four Pages of Colored Illustrations, engraved and printed, at large cost, expressly for this work.

Price, $1.50. A Guide Book for Sunday-School Workers. Designed to explain, defend, and exemplify the use of Objects, Blackboards, Maps, and Pictures, in SUNDAY-SCHOOL TEACHING. By Rev. H. C. McCOOK, Pastor Seventh Presbyterian Church, Penn Square, Philadelphia.

HOW TO BE SAVED; or, The Sinner Directed to the Saviour. By Rev. JAS. H. BROOKES, D.D. Fifty-seven thousand copies have been published by the subscriber, and it has been reprinted in Europe. 18mo, 126 pp. Muslin, 50 cents; paper cover, 20 cents. German edition, paper, 20 cents; muslin, 35 cents.

PRACTICAL TALKS WITH SINNERS, INQUIRERS, AND CHRISTIANS. By S. McBETH. 18mo, 411 pp., muslin, $1. The writer of this book has had an experience of direct work among souls as is given to few persons. The sketches in the book are true stories, illustrating the methods which in this experience proved to be the most successful in dealing with each of the spiritual classes described.

MAY CHRISTIANS DANCE? By Rev. JAS. H. BROOKES, D.D., author of "How to be Saved; or, the Sinner Directed to the Saviour.' 18mo, 144 pp. Cloth, 60 cents; paper, 25 cents.

"We have just finished reading part of Dr. Brookes' book on the immoralities and improprieties of professed Christians dancing. We have not known this favorite citadel of the Devil to get such a bombardment in a long time. Amen and Amen, say we to every word, sentence, and argument. We wish this treatise was scattered among the churches broadcast."—Cumberland Presbyterian.

COLLECTION ENVELOPES. We are prepared to furnish all the appliances of the popular Church Envelope System in any form. We print on the envelopes whatever is desired. Samples and Price List on application.

WALL-TEXTS FOR FAMILIES, CHURCHES, AND SUNDAY-SCHOOLS. We have just published a new series of Brilliantly Illuminated Wall Texts and Mottoes.

They are 16x21 inches in size; printed on smooth, heavy paper, in clear, bold, plain ENGLISH LETTERING, which, hung upon the walls of the room, will add much to the attractiveness of the place, to say nothing of the moral effect frequently produced by the constant view of terse, well-selected, and well-displayed forcible truths. Price, 20 cents single, or mailed postpaid to any address for $1.75 per doz.; $2.50 per set.

The following are the Mottoes:

1. Thou, God, Seest Me.
2. Feed My Lambs.
3. God is Love.
4. Come to Jesus.
5. Ye Must Be Born Again.
6. The Lord is My Shepherd.
7. Nearer, My God, to Thee.
8. Simply to Thy Cross I Cling.
9. Now is the Accepted Time.
10. God Bless Our Sabbath-School.
11. Teachers! our Object is to Save Souls!
12. Those That Seek Me Early Shall Find Me.
13. Come Unto Me, All Ye That Labor and Are Heavy Laden, and I Will Give You Rest.
14. Remember Thy Creator in the Days of Thy Youth.
15. If Ye Love Me, Keep My Commandments.
16. Suffer Little Children to Come Unto Me.
17. Search the Scriptures.
18. Stand Up for Jesus.

NOTE—Following letter was sent to the Company's trade:

THE WESTERN NEWS COMPANY,
42 & 44 Randolph Street,
CHICAGO, March 1, 1877.

Dear Sirs: We herewith send you a lot of Pocket Editions of the HOME COOK BOOK, a publication, which has within a short time reached an enormous sale—18000—and has become standard, and rivals all others.

The recipes all came from ladies of reputation as housekeepers, and well known as women of influence and good judgment; with the most of whom we are personally acquainted. It stands to reason that the book is the best, for no lady would publicly endorse a recipe with her name unless it was the very best she knew.

Now if you will give these "Pocket Editions" a thorough distribution, putting them where they will do the most good—into the ladies' hands—the result cannot but be mutually beneficial,

Yours, &c.,
THE WESTERN NEWS CO.

P. S.—If the number sent is not sufficient, advise us.

Mrs. Beecher is Greatly Pleased.

J. FRED WAGGONER, Publisher, Chicago.

Dear Sir: As I am not keeping house I have not an opportunity to examine the HOME COOK BOOK, as I like to examine everything I recommend. But almost by instinct, an old housekeeper can form a tolerably accurate judgment of all that is usually found in cook books,—and if you will accept of an instinctive estimate of the merits of your work, I can truthfully say that I am greatly pleased with it.

I like the recipes; most of them are familiar, some slightly different from the old well established recipes, and I think they will be improved by the change.

But much that is more important than recipes is found in it with which I have been greatly pleased and instructed. I refer to rules for "Dinner Etiquette," "Social Observances," "Table Talk," "Bills of Fare," etc., and many other things brought together, very skillfully, and calculated to be of great service to housekeepers, young and old.

Respectfully yours,

Mrs H. W. Beecher

The Literary News

A Monthly Journal of Current Literature.

PUBLISHED BY

(Space allotted for Dealer's Imprint.)

OCTOBER, 1877.

TO THE RETAIL BOOK TRADE.

Retail Booksellers, News Agents, and Dealers generally, who desire a handy, cheap, and profitable advertising medium for the latest books in the market will find the best adapted to that purpose.

The Literary News

This publication (now in its fifth year) has reached a circulation of over 25,000 copies, and is used by hundreds of booksellers, from Maine to California.

It will be issued as heretofore, at the beginning of every month, with not less than eight pages, embracing Editorial Notes, Literary Intelligence, a full list, compiled expressly for its columns, from the records of the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY, containing the titles and prices of the PRINCIPAL BOOKS PUBLISHED DURING THE PREVIOUS MONTH and announcements of Forthcoming Works for the Current Month, so classified as to show at a glance all the new publications in the various departments of literature, and one page of general advertisements, which will not conflict with the interest of the trade. It will be printed on tinted paper like previous editions, but of superior quality, and being of light texture, it can be sent with any book, magazine, paper, letter, circular, etc., with a small increase of postage.

It is certain that dealers who will adopt this cheap and effective mode for advertising their establishments, will find themselves amply repaid in a short time, and we have the testimony of many dealers who have not only increased the sales from their counters, but have found the orders for books not in stock highly remunerative.

Terms for Editions with Imprint, invariably payable in advance.

100 Copies for three months,	$6 50	500 Copies for three months,	$19 00
250 " "	12 00	1000 " "	36 00

Special terms for large quantities.

☞ As the December issue will hereafter be published as a double (Christmas) number, regular subscribers at the above rates, who fail to send their special order, will receive only one half the quantity for this month. Special terms for the Christmas number will be announced in the Publishers' Weekly during the month of November.

Extra front headings (instead of the adopted style of imprint), with special name of paper and display, for which there is space above the rules inclosing date, are charged $1 extra per edition.

Any quantity from 100 to 1000 copies will be sent post-paid, but for larger quantities, at the reduced rates, postage or expressage will be charged.

Dealers who desire an edition for trial before subscribing, can be supplied at the following rates:

100 Copies for any month except December,	$2 50	500 Copies for any month except December,	$8 00
250 " " "	5 00	1000 " " "	15 00

Orders must be received by the 30th of the month previous to which the subscription begins.

No orders filled without payment in advance, as the numerous small amounts will neither bear the trouble nor expense of sending bills or of repeated statements, and collecting. Remittances should be made either by Post-Office Order, Draft on New York, or Registered Letter.

All Orders should be addressed,

RICHARD BRINCKERHOFF, Manager,

Office of PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY; or Box 4295, New York.

The Publishers' Weekly.

In calling attention to the publications from the office of the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY, the proprietor would state that its function is confined solely to the publishing of trade helps for the book, stationery, and kindred interests. The most important of these is the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY itself, which is furnished at the subscription price of $3.20 per year, postage prepaid, to American subscribers, and to foreign countries at the rate of $3, plus the respective postage. The WEEKLY, it is estimated, reaches about nine tenths of the book business done in the United States, which is also the greater part of the stationery interest, and it circulates also to considerable extent among libraries, bookbuyers, authors, and others indirectly related to the trade. The PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY is the only journal in its specialty, published independently of individual houses or interests, and is generally recognized by the trade as its leading exponent. Its work covers two departments, bibliographical and editorial. The imperfection of trade bibliography as a system in this country has not yet permitted the completeness in the former department which it is hoped ultimately to accomplish; but by its weekly alphabetical list of new books, with full titles; its corresponding order list with short titles, arranged by publishers; its monthly alphabetical list published in the first number of each month; its frequent lists of new and important publications in England; its monthly index to specialties advertised, and its occasional special bibliographies, as much bibliographical information as can be gathered is put before the trade in the most practicable shape. The editorial departments include both the news of the trade, which is gathered through special channels, and editorial and communicated discussions of trade matters. The news includes a department called "Notes in Season," in which the items of great present importance to the trade are grouped. There are other departments, covering general "Literary and Trade Notes," mentioning the more important matters in other countries; "Business Notes," giving business changes, etc.; "Journalistic Notes," "Personal Notes," "Notes and Queries," etc. The Stationery Department makes a specialty of this branch of the trade, which is in distribution so closely associated with that in books. In its editorial discussions the WEEKLY has maintained always a very frank and outspoken attitude toward its trade, and it is generally conceded that its influence has been considerable in educating the trade to the highest and best methods of work. Communications appear in it frequently from all shades of opinion, and these are presented fully and fairly.

The advertising pages of the WEEKLY are, themselves, of great value, as representing the current American publications. The WEEKLY is the acknowledged medium of communication with the trade, and as such, its advertising pages are generally sought and preserved for their information. The price of advertising is $20 per page.

SPECIAL NUMBERS.

In connection with the regular issue of the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY, special numbers are issued at appropriate seasons of the year. Of these the most important is the annual American Educational Catalogue, issued in July, previous to the opening of the fall school-book campaign, in which is given a full list of educational works published in this country, with the publishers designated by a key put into the hands of booksellers alone. This is also circulated largely by booksellers among their customers and directly among the schools, so as to extend the orders or school-books through the local dealers. The Christmas Number is printed with an illuminated cover, and profusely illustrated from books of the season. This has been pronounced by European trade journals the handsomest trade publication issued in any country. It is also extensively used by booksellers for circulation with imprint. Other special numbers are published, from time to time, to meet the requirements of the trade.

THE LITERARY NEWS.

The LITERARY NEWS is a monthly journal of from eight to sixteen pages, published for distribution by booksellers among their customers, and the imprint of each bookseller is put at the head of the edition he orders. This includes literary information, a classified list of books published during the month, and some advertisements, usually also an illustration. The terms for an edition are made a little above the actual cost of paper and printing, so that the bookseller can afford to circulate this little journal, which appears virtually as his own publication, quite widely. At a cheaper rate, for still wider distribution, are furnished the "New Book List," monthly leaflets for enclosure, and the "Current Fiction List," quarterly, both in imprint editions only. Terms for all these publications, which vary according to the quantity subscribed for, will be furnished on application.

THE TRADE-LIST ANNUAL.

Four years ago, the PUBLISHERS' TRADE-LIST ANNUAL was originated by the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY, on a plan which has met with much favor by the trade, and has since been adopted by Mr. Whitaker, in England. This binds together, in one huge volume, octavo, the trade-lists of all the leading American publishers. This has sometimes been called the Booksellers' Bible, and is used for constant reference in all the bookstores of the country. The catalogues are arranged alphabetically, so that any one can be turned to at once ; and an index to specialties prefaces them. The volume for 1875 contained an alphabetical short-title index to all the leading works represented in the volume of that year, and the volumes beginning with 1877 present the annual supplements of the American Catalogue. The PUBLISHERS' TRADE-LIST ANNUAL was preceded by several annual catalogues of American books, for the respective preceding years. The price of the ANNUAL is usually $1, if subscribed for before publication. This office is also the American publisher of Whitaker's similar English volume, the "Reference Catalogue of Current Literature," with Index, which is furnished at a price corresponding to the English rate, usually about $2.

THE AMERICAN CATALOGUE.

The great undertaking of the office has been, however, the AMERICAN CATALOGUE, which is to include, in two volumes, a list of all American books and English books of American imprint, published and for sale, at the date of July, 1876. The first volume includes full-title entry by author, and also by title in the case of books known chiefly in that way. The second volume will be a subject classification by short title, on the dictionary plan. The total number of entries, aside from cross-references, will approximate to seventy thousand. This, it is thought, will prove invaluable to any one who has to deal with books, and subscriptions for it are sought from all classes, as the expense will be enormous. The subscription price is put at $25 for the two volumes, payable $5 on subscription, and $10 on delivery of each of the volumes. It is hoped to publish the first volume by the close of the year. These two volumes, with the PUBLISHERS' TRADE-LIST ANNUAL, make an approximately complete view of American publishing, by the aid of which a book can be found either by author, title, subject, or publisher. The Catalogue will be published on a careful system of trade bibliography, and will be followed, in future years, by annual catalogues on the same system. It is hoped to revise the general catalogue, or to issue combination volumes, every five or ten years succeeding.

THE STATIONERS' HAND-BOOK.

A work corresponding, in the stationery trade, to the PUBLISHERS' TRADE-LIST ANNUAL in regard to books, has been issued under the title of the STATIONERS' HAND-BOOK. This groups the catalogues of manufacturing stationers ; but its most important feature is the series of valuable articles on all the details of the stationery trade, written by experts in each specialty. It is indispensable to the stationer, but it is also of great convenience to all those who seek information on paper, printing, stationery, etc. The price of this work is $1.50, in cloth.

THE LIBRARY JOURNAL.

The AMERICAN LIBRARY JOURNAL is also published from this office, under the managing editorship of Mr. Melvil Dewey, of Boston, and with the most prominent librarians—including Mr. Winsor, of the Boston Public Library, Mr. Cutter, of the Boston Athenæum, Mr. Guild, of Providence, Mr. Spofford, of the Library of Congress, Gen. Eaton, of the National Bureau of Education, Mr. Poole, of the Chicago Public Library, and others—as associate editors. The price of the JOURNAL—which is exceedingly valuable to all interested in books—is $5 per year, and a liberal support is asked for it from foreign as well as from American library interests.

The American Library Journal.

THE AMERICAN LIBRARY JOURNAL, established and sustained by the co-operative efforts of the leading librarians, aims, first, to elevate the profession to the highest standard; secondly, to enable library work to be done in the best way, at a saving of cost.

The JOURNAL especially meets the needs of the smaller libraries, offering them the costly experience and practical advice of the largest. The library that "cannot afford to take the JOURNAL" is the very one that cannot afford not to take it, for it shows how to reduce expenses without reducing efficiency. It is the library itself, not necessarily the librarian, that should subscribe, since the JOURNAL makes the librarian worth more to the library, and the library worth more to the people. Committee men and library assistants should give it careful study, and, if placed in the reading-room, the work of the library will often be facilitated, and its public support strengthened, by public acquaintance with the JOURNAL. The JOURNAL aims to be practically useful, and the curious or learned is put aside to give place to matter which shall make the reading in libraries better, readers more numerous, work more effective, or expenses less. Not a word is admitted in its reading or advertising pages that does not directly interest the librarian as a librarian. The JOURNAL, nevertheless, proves itself valuable to all interested in books.

In proof may be cited, from the early numbers, Mr. Pendleton's papers on "How to Start Libraries," as suggesting much saving to those projecting libraries; Mr. Winsor's list of "Reference Books in English" and Mr. Perkins's "Hundred Best Novels," as guiding purchasing committees; Mr. Cutter's and other contributions on cataloguing and bibliography, and Mr. Whitney's department, as furnishing information otherwise inaccessible or costly; the papers and correspondence on how to prevent defacement of books as productive of direct saving in lending libraries; and the various co-operative plans set forth in the JOURNAL, and through its efforts now in actual operation, by which the supplies required by the ordinary library can be purchased of the best sort, at so much less cost as to cover every month more than the price of the JOURNAL. This, without dwelling on its usefulness to librarians for inspiration and guidance, over and above the money-saving. Previous to the co-operative efforts of 1876—the Government Report and Library Conference, whose work the JOURNAL supplements and practicalizes—the librarians had been working, like a carpenter making his own tools, each for himself, in a field where (with each book a duplicate through its edition, and methods generally similar) perplexing questions can easily be settled once for all, and work done by general co-operation with the JOURNAL as a means, at half the usual expense of trouble and money.

The LIBRARY JOURNAL, averaging at least thirty-two quarto pages monthly, elegantly printed, and in every way worthy of the profession, will be sent, post-paid, at $5 the year.

Inquiries should be addressed to MELVIL DEWEY, Man'g Editor, 1 Tremont Place, Boston.

Subscriptions should be addressed to F. LEYPOLDT, Publisher, 37 Park Row, New York.

FROM RECENT NOTICES OF THE PRESS.

"A happy thought—this librarians' organ."—Commonwealth (Boston).

"Every keeper of books ought to have it."—Congregationalist (Boston).

"Librarians and literary men in general are wondering how they ever got along without it."—Examiner (New York).

"A periodical that no library can do without, and that every friend of libraries will find interesting and instructive."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

"The literary work in the initial number is very superior, and the typography is worthy the finest class of book-work."—American Newspaper Reporter.

"This periodical is one which every literary man should have. A rich treasury of thought and experience in all matters pertaining to books and libraries."—N. Y. Times.

"Would save money and time wherever libraries are begun. The whole science of handling books to the end of their best popular use is expounded in its pages with the knowledge which comes by experience."—Literary World (Boston).

"In brief, the American Library Journal, elegantly printed on fine paper, should take its place upon the desk of every librarian and every collector of books, to whom it will furnish more than one useful help."—Journal des Débats (Paris).

"No one at all interested in books or libraries, public or private, but will find in every number, so far issued, information of value that cannot be handily found elsewhere. Each writer has a practical object in view, and is too busy to use unnecessary words in stating it."—Detroit Free Press.

"A handsomer periodical does not come to our table, nor one which better fills out its announced plan and intent. The number is exceedingly valuable to all readers—to those interested in libraries especially, but to every one who attempts to keep, in any degree, pace with the advance of literature."—Boston Evening Traveller.

"Aims at supplying that want of a means of mutual communication, suggestion, and discussion which intelligent and active librarians have long felt. There is no reason why the Journal should not be as much read on this as on the other side of the Atlantic. To every librarian who wishes to bring his library to the most perfect method and highest degree of usefulness, it bids fair to be invaluable."—Academy (London).

"Of course all librarians take the Library Journal, for it is an absolute necessity to them. We do not believe there is in the whole country a librarian who cannot find in this number of the Journal something which it is important for him or her to know; and if the frequenters of libraries as well were to read and heed some of the papers and remarks in the number, it would be better for themselves and a lightening of the load which librarians have to carry."—Cleveland Herald.

"Promises to accomplish more in the way of practical benefit for all readers of books than any dozen publications issued since the invention of printing. To every librarian and to every assistant, in any large library, it is indispensable. It claims the attention of every trustee, director, or manager of any such library, and we are willing to believe that in a short time no one will consent to accept the responsible position of director, in a board of library managers, without keeping himself constantly acquainted, through the Library Journal, with the current topics of library interests."—St. Louis Globe.

The American Library Journal.

FROM RECENT LETTERS OF LEADING LIBRARIANS.

". . . The Journal is invaluable to me; its loss would be keenly felt."—Charles Evans, Librarian Indianapolis Public Library.

". . . Allow me to express my gratification at the style in which it is printed, which leaves, I think, nothing to be desired."—Ezra Abbot, Harvard University.

". . . I have already found the department of pseudonyms and anonyms of great use in my library work."—C. A. Cutter, Librarian of the Boston Athenæum.

". . . It will be impossible to establish the system of co-operation, by which we all hope to save so much, without the assistance of the Library Journal."—C. A. Cutter, Chairman of the Committee on Co-operation.

". . . I find it my greatest help in my work, and cannot think how I did without it as long as I did. . . . Every article, note, or item is of interest to every librarian."—Jno. W. M. Lee, Librarian Mercantile Library, Baltimore.

". . . I have regarded the publication of the Library Journal as heralding a new era in library work—an era in which energy shall be economized by co-operation. No library can afford to do without it."—John Fiske, Harvard College Library.

". . . The American Library Journal I read through and through, advertisements and all, I assure you I prize it as among the best of 'helps' published. The discussions coming from practical, working, watchful librarians, must result in great good to all members of the craft."—Wm. Ives, Librarian Y. M. A., Buffalo.

". . . It is of incalculable importance to every librarian to find, as he does, in this Journal the experience of his seniors and the acuteness of his inferiors in age. It must not be allowed to fail, even if every library now taking it should have to pay ten times the present subscription price."—Frederic Vinton, Librarian of the College of New Jersey.

". . . I consider the Journal one of the most valuable aids to librarians ever undertaken. I do not see how a librarian can venture to undertake his responsibilities without it. Every library, whether public or private, that spends $200 annually on its administration, cannot pay out $5 with more advantage to itself than by taking the Journal."—Jhon Eaton, Commissioner of Education.

". . . With all our experience of running eight libraries in one, we still find that there are experiences of others recorded in the Journal which are helpful. I can't see how it can be other than a great help to lesser institutions which need to know more what other libraries do than we do, where we have such a large variety within our own circle."—Justin Winsor, Superintendent Boston Public Library.

". . . The Journal meets my highest expectations as an organ for libraries and librarians. . . . The librarian is coming to be acknowledged as belonging to a most important profession, for the duties of which he needs culture and experience and all the aids that pertain to the other professions. Let us do our part that he (or she) may have them."—R. A. Guild, Librarian Brown University.

". . . I look on the Library Journal as a labor-saving machine. A single idea, like that of a card catalogue (which is an American invention), may be worth hundreds and thousands of dollars to a library. Hence it is false economy for any library, however small, to attempt to dispense with the only periodical specially intended for its benefit."—Lloyd P. Smith, Librarian of the Philadelphia and Loganian Libraries.

". . . I regard the Library Journal as one of the most important and indispensable aids to all who are connected with the management of libraries in any way. True economy of methods, time and money may be here learned by the young librarian. The practical suggestions and information embodied in a single number are frequently worth ten times the year's subscription."—A. R. Spofford, Librarian of Congress.

". . . The larger libraries, of course, all subscribe for the Library Journal. I cannot see how any small library can do without it. I am receiving a dozen letters a week from small libraries asking me questions which have been answered fully in the Library Journal. My custom is to answer briefly, and refer the inquirers to the Journal, advising them to subscribe for it forthwith."—W. F. Poole, Librarian Chicago Public Library.

". . . The Library Journal I esteem as one of the most essential periodicals in the country. I will write, if I can, on the subject of making libraries useful to school pupils. It has already done an excellent work in disseminating valuable experience regarding the management of libraries, and it promises to do very much more in the future. I look to its continuance with the greatest interest."—W. T. Harris, Superintendent St. Louis Public Schools.

". . . Too much cannot be said in favor of the Journal; not too much for the management which have made it what it is. . . . I watch the coming of my number with impatience, and only consider my catalogue slips ready to insert when its columns have been carefully consulted. The Journal should be a guide to the steps of every young library, and a reformer and regulator to the other ones."—A. E. Whittaker, Librarian Mercantile Library Association, San Francisco.

". . . Judging from the great value of the numbers of the Journal which have already appeared, I should think that most librarians would regard it as indispensable for effective work in their department. If library committees and trustees should make themselves familiar with the Journal, they would better appreciate the character of the details of a librarian's work, and thus be able to add to their own efficiency as well as to his."—H. A. Homes, New York State Librarian.

". . . The American Library Journal was welcomed by librarians as supplying a long-felt and pressing need. They are more than satisfied with what it has already accomplished, and believe that its value to libraries cannot be overestimated, as it gives information which can be found nowhere else so completely, and without which no library can be economically or properly managed."—James L. Whitney, Assistant Superintendent and Chief of the Cataloguing Department, Boston Public Library.

". . . Leaving my own few communications out of the account, and over and above any exclusive technical interest, the Library Journal is exactly the professional manual which will save money to the supporters of libraries, and labor and error to the librarian and his staff; and which will therefore directly increase the amount and usefulness of reading to be afforded to the public. It ought to pertain to every library just as books ought, or the salary of the staff."—Frederic Beecher Perkins, Boston Public Library.

". . . It seems to me that no library can afford to do without a journal which contains so much that is suggestive and valuable. Apart from the literary information imparted, the practical hints in the direction of economy to be found in its columns should be worth more, particularly to the numerous smaller libraries of the country, than the subscription price. A single suggestion may save three times five dollars, as happened recently within my own experience. Self-interest, if no other motive, should induce every young library to subscribe to a journal so worthy of support."—S. B. Noyes, Librarian Brooklyn Mercantile Library.

". . . The Journal ought to be taken by all libraries, and especially by the small ones. I have found valuable suggestions in every number. It gives the means of communication between skilled librarians which is required for co-operation, and it makes their special knowledge available to all. Professional men who have, or who intend to have, large libraries ought by all means to take it; for it supplies just that information which they need, and which they cannot get unless they are in the immediate vicinity of a large library."—J. S. Billings, Surgeon U. S. Army, and Librarian Surgeon-General's Office, Washington, D. C.

". . . In my judgment, the Journal is so important a practical aid in library work that it would pay the larger libraries of the country to bear jointly the expense of its publication. Its value to smaller libraries is simply incalculable. Limited funds, want of trained assistance, inaccessibility of the best information, either in bibliography or in practical administration, lack of direct counsel from experienced co-laborers—these are all reasons why the smaller libraries should come forward, without exception, to the support of a journal which places the latest results of the combined wisdom of the best libraries at their command."—Thomas Vickers, Librarian Cincinnati Public Library.
